FORD CO. SIGNS A UNION SHOP PACT WITH CIO

Agreement Involves 120,000 Workers.

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—The Ford Motor company, last of the big nonunion firms in the automobile industry, signed a contract with CIO's United Automobile Workers union today, agreeing to a union shop and a dues "check-off" system.

The conclusion of the pact came after a fortnight of negotiations. It took place in the office of Philip Murray, CIO president, and in the presence of Harry Bennett, Ford personnel director, and more than a score of company and union representatives.

By the signing of the agreement, Ford becomes the first big producer in the motor car field to install a union shop and the "check-off" system, by which the company deducts union initiation fees, dues, and assessments from the pay envelopes and pays them over to the union treasury.

Must Make Accountings.

Current CIO initiation fees in the automobile industry are $2. Current dues are $1 a month. The Ford company has about 120,000 employés. It was estimated that the union would exact from them nearly $1,500,000 a year.

Under the terms of the union shop clause of the contract, all Ford workers except those in certain supervisory positions must be members of the CIO union. The union, in turn, agreed to accept all Ford workers into its ranks. A union shop differs from a closed shop in that under the closed shop the union usually supplies the labor force.

The contract specified no fixed amounts by which wages are to be increased, but a statement by R. J. Thomas, union president, said the company agreed to pay wage rates "which will be at least equal to the highest paid" in the various classifications by other motor car companies.

Some Other Provisions.

Other provisions of the contract, Thomas said, called for the following:

All wage increases to be retroactive to the signing of the contract and no reductions in prevailing rates.

The company and the union to confer in December on the payment of a bonus.

The famous Ford service department, comprising the plant's private police, to be eliminated, and plant protection to be taken over by employés identified by badges.

Time and a half pay for overtime, with double time for Sundays and holidays.

Two hours "call in" pay for workers called in for work which is not ready.

Layoffs and rehiring on a seniority basis.

Plan NLRB Settlements.

Coincident with the conclusion of the agreement, the company, the union, and the National Labor Relations board entered into an arrangement for settlement of all outstanding board decisions against the company in which between 3,000 and 4,000 workers, according to board estimates, complained of alleged discrimination because of union activity.

Thomas and Murray hailed the signing of the Ford contract, which came after a four year campaign by the CIO, as one of the historic advances in union relations.

A statement by Edsel Ford, president of the Ford company, declared that the concern had taken its course in view of the union's overwhelming victory against AFL rivals in labor board elections at Detroit, Mich., last month.

"As the company views the situation," Ford said, "no half measures will be effective. We cannot work out one scheme of things for some of our workmen and another scheme for the remainder. So we have decided to go the whole way."

Hopes for Peace.

Ford's statement also said:

"Until time has given us an opportunity to see how the agreement works out in actual practice, we are not, of course, in position to comment on its various provisions, but we hope, very sincerely, that it attains the ends sought and results in peaceable and uninterrupted production; that the company's operations toward national defense shall not be hampered in any way."

BITS OF DEBRIS SHOOT UP FROM 402 FOOT DEPTH

Scene Is Near Site of Squalus Sinking.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 20 (AP).—Crushed by the tremendous pressure of a 402 foot depth, the sunken submarine O-9 began to disintegrate tonight and the death of all her 33 officers and men was unofficially acknowledged by the navy.

[Official list of the names and addresses of the submarine's two officers and 31 crew members will be found on page 5.]

After a day of desperate search for the craft by a sizable navy fleet, and with her exact location still uncertain, one high navy officer viewed wreckage that shot to the surface and said he held no hope that the men on the ocean floor could have lived. Officially, however, the navy refused to give up.

Oil and Wreckage.

Searchlights of the rescue fleet were trained thru the night on the spot where oil slicked the surface for 1,000 square feet, where occasionally air bubbles rose, with bits of cork from the inner hull of the submarine and pieces of deck grating sometimes spotting the surface.

Four of the navy's most expert divers stood ready on the deck of the rescue ship Falcon. Helium was rushed from the Portsmouth navy yard, approximately 18 miles from the scene, in the event the divers went down. Officers reported the men could descend 500 feet.

Late tonight a cryptic message from the Falcon said she had "two grapnels fouled on an object on the bottom" brought an assertion from a shore officer that there was a "good chance" that she had touched the submarine.

Rear Admiral John D. Wainwright said dragging operations had been officially suspended for the night, which would definitely seal the fate of the crew if any were still alive, but the Falcon kept a magnetic drag over the side.

Near Squalus Scene.

Lieutenant Commander Edmund F. Jewell, returning from the scene, told reporters that if the magnet should be attracted to the O-9 during the night divers would go down. Only if a line was attached to the submarine, which lay not far from where the Squalus sank in 1939, could the rescue bell be used. The bell saved 33 of the Squalus' 59 men.

Without a line to the surface the O-9's men had no hope of using their "momsen lungs," with which men have come up from great depths by ascending in easy stages. An ascent without a retarding line would mean instant death.

Looking out toward the rescue fleet Admiral Wainwright said:

"If she's down 400 feet I don't know what they can do."

Jewell said he had not given up all hope. He asserted that altho the submarine undoubtedly was punctured, it might be possible that some compartments still remained intact.

Statement by Knox.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, who flew up from Washington, D. C., said in his nearby Manchester home that he had not abandoned hope. But he added the depth of the submarine was a discouraging factor. The Squalus was only at 240 feet when a majority of her men were saved.

The 23 year old O-9, one of the navy's oldest submarines and only recently recommissioned after 10 years of idleness, went into a deep trial dive at 7:56 o'clock [Chicago time] this morning. About two hours later a smoke bomb distress signal shot to the surface. The frantic search started immediately.

DOCTOR REPORTS PAT HARRISON IN GRAVE CONDITION

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—The condition of Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], who underwent an abdominal operation Monday, was reported by his personal physician today to be "very grave."

The physician, Dr. Sterling Ruffin, made that announcement thru the senator's office. Harrison's condition has been reported critical since the operation to remove an intestinal obstruction. His son, Pat Harrison Jr., has arrived from Gulfport, Miss.

The 59 year old senator, who is president pro tempore of the senate, has been in Emergency hospital here since his return from Hot Springs, Ark., where he underwent treatment.

THE MONOTONY DIET

1,600 Invited to 'Union Now' Tea; 100 Come

Many were called, but few chose to come.

This was the plight of the Chicago metropolitan council for Federal Union, Inc., a group determined to join all English speaking countries, when it warmed its new Chicago office at 135 South La Salle street with a colorful tea yesterday afternoon. Sixteen hundred invitations were sent out. About 100 guests turned up.

The offices were elaborate in red, white, and blue decorations. Red, white, and blue nameplates bearing the movement's slogan, "Union Now," were ready for each comer. The tea table was laid with a blue paper cloth, and red, white, and blue candles burned beside the punch bowl. There was no tea.

Elderly Women on Hand.

Many elderly women were there, as were a number of ministers, a few young men and women. Franklin D. Loehr, a smiling, handsome young man in white suit who is executive secretary of the Chicago council, greeted each. Loehr is 28 and a Congregationalist minister at Naperville, but after Sept. 1 he hopes to devote all his time to the group's announced aim of the union of democratic nations as a nucleus of world government.

"The trouble with us," Loehr said to an unenlightened guest, "is we are misunderstood.

"The major misconception is that Federal Union's meaning is a way to make America an appendage of Great Britain. We don't care at all how each individual country manages its internal government. The British can keep their king if they're fond of him, and we'll keep our President whether we're fond of him or not.

Tells Need of Century.

"The premise is that the social unit has expanded so that the nation is not the largest community in which we live today. There is also the world community forced upon us, but there has been no government of the world community. That is the need of our generation, our century. We believe federal union is the best form of government for this world community."

Here Mr. Loehr broke away to pose for a picture with Dr. E. W. Baldur, national director of Federal Union, and to press homemade cookies upon other guests. He quickly returned, and remarked that he feared the "Union Now" movement may have trouble getting a foothold in Chicago.

"It's our worst isolationist city," he said. "Our very biggest." He said the committee has been at work here 10 months, but is setting up local offices for the first time.

After an hour of gay chatter and punch, Dr. Baldur spoke. Federal Union, he said, offers a world government which even defeated peoples may join on equal terms. "What are we waiting for?" he concluded.

William Ayer McKinney, president of Kitchen Art Foods, Inc., is head of the Chicago metropolitan council. Dr. Hubert Carleton is vice chairman, Mrs. James J. Forstall of Winnetka is secretary, and Robert M. Hart, treasurer.

The list of Chicago sponsors includes Allen D. Albert, Mrs. Cyrus Bentley, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Sophonisba Breckinridge, Dr. Horace J. Bridges, Dr. Isaac Joslin Cox, Mary Barnett Gilson, Joel D. Hunter, Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, Rabbi Charles Shulman, Perry Dunlap Smith, Carroll H. Sudler, and William W. Welsh. Mr. Loehr said the largest local contribution to date has been $100.

AGAIN AND AGAIN

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—Presidents Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

ARMY AIR CORPS PLACES BARRAGE BALLOON ORDER

New York, June 20 [Special].—All-American barrage balloons, their fabric made of neoprene, a synthetic rubber, are about to be constructed at Woonsocket, R. I., by the United States Rubber company, it was announced today.

The contract for a small number of the bags was placed by the United States army air corps to determine if the plant could turn them out in quantity. The Woonsocket plant, which has been idle for some time, will make all the parts of the captive gas bags except the ascension cables.

British Start Bombardment of Damascus

BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 21 [Saturday] (AP).—The British are shelling the Syrian "holy city" of Damascus, the French said today. British troops have advanced to within a few miles of the metropolis.

The shelling began last night. The French said fires were started. Syrian authorities at once sent a protest to Bagdad, asking the Iraqis to point out to the British that the bombardment would have an adverse effect upon Arab opinion. The city contains many shrines of the Moslems.

[Other dispatches from Ankara, Turkey, said the radio at Beirut had reported the first bombing of Damascus by the British air force.]

Gain Main Lines of Defenses.

JERUSALEM, June 20 (AP).—British and "Free French" forces attacking Damascus today pushed into the main lines of the city's defenses under a severe artillery fire, a British military spokesman announced tonight.

French resistance stiffened, he said, as the attackers reached the "last lap" in operations for capture of the city. Heavy French artillery replied to the British batteries.

Rush Up English Troops.

VICHY, France, June 20 (AP).—French military sources tonight reported the British were rushing up English regiments to reinforce Indian and De Gaullist troops in the battle of Damascus. All attacks, they said, have been repulsed.

The heaviest action was declared to be taking place some six miles southwest of the 4,000 year old capital of Syria, where the British sought to capture the airdrome of Mezze. French reports said that of two battalions [perhaps 1,600 men] attacking the airport, some 400 prisoners were taken.

By day and night the French air force smashed at allied concentrations in the region of Kissoue, 10 miles south of Damascus.

LACK OF INTEREST MAY SHUT BRONX AIR PILOT SCHOOL

New York, June 20 [Special].—Unless there is an upsurge in interest by young men in the Bronx in civilian pilot training, the government may withdraw its offer to furnish free flying instruction in the borough, it was indicated today.

At present there are only 28 applications to fill a class of 100 at the Drake School of Aeronautics, which holds the United States government contract to teach young Bronx residents elementary aviation.

Congress Cool to Roosevelt's Blast at Nazis

'Undeclared War'

LONDON, June 20 (AP).—Commenting on President Roosevelt's Robin Moor speech, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said today: "Clearly this sort of undeclared war cannot go on without reaching a breach. Altho Roosevelt does not reveal his plans, it is easy to surmise what he will do."

Other newspapers gave prominent play to the message and expressed hearty approval editorially.

"Even the wildest of Berlin optimists can have no illusions about where the great American nation stands today," said the Daily Sketch. The Daily Telegraph said: "Clearly the new world balance is shaping rapidly under the hand of the United States. It is in the American hands and not those of the dictators that the ultimate issue lies."

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Congress was not aroused by President Roosevelt's inflammatory message today denouncing the sinking of the American freighter Robin Moor by a German submarine as an act of piracy and brutality.

Many members thought the tone of the message indicated a purpose to incite a war spirit in congress and the country, but no such reaction was apparent in congress.

Altho Mr. Roosevelt said the government would demand full reparation for the losses and damages suffered by American nationals in the sinking of the Robin Moor, the note to Germany was not dispatched concurrently and apparently will not be ready for several days.

Charges Scheme of Conquest.

The President charged that the Robin Moor sinking was "a disclosure of policy" which constituted the first step in a German scheme "to seize control of the high seas, the conquest of Britain being an indispensable part of that seizure."

If that interpretation of the Robin Moor incident were accepted by congress and the country, it could be used as a pretext for employing American armed force not only to protect American ships on the high seas but to prevent the defeat of Britain, according to members of the senate foreign relations committee.

Under this theory, it was suggested, the President might order the naval and air forces to protect shipments of war supplies all the way to British ports, or he might propose the arming of American merchant ships, which would require an amendment of the neutrality act.

Contraband Not Mentioned.

The President's message did not deny the Robin Moor carried contraband of war, nor did it mention this question. It closed with a declaration that the United States would not be intimidated by Germany.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], leader of the noninterventionists, described the message as "just another bitter diatribe against Germany." He added that the President "did not tell the people that 70 per cent of the Robin Moor cargo was contraband of war and, as such, was subject to seizure or destruction by belligerents."

The American First committee charged in a statement that the manifest of the Robin Moor "shows that the ship's cargo of 1,667 articles contained 1,113 articles, or 70 per cent of its cargo, which was contraband under the British, the German, and the United States World war contraband lists."

TEXT OF MESSAGE

The text of the President's Robin Moor message follows:

"To the congress of the United States of America:

"I am under the necessity of bringing to the attention of the congress the ruthless sinking by a German submarine on May 21 of an American ship, the Robin Moor, in the South Atlantic ocean [25 degrees and 40 minutes west, 6 degrees and 10 minutes north] while the vessel was on the high seas en route to South Africa.

"According to the formal depositions of survivors the vessel was sunk within 30 minutes from the time the first warning given by the commander of the submarine to an officer of the Robin Moor.

"The submarine did not display its flag, and the commander did not announce its nationality.

"The Robin Moor was sunk with-

ONLY PEACE CAN KEEP U. S. FREE, SAYS LINDBERGH

Europe Doomed by War, He Warns.

Hollywood, Cal., June 20 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh said tonight that the alternative to a negotiated peace in Europe "is either a Hitler victory or a prostrate Europe, and possibly a prostrate America as well."

Charles A. Lindbergh.

"I tell you that the only way our American life and ideals can be preserved is by staying out of this war," he asserted in an address at a mass meeting in the Hollywood bowl under auspices of the America First committee. "I tell you that the only way European civilization can be saved is by ending the war quickly."

The more than 23,000 persons who jammed the bowl cheered Lindbergh repeatedly when he lashed out at those who would involve America in Europe's war.

Summarizes "True Facts."

Lindbergh summarized "the true facts as they appear before us in plain American wording" as:

"1. We are still unprepared for war, and it would take us years to prepare adequately for the type of war we now consider entering. It would mean turning this country into a military nation that exceeds Germany in regimentation. Life as we know it today would be a thing of the past.

"2. Even if we were fully prepared at this time, we would face the superhuman task of crossing an ocean and forcing a landing on a fortified continent against armies stronger than our own and hardened by years of war. It would probably mean the loss of millions of American lives.

Confident of Defense.

"3. We in American have the best defensive position in the world. No foreign power can invade us today, and with reasonable preparation on our part, no combination of foreign powers will ever be able to invade us. Since they cannot invade, it will be only a question of time before they desire to trade with us. And I have full confidence in American ability to hold its own in a trade."

Contrasting positions of those who oppose American entry into war and the interventionists, Lindbergh declared:

"Time lies with us, for knowledge cannot be permanently suppressed, and every fact that is learned sharpens our weapons.

"The attempt to involve our country in war by subterfuge and propaganda is not a crime to be passed over lightly. Public opinion will bring the charges, and history will be the judge."

Rips Interventionist Claim.

Turning to "the interventionists' claim that the best way to defend America is to defend England," Lindbergh asserted:

"But when you pin them down by asking what the defense of England means, they tell you that in order to defend England we must crush Germany and restore all the territory Germany has occupied since the war began.

"If you ask them whether we must also restore the territory occupied by Russia and Japan, they usually look the other way and make some vague statement about supporting the four freedoms thruout the world, and if you ask exactly how this is to be done, you seldom get any reply at all.

"I have yet to hear any one who advocates our entry into this war outline intelligently where we would attack or how we could win. They simply shout 'Fight,' and usually they are not the people who would do the fighting."

Analyzes British Position.

Lindbergh declared England's past security, based on her control of seas, has been broken by submarine and airplane.

"For the first time in history, England cannot protect her shores with her navy," he continued. "For the first time, her cities and her industries can be attacked regardless of how many battleships she has.

"England is actually at a disadvantage from the standpoint of aviation. The area, the terrain, and the climatic conditions of Great Britain are not advantageous for flying.

"Enemy air bases on the continent of Europe curve around her in almost a semicircle. No matter how many fighting planes we build in America and send to England, it is not possible to base enough squadrons in the British Isles to equal in striking power the squadrons that Germany can base on the continent of Europe.

"English cities and industrial areas are within easy range of enemy bombers, while British bombers must fly much farther to reach similar enemy objectives. Fuel, food, and other supplies must be taken to England by sea, in ships which can be bombed and torpedoed by her enemy.

"I repeat again that the very developments of modern warfare which have strengthened the position of America have greatly weakened the position of England, and I challenge any one to prove otherwise.

Cites Other Complications.

"Now let us consider what we in America would have to do in order to defend England. As I have said, the interventionists admit that by the defense of England they really mean the defeat of Germany. England herself has so far refused to reconsider the terms on which she declared war, and since they involve the restoration of Poland, it might be necessary for us to defeat Russia as well as Germany if we enter this war.

"But there are still more complications. We find that Spain is friendly to Germany and that France has come to an agreement with the axis. Even Japan has formed a military alliance with axis powers.

"So when we translate the English of the interventionists into plain American language, we find what we are really being told is that the best way to defend America is by attacking the rest of the world—by sending soldiers across the Atlantic ocean and even across the Pacific ocean, to overcome the armies of Germany, Italy, Japan, and possibly Russia, France, and Spain as well.

"Now suppose we are foolish enough to attempt this. Let us see what we must do. If we enter war we must be prepared for all eventualities. We must be prepared to fight Japan in the Pacific at the same time that we are convoying our troops and supplies across the Atlantic.

Attack Problem Pointed Out.

"And since the allied armies no longer hold any territory on the continent of Europe we must be prepared to force a landing on a hostile coast against the same German army and air force that broke the Maginot line and routed the British navy whenever it came within bombing range of their bases.

"We would have the same problem in attacking Europe that European armies would have in attacking us. But in that case it would be our problem to transport our armies on ships and try to land on their shores under the bombardment of their aircraft, the torpedoing of their submarines, and the fire of their coast artillery and mechanized divisions. Yet the interventionists tell you that the best way to defend America is by defending England."

Asks About Eventualities.

Declaring that "those who urge that the war be continued are pushing all Europe into chaos," he added:

"But suppose I am wrong. Suppose we in America throw all of our people and all of our resources—throw the entire future of this country into the greatest war of history.

"Suppose that by some miracle of fate, after 10, or 20, or 30 years of struggle, after losing many millions of lives, that we were at last able to bring Germany to her knees in the midst of a devastated, starved, and prostrate Europe, what would we have gained? What would be the result for England, for France, for ourselves, except the downfall of all European civilization and the establishment of conditions in our own country far worse even than those in Germany today? Who would be the winner of such a war except Russia and Japan?"

Others who spoke were Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho], Kathleen Norris, the novelist, and Lillian Gish, the actress. Lindbergh was introduced by Joseph Scott, a leading California attorney. On the platform were Mrs. Lindbergh and a number of prominent California men and women.

Independent Air Force Proposal Meets Opposition

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—Proposals for creation of a separate air force encountered administration opposition today. Some congressional leaders said they preferred the war department's pending plans for consolidating army aviation into a single branch of the service.

Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.], Democratic whip, said the army's proposal to merge its present operations, training, and procurement divisions into a compact unit under one directing head, marked a forward step in increasing the striking force of aviation without destroying cooperation with ground troops.

MASSMEETING PLANNED TO SAVE SMALL BUSINESS

Association Head Urges Equal Treatment.

Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association, charged yesterday that inequalities in the distribution of defense contracts and the shortage of materials caused by the armament program were sabotaging small business.

"A number of plants in Cook county are already closed, and many more are on the verge of closing," he asserted. "We don't think shortages are as serious as the government would have us believe, and we don't intend to be put off with the story that small business can get sub-contracts in defense industry.

"Very few small plants can adjust themselves to the kind of work that may be available. Small business men who do try to get sub-contracts are given the run around until they're worn out."

Plans to Call Mass Meeting.

Virkus urged all small manufacturers who have been subjected to injustice or whose business is being ruined to communicate with him thru offices of the association at 407 South Dearborn street.

He said a mass meeting would be called to formulate a plan of concerted action, with hopes that small business in other states will join the movement so that an effective protest can be carried to Washington.

Virkus said that he was issuing his call because it was difficult to get the facts on the dislocation of small business resulting from the armament program, and that he was hopeful of hearing from all those business men who are gradually being driven toward extinction by the government's restrictions.

He said the recent statement of Peter J. Nehemkis Jr. of the contract service of the Office of Production Management that scarity of raw materials and priority orders will force a third of American industry either to find new lines of production or shut up shop by the end of the summer was a clear indication of what is in store for small business unless it acts in its own protection.

No Shortages Necessary.

"We believe that if the defense program were properly handled, there would be no shortage of essential materials," he said. "England is trying to do business as usual, but here the government is trying to reduce our production in every type of manufacturing not directly related to defense.

"The machines of manufacturers of consumers' goods will be brought to a standstill if this trend continues to its logical conclusion. The capacity of thousands of small plants is being immobilized, when it should be brought into use in defense production. Whether intentionally or not, the government is concentrating production in a few great plants. Maybe it expects to find concentrated industry easier to control than many thousands of independent plants."

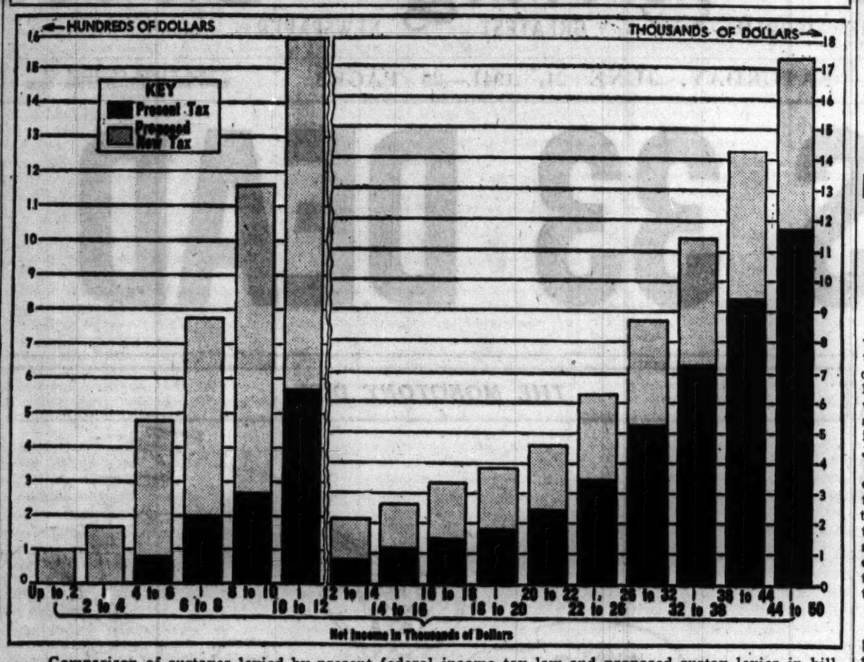
LOCATE SOLDIER TOURIST CAMP ON FOSTER AVENUE

Chicago's "tourist camp" for soldiers on week-end leaves will be located in the forest preserve district, on Foster avenue between Cicero avenue and Pulaski road.

Announcement that recreation centers for vacationing soldiers would be established in Chicago and three other cities near large troop concentrations came earlier this week from Washington, D. C. Yesterday Col. Norman B. Wood, 6th corps area morale officer, said the war department had approved a recommendation that the center be constructed in the west side forest preserve.

The site was selected because it offers the greatest convenience to both Fort Sheridan and Camp Grant, Col. Wood said. The camp, with facilities for 500 to 1,000 men, will be open only to soldiers with week-end passes, and will operate from Friday noon until Sunday evening. Soldiers may sleep there free and obtain meals at a nominal cost. Civilian Conservation corps workers will construct the camp under the supervision of the National Park board and the army.

Propose Surtax on All Taxable Incomes



Comparison of surtaxes levied by present federal income tax law and proposed surtax levies in bill drafted for congress. Heretofore persons with net incomes of less than $4,000 a year have not had to figure or pay surtaxes. It should be noted that the left portion of the graph is in hundreds of dollars and the right section in thousands of dollars.

CITY G.O.P. WARS ON 4 LEGISLATORS WHO AIDED FOES

They Demand an End to 'Double Dealing.'

Republicans, Inc., composed of 300 precinct captains and co-workers, met last night in headquarters at 111 West Jackson street and declared war on "so-called Republicans" who voted against the Schnackenberg bill to permit investigation of spending in Democratic controled local governments in Chicago and Cook county.

"We're out to stop bipartisan dealing in the Republican ranks," said President Ted Youngquist. "And we're going to give first attention to the clique which voted against the Schnackenberg bill."

The four Republicans who deserted the GOP on this measure are Arthur T. Broche [1st], James J. Adduci [2d], Peter C. Granata, [17th], and Robert A. Petrone [21st].

Double Dealing Charged.

"It is known that Brocho, Adduci, Granata, and Petrone are dealing with the Kelly-Nash machine," asserted Youngquist. "Evidence of this fact is the jobs they have acquired while Republicans are overlooked. If the Schnackenberg bill, which they defeated, had been passed, the resultant investigation would have disclosed the double dealing they were trying to hide. They couldn't stand an investigation."

Youngquist said that members of Republicans, Inc., plan to bolster charges against bipartisan Republicans with affidavits. These affidavits and other evidence gathered, he said, will be presented to the Republican voters in the various wards with a plea that those involved be defeated.

Formed 2 Months Ago.

Youngquist said the organization was formed two months ago when Republican workers became disgusted over rewards given to party members friendly with the Kelly-Nash machine. He said that Wednesday a series of nightly meetings will be started in the organization headquarters. Workers will be armed with information to spread among their precinct voters at these meetings, he said.

"We plan to organize a squadron of men and women, intelligently informed on issues and affairs in their precincts and wards. They will carry the fight into questionable precincts in an effort to get the Kelly-Nash machine out of the Republican party."

ROBBERS IN STRAW HATS GET $150.

Figuring Your Next Income Tax, Surtax Will Be Headache

BY CLAYTON KIRKPATRICK.

The stiff new income tax rates proposed Wednesday by the house ways and means committee will bring the 559,000 tax payers in the Chicago district something more than a severe blow to their budgets, tax experts predicted yesterday. They are expected to aggravate greatly the mathematical headache which has always been associated with filing returns.

Under the present revenue laws taxpayers in the lowest income brackets have been excused from struggling with one of the greatest mysteries of filing returns — surtaxes. Previously these have been reserved for those with net incomes exceeding $4,000. Under the proposed law all taxable incomes beginning at $800 will be subject to the surtaxes.

The single man last year who had a net income of $2,500 had a fairly easy problem in figuring out his taxes. He deducted his personal exemption of $800 and his earned income credit of $250, leaving a taxable income of $1,450. He took the normal 4 per cent of this for his tax—$58.00. To this he added the 10 per cent defense tax of $5.80 and paid a total of $63.80.

How Surtax Is Figured.

Next year, if the law follows the committee's proposal, he will add as surtax 5 per cent of his net income less personal exemption, that is 5 per cent of $1,700. He adds this amount, $85, to his normal tax, $58, for a total of $143. To this he adds the 10 per cent defense tax, obtaining a total of $157.30.

The single man with a $5,000 net income was introduced to surtaxes last year when he was required to pay 4 per cent on all his taxable income over $4,000 after his personal exemption had been subtracted. For him it meant paying a surtax of $8, 4 per cent of $200, which is the amount his taxable income exceeded $4,000 after his personal exemption of $800 was subtracted.

This year he must pay 5 per cent on the first $2,000, or $100; 8 per cent on the next $2,000, or $160; and 11 per cent on the remaining $200, or $22. His total surtax will be $282 rather than $8.

How Married Man Fares.

The married man last year with a $5,000 income paid no surtaxes. His personal exemption taken from his total net income left only $3,000—$1,000 less than the minimum of $4,000 last year. This year he will have to pay $100, which is 5 per cent of the first $2,000, plus $80, which is 8 per cent of the remaining $1,000.

A married man with two dependent children having a $10,000 income paid $152 in surtaxes last year. Credits for dependents and his exemption as the head of a family reduced his surtax income to $7,200. On the first $6,000 of this he paid 4 per cent of the excess over the minimum of $4,000 or $80. On the remaining $1,200 he paid 6 per cent or $72.

This year he will pay 5 per cent on the first $2,000, or $100; 8 per cent on the next $2,000, or $160; 11 per cent on the next $2,000, or $220; and 15 per cent on the remaining $1,200 or $180, for a total of $660.

The table below shows the increase in rates and in amounts which will be collected under the new surtaxes.

Net income classes in thousands of dollars—	Present law— Pct.	Amount.	New law— Pct.	Amount.
Up to 2	0	.....	5	$ 100
2 to 4	0	.....	8	160
4 to 6	4	$ 80	11	480
6 to 8	6	200	15	780
8 to 10	8	360	19	1,160
10 to 12	10	560	22	1,600
12 to 14	12	800	25	2,100
14 to 16	15	1,100	28	2,660
16 to 18	18	1,460	31	3,280
18 to 20	21	1,880	33	3,940
20 to 22	24	2,360	36	4,660
22 to 26	27	3,440	39	6,220
26 to 32	30	5,240	42	8,740
32 to 38	33	7,220	45	11,440
38 to 44	36	9,380	48	14,320
44 to 50	40	11,780	50	17,320

Another way in which married couples will feel the pinch more this year is the provision in the proposed law prohibiting the filing of separate returns by a man and his wife.

HARMONY RULES IN LEGISLATURE; GRIND OUT BILLS

Hope for Adjournment by June 28.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—Harmony was fully restored to the legislature today, following the memorable five day Democratic filibuster which ended last night. Members of both houses worked together in an almost cloying accord, passing bills rapidly with the intention of ending the session on June 28.

The only spirited action of the day came during an unsuccessful attempt to reduce the number of trustees of the Chicago sanitary district from nine to three, a recommendation by representatives of the Civic federation and other agencies. No more than three trustees are necessary, it was contended.

Offered as Levy Amendment.

Representative Arthur W. Sprague [R., La Grange] sponsored the reduction effort and told the house it had Gov. Green's support. He made his motion when the sanitary district's 5 million dollar pegged levy bill was called on second reading.

"This amendment wouldn't put any little men out of work," Sprague said. "It would only affect six men with $7,500 a year salaries."

Representative Joseph L. Rategan [D., Chicago] protested, saying that it was no time to consider such a proposal and that it had nothing to do with the district's levy.

On roll call 16 Republicans joined 63 Democrats — including the Nash-Kelly Chicago delegation—in defeating the amendment. Supporting the reduction were 39 Republicans.

Republicans Against Change.

The 16 Republicans who helped keep the number of sanitary trustees at 9, as carried on the official roll call, were:

James J. Adduci, Chicago; R. J. Branson, Centralia; M. F. Browner, Mound City; George S. Brydia, Prophetstown; Charles W. Clabaugh, Champiagn; James E. Davis, Galesburg; Ora D. Dillavou, Urbana; William S. Finucane, Chicago; Charles J. Jenkins, Chicago; Robert Petrone, Chicago; William Robison, Carlinville; Michael A. Ruddy, Chicago; John R. Thompson, Bridgeport; Oral P. Tuttle, Harrisburg; William J. Warfield, Chicago, and Joseph Zientek, Chicago.

In the senate, where the filibuster had attained its bitterest and most personal heights, a glowing atmosphere of brotherly love prevailed, reminiscent of a service club smoker. About 80 bills were passed during the morning session alone, on almost unanimous roll calls.

Included was the new oil and gas regulation measure, which stops short of regulating the flow of wells, but carries other conservation and safety provisions.

Also passed was the $1,246,116 appropriation to pay members of the Illinois reserve militia $1 a drill—a measure having the largest number of sponsors of any introduced in recent sessions. Originated by T. Mac Downing [R., Macomb] it also carries the names of 39 other senators.

Senator George C. Dixon [R., Dixon] secured approval of his bill to prevent recurrence of a "bedside cabinet," administration of the state, such as prevailed during the late Gov. Henry Horner's desperate illness. The measure provides a method of determining a governor's disability thru a petition to the Sangamon county Circuit court, which could be filed by any two of four state officers—attorney general, secretary of state, auditor, and treasurer.

A hearing on the petition would follow, and if the governor was determined to be physically or mentally unfit to continue in office the lieutenant governor would be directed to take over.

The senate started the move for sine die adjournment on June 28, rather than continuing over that week-end until Monday, June 30, the last day on which the legislature may constitutionally pass bills by less than two-thirds majority votes. The house is expected to concur.

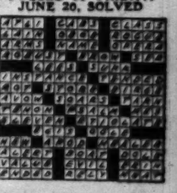
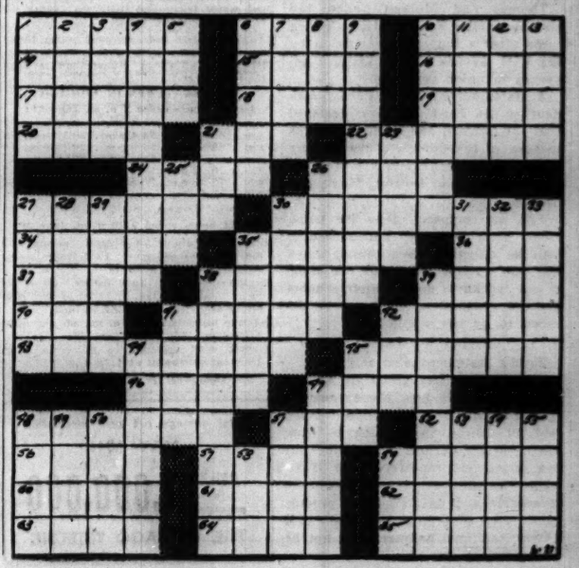
PUZZLE OF FRIDAY, JUNE 20, SOLVED





CITY PAYS FANCY PRICES TO OBTAIN GARBAGE DUMPS

And Incinerating Would Send Cost Higher.

[Detailed stories concerning each of the three privately owned dumps being used by the city will be found in the Metropolitan sections of The Sunday Tribune.]

BY HAROLD SMITH.

Chicago saves money by not incinerating its garbage, but pays handsomely for the privilege of dumping it on private property.

The owners of three privately owned dumps now being used by the city have received $2,636,614.02 from the city for dumping priveleges, with the comforting prospect of a lot more money to come.

During the period of this income, these same owners have paid only $240,709.83 in general taxes. This is $25,166.21 less than was levied against the properties, the smaller figure representing tax reductions obtained by the owners, or funds withheld pending the settlement of reduction claims.

Location of Dumps.

The three dumps in question are at 19th and Wolcott streets, where the city has spent $1,352,086.89 for dumping privileges since 1931; Fullerton and Narragansett avenues, where the city has spent $877,469.68 in the same period, and 31st street and Cicero avenue in Cicero, where the city has paid $407,057.45 since 1934.

A fourth dump currently being used, at 115th street and Doty avenue, is owned by the city. It is on the site of the proposed Lake Calumet airport.

Such of the city's refuse as is not deposited in the four dumps is loaded on railroad cars at four loading stations, whence it is hauled out of town. These loading stations are at Touhy avenue and McCormick road, South Water street and the Illinois Central tracks, 26th street and the Illinois Central, and 40th street and Ashland avenue.

Hewitt Gets Reduction.

For the privilege of depositing its refuse at the four loading stations and the three privately owned dumps, Chicago pays rates varying from 32½ cents a cubic yard down to 22 cents a cubic yard. Prior to 1934, when reductions were brought about by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, the rates ranged up to 50 cents a cubic yard.

Some idea of how lucrative is the business of selling dumping space to the city may be gained by considering assessment figures, which show the fair market value of the properties that in 10 years produced $2,636,614 revenue is only about $848,400. This figure is computed from the assessor's formula, which says the assessed valuation represents 37 per cent of the current fair market valuation. There are the comparative figures:

Dump.	Rec'd	Taxes pd.	Indicated mkt. val.
19th-Wolcott ..	$1,352,086	$ 51,361	$360,000
Fullerton-Nar..	877,469	163,462	478,900
31st-Cicero	407,057	25,885	140,700

Thus the owners have, in one decade, received more than three times as much for the use of their property as the county assessor and his advisors believe it will bring on the market.

The neighbors complain of the stenches rising from the rotting garbage, of the clouds of smoke that are sent off by the too frequent dump fires, of the flies and rats, and other vermin that thrive in the dumps, and of the scavengers attracted by the bottles and other salable items they may find by raking thru the city's household wastes.

City officials declare that the solution to the refuse disposal problem is a difficult one. Dumping, they say, is the cheapest method of disposal. Chicago's only garbage incinerator, an $800,000 structure on Goose Island, has lain idle since 1934, after only six years of use, because it cost 55 cents a yard to burn refuse there. Other large cities which have tried incineration are going back to dumping, Chicago officials report.

VOTES AGAINST WAR MOUNT IN NATIONAL POLL

Returns yesterday increased the total in the Citizens Keep America Out of War committee poll to 7,990 against United States entry into the war as compared with 412 for going to war.

The vote against convoys was 7,358 to 947, against repeal of the neutrality act 6,868 to 1,132, in favor of a referendum on entering any foreign war 6,332 to 1,855, and in favor of President Roosevelt's acting immediately to bring peace 6,394 to 1,730.

Capt. William J. Grace, chairman of the committee, said that 3,600,000 ballots have been mailed out so far, and that the committee expects to distribute another 1,500,000. There were 4,746 votes tabulated yesterday.

AMERICAN LANDS AT WAR CAN USE URUGUAY'S PORTS

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, June 20 (AP).—Uruguay today announced she would not consider any American countries warring against foreign powers as belligerents and would permit United States and other American warships to use Uruguayan harbors if war spreads to the western hemisphere.

Uruguay, the first South American nation to make such an announcement, took similar action in the World war. She notified all other American nations of her action and proposed that they act similarly under the Panama and Havana accords.

American diplomats here predicted the Uruguayan initiative would be accepted by "almost all" the nations on the continent and that she may "possibly obtain authority to make a collective declaration."

The announcement was made by Foreign Minister Alberto Guani. The action will permit patrol of Uruguayan waters at the mouth of the Plata river in case of war. It was there that the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee was scuttled by its German crew after the epic battle of the South Atlantic in December, 1939.

THREE CHICAGO CONCERNS GIVE $30,000 TO USO

The United Service organization's campaign to raise funds to put a little zest in a soldier's life received a $30,000 stimulus in Chicago yesterday from gifts from three companies.

David Levinger, manager of the Hawthorne works of Western Electric company, announced the company is contributing $15,000 to USO, of which $6,200 goes directly to the Chicago campaign. Commonwealth Edison company contributed $10,000 and Marshall Field announced it was giving $5,000.

The organization's drive for funds netted over $100,000 before it was officially launched. The goal for the Chicago area is $879,500. The national goal is $10,765,000.

GOV. TALMADGE ASKS 3 STATE U. REGENTS TO QUIT

Hints Purge of State Aids Born Outside Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., June 20 [Special].—Georgia's fiery governor, Eugene Talmadge, today demanded the resignations of three regents who successfully opposed his efforts to oust Dean Walter D. Cocking of the University of Georgia school of education on charges of advocating racial doctrines contrary to southern tradition.

Gov. Eugene Talmadge [A. P. Photo.]

According to the governor, the board of regents heard an affidavit by a teacher that Dean Cocking favored a graduate school for both Negroes and whites.

"While I'm governor there'll be no Negroes in the same schools with white folks in Georgia, and there'll be no men in our system who advocate it," Talmadge declared.

Hints Budgetary Purge.

This statement was construed as hinting he may use his budgetary authority to whack Dean Cocking from the state pay roll despite the board of regents' 8 to 7 approval of rehiring the educator.

The governor confirmed reports that he had instructed the state auditor to furnish him a list of "all these foreign professors in the state university system." Dr. Cocking was born in Iowa.

"I never did think," said the governor, "that these foreign professors were smarter than our own Georgians."

This remark led to predictions that a "wholesale firing" of university faculty members may be impending.

Would Oust Own Appointees.

Chairman Sandy Beaver, widely known Georgian, Vice Chairman Ormonde Hunter and Miller R. Bell, all Talmadge appointees, were the regents whose resignations were requested. The governor explained that he had been forced to act because he had discovered that a 1937 law provides that no more than seven members of the board of regents could be alumni of the same institution and that there now were 10 such members serving.

The governor said his charges against Cocking were based on an affidavit by Mrs. Sylla W. Hamilton, former teacher at the university, which quoted the dean as recommending a school near Athens for Negroes and whites where graduates of the education college could do practice teaching.

Fear Spinal Meningitis Spread at Fort Devens

Fort Devens, Mass., June 20 (AP).—Nine additional members of the 16th infantry were placed under medical surveillance today on suspicion that they might have contracted spinal meningitis after discovery of three positive cases in the unit. Col. Miner F. Felch, commander of the fort hospital, said that all of the 3,000 officers and men of the regiment, which has been under quarantine for three days, were being examined daily in an effort to avoid a possible outbreak.

Sets World Record

MISS MARGARET HAMMA.

Miss Margaret Hamma, 27 years old, of New York City, a former secretary, last night set a new world's typing record when she typed 149 net words a minute to win the 9th annual International Commercial Schools' contest in Hotel Sherman. Experts said her typing was "sensational."

Albert Tangora, 34, of 926 Judson avenue, Evanston, cracked his own former world's record of 141 net words a minute, established in 1937, by typing 142 words a minute. Third place in the one hour professional competition went to Cortez W. Peters of Washington, D. C., with 141 words a minute.

Miss Velma Crisman of Tacoma, Wash., set a new world's school record of 128 words a minute. Miss Hamma won the 30 minute amateur contest with 149 words a minute; Lenore Fenton, Seattle, Wash., was second with 130, and Louise Wakefield, Enid, Okla., was third with 127.

In the novice [20 minute] competition first place was taken by Helen M. Sayer, New York, with 129 words a minute. Miss Whitefield took second with 124 and Stella Pajumas, Cleveland, O., third with 123.

Yeoman Walter Muleski, stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training station, won the navy trophy by typing 79 words a minute. The army trophy went to Staff Sergeant Leonard Morgan, St. Louis, Mo., who typed 80 words a minute.

MICHIGAN CITY GOES "GAY 90'S," BEARDS AND ALL

Residents of Michigan City, Ind., stepped back into the mauve decade last night. Decked out in bustles, frock coats, derbies, and moustaches, they attended the Gay Nineties ball held in the Michigan City auditorium as a preliminary to the Columbia Yacht club's 50th annual race today.

Gov. Henry F. Schricker presented a bouquet to Miss Helen Drout, who was chosen belle of the ball. Winners were selected in contests for the growing of six types of beards, and square dances and old fashioned waltzes featured the early evening's entertainment. Later, however, a more strident note crept into the music and jitterbugs, anachronistic in the gas light era atmosphere, took over.

A carriage parade and the yacht race today, and a beach picnic tomorrow will complete the three day celebration.

CIGARETS VANISH FROM TRUCK.

Seven cases, containing 1,750 packages of cigarets valued at $196, disappeared from a truck of the F. J. Murphy Teaming company, 311 East 23d street, while the truck was in transit from 3213 Lawrence avenue to 2831 Milwaukee avenue, police were notified yesterday.

REPORTER RIDES WITH THE TANKS IN MIMIC BATTLE

Thru Blacked Out Night to Morning Attack.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Manchester, Tenn., June 20.—After a desperate 24 hour struggle to hold the village of Manchester against odds of more than three to one, the defending Red army was shattered early today when superior Blue invading forces hurled the full weight of tanks and scout cars of the 2nd armored division into a three-way attack on exhausted Red positions.

The defeat of the small Red army—less than 20,000 men against more than 50,000—was a certainty from the beginning of the mock battle at dawn yesterday. The importance of the exercise lay in determining just how efficient the armored division, now participating in its first major war games, could be in delivering the final, fatal thrust against a tired enemy.

Rides With Armored Division.

To gain a clear picture of the way in which the mechanized force operates and to get a tank's eye picture of an attack, this writer joined the 2nd armored division last night, at the beginning of a 90 mile trek scheduled to bring the division into contact with the Reds at dawn.

Tankers of the 2nd, contacted at their division command post near Murfreesboro, declared that the best vantage point from which to watch the movement of an armored force was the sidecar of a motorcycle, able to race in and out of the tank columns.

For this suggestion the writer feels that he owes no thanks. In the "flying bathtub" of an army cycle he spent more than five hours, probably the most thrilling and certainly the most uncomfortable hours of his experience.

At 12:45 p. m. the 66th armored regiment [light tank] moved out. Its mission was to make the longest march, 90 miles thru Tennessee backroads, to strike at the Reds along the Tullahoma-Manchester road in early morning. Another regiment, the 68th light tanks, was to hit the Red left flank at Tullahoma. The 67th medium tank regiment was to rendezvous with the others after smashing directly thru the city of Manchester into Red rear defenses.

Arrive at Concealed Bivouac.

This was a blacked out drive, enforced by snarling military policemen. In the inkiness of the Tennessee night, guided only by tiny blue lights on its machines, the 66th roared south.

Moving back and forth along the columns was an experience not to be forgotten. Time after time thru the night the motorcycle was sandwiched in between two tanks speeding at 40 miles an hour, only 75 feet apart.

Like maddened elephants, ghostly blue eyes shining dimly, the 66th charged thru the astonished town of Shelbyville at 2 a. m. Dawn found the regiment in concealed bivouac below Lynchburg, awaiting orders.

Jump-off came at 8 a. m. when the regiment was ordered to push on to its objectives, keeping to back roads to distract enemy air reconnaissance. Before the jump-off the writer changed his motorcycle for a gunner's seat in the leading tank of a scouting patrol, sent on ahead to feel out enemy resistance.

For the last 24 hours Blue infantry divisions had been pounding the one Red division, softening it and tiring it for our attack. At dawn the 68th regiment's light tanks hit south of Tullahoma. An hour later the 67th mediums smashed thru Manchester. Our first enemy units were discovered in Tullahoma. At 12:30 a. m. the battle was terminated and tired Red troops straggled back to base camps.

Andes Candies

Why is this girl smiling so brightly?

She just cracked a joke with her Dad about the longest day of the year.

What's the joke?

She said she likes the longest day of the year because it gives her more time to eat Andes Candies.

I suppose that was intended as a hint to Dad to bring some home.

Precisely! Today is the longest day—why don't you take home some Andes Candies, too?

CONGRESS COOL TO ROOSEVELT'S BLAST AT NAZIS

Effort to Incite U. S. War Spirit Is Seen.

out provision for the safety of the passengers and crew.

"It was sunk despite the fact that its American nationality was admittedly known to the commander of the submarine and that its nationality was likewise clearly indicated by the flag and other markings.

"The sinking of this American ship by a German submarine flagrantly violated, the right of United States vessels freely to navigate the seas subject only to a belligerent right accepted under international law. This belligerent right, as is known to the German government, does not include the right deliberately to sink a merchant vessel, leaving the passengers and crew to the mercies of the elements. On the contrary the belligerent is required to place the passengers and crew in places of safety.

An International Outlaw."

"The passengers and crew of the Robin Moor were left afloat in small lifeboats from approximately two to three weeks when they were accidentally discovered and rescued by friendly vessels. This chance rescue does not lessen the brutality of casting the boats adrift in midocean.

"The total disregard shown for the most elementary principles of international law and of humanity brands the sinking of the Robin Moor as the act of an international outlaw.

"The government of the United States holds Germany responsible for the outrageous and indefensible sinking of the Robin Moor. Full reparation for the losses and damages suffered by American nationals will be expected from the German government.

"Our government believes that freedom from cruelty and inhuman treatment is a natural right. It is not a grace to be given or withheld at the will of those temporarily in a position to exert force over defenseless people.

Charges Terroristic Policy.

"Were this incident capable of being regarded apart from a more general background, its implications might be less serious—but it must be interpreted in the light of a declared and actively pursued policy of frightfulness and intimidation which has been used by the German reich as an instrument of international policy.

"The present leaders of the German reich have not hesitated to engage in acts of cruelty and many other forms of terror against the innocent and the helpless in other countries, apparently in the belief that methods of terrorism will lead to a state of affairs permitting the German reich to exact acquiescence from the nations victimized.

"This government can only assume that the government of the German reich hopes thru the commission of such infamous acts of cruelty to helpless and innocent men, women, and children to intimidate the United States and other nations into a course of nonresistance to German plans for universal conquest—a conquest based upon lawlessness and terror on land and piracy on the sea.

Points to Other Examples.

"Such methods are fully in keeping with the methods of terrorism hitherto employed by the present leaders of the German reich in the policy which they have pursued toward many other nations subsequently victimized.

"The government of the German reich may, however, be assured that the United States will neither be intimidated nor will it acquiesce in the plans for world domination which the present leaders of Germany may have.

"We are warranted in considering whether the case of the Robin Moor is not a step in a campaign against the United States analogous to campaigns against other nations. We cannot place reliance on official declarations to the contrary.

"Like statements, declarations, and even solemn pledges have been forthcoming in respect of many nations, commencing with the statement that the government of the German reich considered its territorial aspirations satisfied when it seized Austria by force. Evidence that the government of the German reich continues to plan further conquest and domination is convincing and, indeed, scarcely disputed.

Notes Scheme of Conquest.

"Viewed in the light of the circumstances, the sinking of the Robin Moor becomes a disclosure of policy as well as an example of method. Heretofore, lawless acts of violence have been preludes to schemes of land conquest. This one appears to be a first step in assertion of the supreme purpose of the German reich to seize control of the high seas, the conquest of Great Britain being an indispensable part of that seizure.

"Its general purpose would appear to be to drive American commerce from the ocean wherever such commerce was considered a disadvantage to German designs; and its specific purpose would appear to be interruption of our trade with all friendly countries.

"We must take it that notice has now been served upon us that no American ship or cargo on any of the seven seas can consider itself immune from acts of piracy. Notice is served on us, in effect, that the German reich proposes so to intimidate the United States that we would be dissuaded from carrying out our chosen policy of helping Britain to survive.

"In brief, we must take the sinking of the Robin Moor as a warning to the United States not to resist the Nazi movement of world conquest. It is a warning that the United States may use the high seas of the world only with Nazi consent.

"Were we to yield on this we would inevitably submit to world domination at the hands of the present leaders of the German reich.

"We are not yielding and we do not propose to yield.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Nazis Call U. S. Consuls 'Spies'; Ban Hits Fifty Berliners' Jobs

Possess Proof: Germans

BERLIN, June 20 (AP).—An authorized German spokesman today declared Germany has proof of "dozens of cases" of espionage in which he said American consular officials in Germany gathered information for the British secret service and passed it on directly or thru "a certain central office in Washington."

This charge was made in explanation of the German request of yesterday for the closing of American consulates in Germany and seven German conquered European nations by July 15.

Expect Quick Development.

The question of whether closing each other's consulates would lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States was a matter of lively speculation in both German and American quarters.

The general impression was that there would be some development soon, possibly in the next few days, to clarify the confusion in the delicately balanced situation.

Offering an explanation of Germany's request that American consulates be closed, the German spokesman said it resulted from circumstances persisting "over a long time."

He denied that the measure had a direct relation to a similar request last Monday by President Roosevelt thru the state department.

"For a long time already the necessity of closing American consulates had become apparent," the spokesman said. "We have evidence that information gathered by American consular officials was directly submitted to the British secret service in whose behalf they acted.

"We also know that information went to a certain central office in Washington where it was made directly available to the British. . . . We have proof of dozens of such cases."

Resent Hitler Charge

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 20.—Fifty employés of the Berlin branch of the American Express company stood gloomily in their offices today. They wondered what was to become of them as the result of the German government's order to close the company's branches in the reich and in German occupied territories by July 15.

The employés will lose their jobs. In Berlin they all are Germans.

Employés are Shocked.

They hardly worried about getting new jobs since there is an unlimited demand in Berlin for labor of all kinds. But they are certain the jobs will not be as good as their persent ones. In addition, they have no choice. They fear being pushed into forced labor.

Ernst Giese, the branch manager, and the other employés were shocked by the German order.

Giese said he had been employed in the Berlin branch ever since it opened in 1907. He was appointed manager in 1924. The company is incorporated under German law, altho it is owned by the American Express company in the United States.

Call Charge Unjustified.

In the last 20 years, Giese said, this establishment has handled millions of dollars of business. It has been influential in encouraging American tourists to visit Germany.

Giese and his subordinates expressed astonishment over the wording of the section of the German note concerning the American Express company to the effect that "this company and its employés have conducted themselves in a fashion contrary to the interests of the German reich."

The accusation, according to Giese, is entirely unjustified at least as far as his office is concerned.

CONVOYING STILL IS BEST SYSTEM, BRITAIN ASSERTS

BY GUY MURCHIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 20.—An admiralty spokesman today told THE TRIBUNE that the British navy will continue to use the convoy system for protection of shipping because known results show it is the best method. This appears to contradict President Roosevelt's recent reported statement that the convoy system is out of date.

While admitting that the Germans were building and using more submarines every month, the admiralty spokesman expressed satisfaction that the zones in the Atlantic in which losses previously have been the heaviest now are shown to be better protected. He also spoke enthusiastically of the work of the American coast guard cutters which have been transfered to the British and of the large number of axis supply ships lately rounded up.

Include Greek Battle Losses.

LONDON, June 20 (AP).—Britain disclosed today that April was her worst month of this war for shipping losses and authoritative sources asserted that sinkings in the battle of the Atlantic still rose during May altho ship losses for all seas declined in that month.

The admiralty announced May ship losses were 98 ships, totaling 461,328 tons, or 119,823 tons less than revised figures for April. But the corrected April total—581,251 tons instead of the previously announced 488,124 tons—indicated that May figures might be much higher when all returns were in. April's figure included heavy Mediterranean losses during the battle for Greece.

In May, it was indicated, the sea warfare slackened in areas other than the Atlantic, bringing the total losses down, but Britain's position in the all important battle of the Atlantic itself was worse.

Heavy Toll of Axis Ships.

Britain for her part during May sank 299,000 tons of axis shipping.

In accordance with naval policy, any estimate on the number of axis submarines sunk was refused, but it was added that "we can say that the number of attacks on U-boats since March is a record."

The total of British, allied, and neutral shipping losses from the beginning of the war to the end of May was set by authoritative sources at 1,639 ships of 6,702,807 tons, broken down as follows: British, 1,008 ships of 4,302,445 tons; allied, 314 ships of 1,411,543 tons, and neutral, 317 ships of 988,819 tons.

HESS MYSTERY HURTS 'WAR EFFORT' IN U. S., SAYS BRITISH PAPER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 20.—The Daily Mail tonight editorialized under the headline, "The Hess Danger": "The mystery in which the government continues obstinately to enshroud the Hess affair is having a bad effect on the impetus of the war effort in the United States and to some extent in this country.

"It is a miasma very favorable to operations of fifth columnists. In it they have been able to breed all sorts of palsying rumors. Information reaching us is that in the United States a widespread rumor is that Hess came here to negotiate peace and that—in the absence of an official British statement—such negotiations may in fact be in progress.

"So why, American manufacturers are being led to ask, should they continue to gear into top speed production of war material for which there might be a sudden stoppage of demand?"

Among the crop of unconfirmed rumors THE TRIBUNE heard tonight was one that Hess, shortly before coming to Britain from Germany had spent two weeks in Madrid. There, it was said, Adolf Hitler's ex-deputy met a number of Britons who were interested in a peace plan.

TRIANGLE SLAYER SENTENCED; NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

Judge Joseph A. Graber in Criminal court yesterday overruled a motion for a new trial in behalf of Bernard Lindner, 38, and sentenced him to 14 years in the penitentiary for the love-theft murder of Alfred Neiman. Lindner was convicted and his punishment fixed by a jury on Tuesday.

The conviction was Lindner's second for the murder. In a previous trial a jury found him guilty and fixed his punishment at 20 years in prison but Lindner was granted a new trial by the court. Lindner shot and killed Neiman last Oct. 6 after accusing him of stealing the affection of his wife. Warden Frank Sain said Lindner would be taken to Joliet within the next few days.

STUKA A GERMAN HERO AGAIN IN BIG DESERT TRIUMPH

Credited with Decisive Role in Sollum Battle.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 20.—The biggest battle yet fought on the north African front—compared by German military experts with the greatest tank battles in last year's swift invasion of France—has ended with both armies retrenched in their old positions.

Gen. Erwin Rommel. [AP Wirephoto.]

For the Germans, the outcome of the bitterly contested conflict on the burning desert around Sollum—the Arabic word denotes "ladder"—signifies a first rate victory for Gen. Erwin Rommel's African expeditionary corps.

For the first time in the present world war the Germans were forced into a defensive position by the British attack. The Germans admit that the British deployed the largest force of tanks and armored mechanized units ever to have been put into operation on the African front since the beginning of the campaign. But the Germans relied once again upon their favored weapons to stem the British drive westward.

Planes Do Their Bit.

Stukas and interceptor planes, reenforced by air units with bases on the new flying fields on Crete, swooped down upon the British columns while German anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns were trained upon the British tanks rolling across the desert in broad formation.

The rôle of the Stukas and battleplanes, according to axis reports, was again decisive. Enemy troop concentrations, mechanized columns, and tank units were blown to bits by the rain of high explosives dropped from above.

It appears that the Germans also have been employing new 88 millimeter anti-aircraft guns to stop the advancing steel fortresses.

If the German figures are exact—latest reports state that some 200 British tanks were found strewn over the field of battle after the smoke and dust of the three day conflict had cleared away—the new weapon must possess unusually high penetrating power.

Two Armored Divisions.

No reliable information can be had in Berlin regarding the size of the conflicting forces but it was suggested that the British attacking forces included at least two tank divisions, including the famous 11th Hussars. This would mean an armored attacking strength of 400 to 500 tanks. The British force was superior in strength to the combined German and Italian defensive forces at the outset of the battle but it is likely that the axis partners soon brought up reserves after the first day of fighting.

German comment on the course of events in the battle of Sollum agrees that a bold outflanking maneuver executed at the beginning of the fight and followed by strategic encirclement of the British forces resulted in enticing the British into a trap. British units advancing between Sidi Omar and Ghirba were cut off from their supporting columns and squeezed into a hopeless position.

Among the tanks employed by the British were American M-2 models, according to reports from Rome.

[The M-2 is a 13 ton tank armed with a 37 mm. cannon and several machine guns and having steel sides of special strength. Military circles in Washington, D. C., said it probably received its first test under fire in the recent North African fighting.]

British Attack Bengazi.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 20 (AP).—Direct hits demolished waterfront buildings in the Libyan port of Bengazi, chief supply base for the axis' western desert forces, in a raid Wednesday night, the British air command reported today.

An undisclosed number of axis motor transport vehicles also were destroyed by machine gun fire from RAF planes in offensive patrols on the western desert yesterday.

Where Sub Sank

HUNGER OUR ONLY ENEMY, FINNISH PRESIDENT VOWS

Army Reservists Up to 45 Years of Age Called.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, June 20.—President Risto Ryti of Finland today told THE TRIBUNE that his nation's only enemy at the present time is hunger, but that the Finns are ready to fight for their freedom if it is threatened.

While he was making this statement, army reservists up to 45 years of age were called and the government took other measures to strengthen and increase defenses as a result of the strain between Adolf Hitler and Josef Stalin.

"We are only pro-Finnish," Ryti said. "We will not fight for any other interests; only for Finland if necessary. Any act which aggravates our attempt to obtain foodstuffs for our people will be considered unfriendly, no matter from where it comes.

Determined to Stay Free.

"Finland is, and will be, an independent and sovereign state. We will fight for our freedom if it is menaced, but it is our sincere wish to maintain friendly relations with all nations. We do not consider the transit of German troops thru our territory as any threat to our freedom."

Finland is more worried about the food situation than anything else. Special defense measures have taken farmers and farmhands from the fields and workers from their jobs in towns and cities. Every additional ton of food which can be harvested this year is regarded as of vital importance to the country.

Railroads, auto buses, and boats which ply Finland's inland and coastal waterways are crowded with troops hastening to report to their units.

Women Assist Army.

The preparedness measures include Finland's Lotta Svärd. This is a volunteer women's organization which acts as an auxiliary branch of the army. The women help prepare meals for the troops except when they are fighting in front line positions. They are also on duty in watch towers thruout the country as lookouts. They assist the signal corps and other branches of the army.

There are thousands of families in which the father is a soldier and the mother a Lotta. Their children have been removed to rural areas.

Censorship over all telephone, telegraph, radio, and mail communications has been established. The Finnish parliament met today and passed a resolution requesting the president to take all steps to avoid inflation and to maintain and stabilize the general price and wage level.

PREVIOUS U. S. SUB DISASTERS TOOK 139 LIVES

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

During the last 27 years 139 American naval men have perished as the result of disaster overtaking five United States submarines.

The worst of all was the collision on Dec. 17, 1927, of the S-4 and the coast guard vessel Paulding. Forty men died as the S-4 sank in 100 feet of water off Provincetown, Mass.

The most recent disaster was the sinking of the Squalus off White Island, N. H., May 23, 1939. Thirty-three men were saved with a diving bell, thus used for the first time, but 26 died.

Other American disasters were:

March 24, 1915—F-4 sank in Honolulu bay, 21 dead.

Dec. 17, 1917—F-1 rammed and sunk by submarine F-3 during maneuvers off San Diego, Cal., 19 dead.

Sept. 25, 1925—S-51 sank off Block Island, R. I., by steamer City of Rome, 33 dead.

A. B. Dick Jr. (left) and Joseph Cudahy at corner stone ceremony.

The corner stone of the new Lake Forest hospital, which will cost when completed an estimated $750,000, was laid yesterday afternoon. Participating in the ceremony were A. B. Dick Jr., president of the hospital; Joseph M. Cudahy, chairman of the board; the Rev. Oliver Brackett, and the Rev. Charles A. Murphy.

It is expected that the new building, which is being erected on a 23 acre tract west of Skokie road and north of Deerfield road, will be occupied in 1942. At the start it will have accommodations for 41 adults and 10 babies, and the capacity may be increased later to 70 beds. More than a thousand residents of Lake Forest and Lake Bluff have contributed to the building fund.

BRITAIN TO DRAFT 253,000 WOMEN IN WARTIME DUTIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 20.—The 1917 class of women, aged 23 to 24, who will register at employment exchanges on June 28, probably will join the auxiliary transport service, the women's royal navy service, or go into munitions factories—in that order—an official of the ministry of labor said today. It is estimated that 253,000 women will be affected under the new registration.

The auxiliary transport service is recruiting 1,500 girls a week and this is expected to increase to 2,000. Jobs open to girls include those of a highly technical and specialized sort, such as predictor and height finding work on anti-aircraft gun sights. An enrollment officer for the women's royal navy service said that "our aim is to man the royal navy on shore entirely by women."

The postoffice announced that 1,000 women employed on minor engineering duties were doing a good job and that it intended to recruit more. A proposal that the women be provided "with smart green overalls" is being considered.

Nazis to Open Consulate 40 Miles from Hongkong

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONGKONG, June 20.—It is understood here that the Nazis are opening a consulate in Macao, Portuguese colony 40 miles west of Hongkong. The consulate will be staffed with Germans who fled from Hongkong prior to the beginning of the war. Its chief objective will be dissemination of German propaganda in South China.

SUN WILL SHINE 15 HOURS TODAY, SUMMER STARTS

The sun will rise at 5:15 a. m. today to begin the longest day of the year. Sunset will occur at 8:29 p. m. after 15 hours 14 minutes of sunlight. The longest day of the year, or summer solstice, is the first day of summer.

The solstice is caused by the inclination of the earth's axis. During six months of the year the south pole is tilted toward the sun as the earth revolves in its orbit. During the other six months the north pole is inclined toward the sun. While the north pole is tilted toward the sun the northern hemisphere has temperate weather; while it is tilted away it has cold weather.

The summer solstice occurs when the inclination of the north pole toward the sun is the greatest and the sun is directly over the Tropic of Cancer. At this time sunlight lasts 24 hours from the arctic circle on north to the poles. Even as far south as 50 degrees north latitude, approximately that of London and Berlin, twilight lasts all night.

Japanese Bombs Raze 300 Buildings in Chinese City

HONGKONG, June 20 (AP).—Some 40 Chinese civilians were killed or wounded and 300 buildings were demolished two days ago in Sian, capital of Shensi province, during a half hour Japanese air raid, the Chinese Central News reported today.

ONLY 48% OF US NORMAL, SAYS PSYCHIATRIST

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20 (AP).—A psychiatrist reported today that approximately 7,000 babies are born in the United States each 24 hours, but only 48 per cent grow up to be normal individuals.

"The other 52 per cent," Dr. Thomas J. Meyers of Pasadena, Cal., president of the American College of Neuropsychiatrists, told the group's convention, "range from mildly neurotic to insane."

"Comparatively few people are free of some degree of neurosis or nervous disturbance."

BRITISH PUSH BIG AIR OFFENSIVE TO HAMPER INVASION

Expect Attack if Moscow Bows to Berlin.

LONDON, June 20 (AP).—In a powerful running aerial offensive against German industrial and troop centers, the RAF is trying to cripple at its prospective bases a Nazi attempt at invasion of Britain which is expected to come at once if Adolf Hitler takes Josef Stalin into camp without fighting.

This, it was disclosed today, is the urgent purpose behind the unprecedented British bombing campaign which for nine successive nights has spread a red pattern of violence from the German Ruhr—the heart of industrial Germany—to the occupied French ports, whence an attempt to leap the channel would be sprung.

[Berlin reported that several "unimportant towns" in northwestern Germany were raided by the British. High explosive bombs and incendiaries killed and injured a number of civilians and damaged apartment buildings.]

Fear Stalin Might Give In.

While thousands of tons of British bombs are falling upon the continent, British diplomacy is considering its course against the alternative in the German-Russian crisis: The possibility that the Russians might not give in to the current German demands and thus might have to meet the shock of Nazi divisions marching from Poland and Rumania.

The British news agency [Reuters] in a dispatch from Istanbul said passengers arriving from Rumania reported clashes occurring on the Rumanian-Russian border and that "hostilities are developing" between Rumanian and Red army soldiers.

Authoritative sources declined to speculate on what British policy would be in such an event.

But some private quarters expressed the opinion that if the soviet fought the Germans, the Russians "would be our allies and it is reasonable that we would give them whatever aid possible."

Urges Aid for Russia.

The London Standard, published by Lord Beaverbrook, the British minister of state, declared plainly for British aid to the Russians in such circumstances, saying:

"If Germany goes to war with Russia we should recognize our interest in sustaining Russia's resistance—we should attempt to make our friends, the Americans, understand, too."

For, said the Standard, should Hitler be able to smash the soviet "he would be free to hurl all his weapons against us."

BRITISH LEADERS BLAMED FOR LAG IN WAR INDUSTRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 20.—Jack Tanner, president of the Amalgamated Engineering union, today told the union's national committee that he intended to furnish evidence to support his charges that the lag in war production was due to managerial inefficiency and lack of initiative. The conference, which was held at Llandudno, passed a resolution submitted by Glasgow branches.

The resolution complained that the labor ministry was carrying out a policy of big business. It called on the national council of labor to go to the people with a program which included deep bomb proof shelters, friendship with Russia, a people's government and a people's peace which will get rid of the cause of war.

Tanner in his statement said that a questionnaire sent to union members engaged in aircraft production disclosed that there was a shortage of work in many factories. The reasons given were shortage of materials, tools and machines, delays because of changed designs, absence of planning and preparation, managements without initiative, and men waiting for authority to proceed on certain work.

GERMANS REPORT BOMBS STRIKE 5 BRITISH VESSELS

BERLIN, June 20 (AP).—German air attacks on Britain's commerce, ranging from the Atlantic off Spain to Britain's own home waters, left two freighters sunk and three others crippled yesterday, the high command reported today.

One of the sunken ships, the communique said, was a 3,500 ton freighter destroyed by a German long range bomber about 680 miles west of the Spanish port of Cadiz, on the Atlantic coast just north of the Strait of Gibraltar.

"Bombers in waters around England sank a 2,000 ton freighter and badly damaged three large merchantmen," the war bulletin also reported.

For the second successive day, the high command mentioned the English east coast port of Great Yarmouth as a specific target of German night raids. It said also one airport in southern England had been attacked. The British lost 96 planes and the Germans 12 in four days of air fighting from June 15 thru June 18, DNB, official German news agency, said.

SAYS JAPS EAGER FOR 'TEST' FIGHTS WITH U. S. FLYERS

SHANGHAI, June 20 (AP).—A Japanese army spokesman today said that if American pilots should join the Chinese air force the Japanese army will welcome their appearance in battle because that "will give us an opportunity to learn how American fighter planes really perform."

The spokesman, Lieut. Col. Kunio Akiyama, said that Chinese pilots who had flown American made planes in the past were so poorly trained it was impossible to judge the real fighting power of the planes they manned.

[There have been reports that American airmen were going to China to volunteer in Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's air force. The American government has announced its decision to make war materials, including planes, available to China.]

BRITISH ALLIANCE UNHURT BY BERLIN PACT, SAY TURKS

Foreign Minister Explains Meaning of Preamble.

BULLETIN.

ANKARA, Turkey, June 20 [Delayed].—A government decree read to the national assembly today prolonged the state of siege [martial law] for six months for Istanbul and zones bordering soviet Russia, Bulgaria, Syria, and Iraq.

ANKARA, Turkey, June 19 [Thursday] [Delayed]—(AP).—Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, in a typewritten statement to British and American newspaper men, today declared that the preamble of the new friendship treaty with Germany was meant to safeguard Turkey's alliance with Britain.

The statement said Saracoglu had been asked "what are the engagements which Turkey intended to safeguard in the preamble?"

His answer was: "In the first place, the treaty with Britain, and other treaties and agreements in force between ourselves and other countries."

The preamble to the treaty said in part that it was entered into "without prejudice to mutual obligations of the two lands."

Says Turkey to Stay Neutral.

The official newspaper Ulus keynoted the Turkish press reaction to the pact with this opinion:

"Turkey will remain neutral despite complications surrounding her. She will neither become an instrument of aggression against Britain, her ally, nor undertake against Germany any action incompatible with true friendship and confidence."

Some Turkish quarters expressed concern over the possible exclusion of Turkey from the provisions of the American lease-lend act now that she has signed with Germany.

A technical commission already has been sent to the United States to work out details of aid to Turkey under the act.

Following announcement of the conclusion of the treaty, hundreds of Germans were reported to have appeared on the streets of Istanbul wearing swastika buttons for the first time since the European war started.

Hear Turks Ban Newspaper.

BERLIN, June 20 (AP).—The Turkish government has banned the newspaper Tasviri Efikar, apparently as a result of the Turkish-German agreement to bring press and radio in line with the new friendship pact, DNB, official German news agency, reported today from Istanbul.

Italian Astronomer Claims Discovery of a New Comet

ROME, June 20.—A new comet has been discovered by Giovanni Bernasjoni of Como, an Italian astronomer, the Bologna correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia reported today. The comet was first noticed in the constellation of Scorpio, and on subsequent nights was traced to the constellation of Libra. Two photographs were made of it. They show that the comet is of considerable size, and can be seen with ordinary binoculars. It is traveling toward the Boreal hemisphere, the correspondent says.

LA GUARDIA IS UP IN ARMS OVER HIS RED EX-FRIENDS

CIO Union Threatens Big Subway Strike.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 20.—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia indicated today he was digging in for a finish fight with his former political pals of Moscow Red persuasion who are threatening a general transportation strike at the end of this month.

Just before he boarded a plane for Washington, D. C., and a conference on civilian defense, the New York mayor vowed that if there is a walkout on the subways on June 30, the subways will continue to operate anyway. The daily average of subway riders is 4 million, and a tieup would disrupt the city's daily life.

A Court Ruling.

Another development in the transit controversy was a denial by Supreme court Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of a motion of the Transport Workers union for permission to use loud speakers tonight at a massmeeting.

Pitted against the mayor is his one time staunch political ally, Michael J. Quill, 36 year old boss of the Transport Workers union, which is a key left wing segment of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. TWU has at stake the membership of 27,000 subway workers and nearly a half million dollars yearly in dues.

Contracts Expire Soon.

On June 30 contracts expire between TWU and two large subway systems, Interborough Rapid Transit company and the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company, which the city purchased for 326 million dollars a year ago. The city is now operating the two systems along with its own independent subway as the New York Transit system.

Quill is demanding the city take over these contracts, which would guarantee a closed shop on the unified lines. The mayor has taken the position that the city itself, not by any separate agreement with a labor union, will decide on wages, hours, and conditions of employment.

Meanwhile, preparations are going forward to provide police protection for subway employés who refuse to obey the union strike call. Plans have been drawn for emergency service.

NEGROES SET UP BOYS' TOWN; BAR NO RACE OR CREED

A boys' town in Illinois, where boys of all colors, creeds, and races, may enjoy the privileges and security of enough food to eat, clothes to wear, and beds to sleep in—is the hope of a little group organized as American Boystown, Inc.

So far the corporation has a state charter, granted three days ago; a fund of $2,500 given by the seven members of the board of directors, all of whom are colored; and 80 acres, donated yesterday. The land, an area of timber and fields near Momence, was deeded to the corporation by Mrs. Clara E. Howard at a ceremony in her real estate office at 160 North La Salle street.

"We hope to have the place ready to use a sa camp soon," said James W. Washington, the founder and general manager of the project.

Washington said he and his board are depending on subscriptions to establish the farm. He said he'd received offers of hogs, cows, and chickens when the project is ready.

Members of the Boystown, Inc., board besides Washington are: Maston Jones of Louisville, Ky., C. A. Hansberry, Willard M. Payne, Arthur Hutchinson, Mrs. Korressa Alston Fox, and James A. Carter, all of Chicago.

3 FIREMEN CUT, ONE OVERCOME IN FLAT BLAZE

Three firemen suffered cuts and one was overcome by smoke last evening during a fire in a five story apartment building at 938-44 North Wells street. A heavy pall of smoke from the tar-papered roof attracted thousands of spectators, including Mayor Kelly.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan estimated the damage at $15,000. The firemen hurt were Harold Fiebrick, 34 years old, engine company No. 14; Lieut. Thomas Johnson, 45, driver for First Deputy Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney, and Capt. Albert Heitman, 45, of Squad 1. Robert Kerr, 24, of engine company No. 28, was overcome by smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder were carried from their apartment by police. Snyder is an invalid. Benjamin Warda, 60, a WPA worker, was routed from his bath by the cry of fire and arrived at the street with his belongings in a bedsheet and his feet in size 14 shoes, borrowed from a neighbor.

Fireman Killed as Train Runs Into Herd of Cows

Carthage, Ill., June 20 (AP).—A freight train plowed into a herd of cows tonight and a fireman was killed and two crew members were injured when the locomotive and seven cars piled up in a ditch east of Burnside. The dead man was Robert Mason, 28 years old, of Peoria, fireman on the westbound freight of the Toledo, Peoria, and Western railroad. Verd Kirk, the engineer, suffered broken hands and Dudley Eldridge, head brakeman, severe burns.

YOUTH ASSURES FRENCH FUTURE, PETAIN ASSERTS

Marshal Receives a Big Welcome on Tour.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LIMOGES, France, June 20.—France's future is assured by the youth of the nation, Chief of State Petain said today at the conclusion of a two day inspection trip of youth organizations and camps which have been set up to retrieve children and young people from the effects of last year's military defeat.

Petain has spent two strenuous days in sweltering heat making speeches, receiving officials, and reviewing troops. Speaking at Gueret during a short stop en route to Vichy, the marshal told crowds that he was "sorry I cannot stay longer with you. I have news which requires me to hurry back to Vichy. You know the English are attacking us in Syria. But I am sure we will eventually have the upper hand."

Posters were noticeable in Limoges where Petain spent this morning saying "the marshal is a better judge of French honor and welfare than Roosevelt and Churchill." Parts of both Limoges and Aubusson have been known as communist centers. These cities gave Petain an unrestrained reception. Vice Premier Darlan also got a big reception in Limoges.

As usual the children were keenly stirred by the visit. All fought for places behind the troop lined streets to see the marshal, who appers to bring a sort of paternal sense of protection to the French people in their defeat.

This region shows signs of recovery from last year's economic collapse. Food is more plentiful. People appear better fed and children and young people sturdier than in some other places.

Blame Money Woes

Unsettled economic conditions in the last six years have resulted in an increase in the number of alcoholic mental cases, it was disclosed yesterday in a survey of admissions to the Cook County Psychopathic hospital.

The survey, prepared by Dr. Vladimir G. Urse, superintendent of the hospital, showed that 1,459 alcoholics were received at the hospital in 1940 and it is estimated that figure will be exceeded this year. In 1916, of 3,557 cases admitted, 339, or 9.5 per cent were alcoholics.

The percentage increased during the middle prohibition years, dropped somewhat in the early 1930s and rose sharply to 25.5 per cent in 1936. It has remained near that since, the 1,459 cases last year representing 22.7 of the 6,434 admissions.

"People worried about financial and other problems sometimes take to heavy drinking as a flight from their situation," Dr. Urse explained. "In the middle prohibition years there was an increase in alcoholism because of the bad liquor being sold. The early depression years showed a decrease because people tried to save what money they had and didn't want to spend it for liquor.

"The increase in recent years may be attributed to the feeling of some of these people that: 'Why try to save money in these times? Might as well drink.'

"I do not believe that war or the fear of war will result in a great rise in insanity as people are being gradually conditioned to that possibility."

MICHIGAN GROWS OWN CELERY, BUT BUYS FLORIDA'S

BY GAIL COMPTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 20.—This is the heart of the muckland country. Miles of the rich, black soil stretch out on each side of the highway. In it grows some of the best celery in the United States. Also the area is the scene of one of the strange paradoxes of farming.

On street corners small boys sell enticing, crisp Michigan celery for 15 cents a bunch. But in the groceries housewives can buy celery for only 10 cents a bunch—and it's not Michigan celery. It is nice fresh celery straight from Florida, and it sells consistently lower than the home grown produce.

Why? Local producers say that the Florida growing season is longer; that Florida celery can be raised more cheaply; that Florida growers, when they know the Michigan celery is about ready for market, ship up carloads of their own and place it in storage so that the local growers must fight against large stocks already here. And similar conditions afflict many other truck garden crops raised here, say the natives.

2 ALERT AURORA BANK EMPLOYES BALK ROBBERY

Two alert employés of the Merchants' National bank of Aurora yesterday frustrated a well laid plot of thieves to exchange a wad of chewing gum for several hundred dollars of the bank's deposits. That's not all; after stopping the theft they pursued one of the plotters down Aurora's Broadway and captured him after he had taken refuge in a 5 and 10 cent store.

The man arrested, who said he is Charles Waller, 50 years old, of New York City, pushed a stick with the gum on it thru Teller Henry Fletcher's window after Fletcher had been lured out by a telephone call. A $500 bundle of bills stuck to the gum, but it dropped off when another teller, William Robbie Jr., saw hi mand shouted an alarm.

It was Fletcher who tackled the thief and brought him down. The police were looking last night for a man who was in the bank and is believed to have been a confederate of Waller. Bank officials said they had been warned that the chewing gum trick, an old one, had cost a Peoria bank $1,600 recently.

Axis Consulates Fail to Fly Argentine Flag; StirCrowds

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 20.—Various incidents were reported to have occurred in the city of Cordoba owing to the failure of the German and Italian consulates there to display the Argentine flag today, which is a national holiday. Crowds gathered and tried to tear down the German and Italian flags flown by the consulates, and expressed disapproval of the attitude of the representatives of the axis powers.

SENATE PASSES RELIEF BUDGET OF $936,390,000

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—Without a record vote the senate approved today a relief fund of $936,390,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, but ignored President Roosevelt's request for elimination of a number of existing restrictions on WPA.

The measure now goes back to the house for consideration of $50,485,000 of senate increases as well as numerous other amendments.

Both the senate and house approved the 875 million dollars asked by the President to provide WPA jobs for an estimated 1,000,000 persons during the 12 months beginning July 1. This was a sharp reduction below the 1 billion 381 million dollars available for WPA during the present fiscal year, when an average of 1,700,000 persons were employed.

WPA headquarters already has notified state and local offices that some 400,000 persons must be dropped from relief jobs by the first week in July.

The senate approved a house provision in the bill forbidding continued WPA employment of David Lasser, former head of the Workers' alliance, at $4,400 a year.

CAR LINE OWNERS TO GET UNIFIED TRACTION PLAN

Chicago's traction unification ordinance, passed by the city council Thursday night, will be submitted to the surface and elevated lines' 75,000 securities holders, Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe said yesterday.

Judge Igoe, who has jurisdiction over the lines, has set a court hearing on the ordinance for Friday. To become effective, the ordinance must be accepted by the securities holders and approved by the people at a referendum contemplated for November.

Submission of the ordinance to the investors' groups will bring Albert W. Harris, Chicago banker, into the forefront of the traction dispute. Harris is chairman of the largest securities group, representing $41,700,000 of first mortgage bonds of the Chicago Surface Lines.

The Harris committee has pending before Judge Igoe a petition for a separate court reorganization of the surface lines. Such reorganization would discard any merger with the "L" and would mean rejection of the city's ordinance.

Pryor Resigns G. O. P. Post to Give Time to Air Job

Bridgeport, Conn., June 20 [Special].—Samuel F. Pryor, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, today resigned as national committeeman from Connecticut, in order to give all his time to his new duties as vice president of Pan American Airways. The state committee will nominate his successor Monday.

Save Our Republic

WHO IS FOR WAR?

The conscripts now in the army have been invited to enlist for three years, but only a few seem to have accepted the invitation, according to a Washington dispatch. The vast majority, it appears, wish to return to civil life as soon as their year of training is completed.

Here is another straw in the wind to indicate that the war which Mr. Roosevelt is preparing is unpopular. If the people of this country, and particularly its young men, thought their country was in danger or believed in the crusade to save democracy, civilization, etc., the newspapers would be filled with stories of boys fibbing about their ages in order to get a uniform and a gun. The draft boards would have to spend a great deal of time hearing the appeals of young men against their deferments. Every available evidence suggests all too plainly that the young men of the country and their parents have accepted conscription as a duty to be discharged, but with the fewest exceptions they pray for peace.

The war enthusiasm is pretty closely confined to the old men in the executive departments 'n Washington. They have reduced our government to colonial status and accordingly they are longing for the day when the shooting begins. The decision for American participation in the war was made, so far as they are concerned, in September, 1939, when hostilities began in Europe. Our government was not consulted at the time, but the simple colonials of Washington do not feel that there was any need to consult our wishes. When the mother country goes to war, the colonies go to war, too, as a matter of course.

The American people did not and do not share this humiliating point of view. That is why the administration for many months has been preaching fear and hate, trying to inflame the war spirit. The campaign has been singularly unsuccessful. There is no more enthusiasm for Mr. Roosevelt's crusade now than there was 21 months ago.

In one sector, to be sure, the war shouters have made progress. They have Park avenue in their pocket. A good many of the New York millionaires are in a fever of excitement. Some of them latterly have been subsidizing or taking over newspapers in various parts of the country to spread war propaganda and drown out the voices of Americanism. The Park avenue millionaires are about the only men and women who have been won over to the crusade, but it is improbable that many of them will be disemboweled in the fighting.

A JOB WELL DONE.

Any one who had anything to do with transportation during the first world war remembers the nightmare produced by the railroad administration when the government took over the carriers and attempted to operate them. He recalls the traffic congestion at all important terminals produced by hysterical priority orders and the resulting insufficient freight car supply, bad order equipment, and general demoralization of the whole system.

The present attempt by politicians and socialistic experimenters to put the nation in a state of defense recalls the inefficiency established by the railroad administration 23 years ago.

The railroads have not yet been taken over by the government under any of the increased powers granted the executive. The fact that they have been allowed to operate under their own management and in line with the best American traditions of private enterprise, in spite of the rate regulation of the Interstate Commerce commission, provides a striking comparison between the accomplishment of private business and the utter confusion of government operation.

The American efforts at rearmament began about a year ago. Railroad managements, foreseeing the part they would have to play in transportation, immediately and efficiently prepared for the task. By this fall they will have added 195,000 new and rebuilt cars since the war started in Europe. They have also put their equipment in repair so that today there are fewer bad order freight cars in the United States than ever before in history. They have delivered an average of 5,000 cars of freight a day to more than 150 government construction projects without loss of time due to failure of rail transportation. During the last war the big problem was congestion at the Atlantic seaboard. Few people realize that export freight is now flowing thru these ports in a volume which at times is almost as great as the war year of 1918. In addition to all this freight the railroads have carried more than a million soldiers without any disruption to regular passenger schedules. As a matter of fact, in 1941 the railroads have moved nearly 25 per cent more tons of freight more miles than they moved in the same months of the year 1918, without any congestion, delay, or car shortages.

Voluntary coöperation between the railroads and national associations of shippers, port authorities, and steamship lines has practically eliminated the old practice under the railroad administration of using freight cars for warehousing purposes.

In addition to the extra effort brought about by the national defense program, the railroads have adequately taken care of the normal transportation of the country. Realizing that a large part of the 1940 wheat crop is still in storage in the wheat belt, they have built up a reserve supply of about 25,000 grain cars in the southwest for the movement of the new crop.

In the words of J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, "Rail transportation is adequate to meet present demands. It will be kept adequate. For two years the railroads have met the rising demands of commerce and the multiplying needs of defense. They will continue to do so."

We are confident Mr. Pelley's prediction will come true, if his industry is able to escape from the dictatorial rule of Washington.

LOOK WHO TALKS.

Several figures in the national administration, most recently Emil Schram, chairman of RFC, have been making speeches asserting that there is a crying need for the government to take control of the extension of consumer credit. The idea is that Washington thinks that autos, furniture, iceboxes and engagement rings are being sold with less paid down than should be permitted and that payments are being extended over longer periods than a law should allow.

Look who's talking! The burocrats want to have the power to raise the standards for instalment consumer credit! Why, it is the government itself which over the past 8 years has broken down the high standards which previously existed for time payments!

Before the government stepped into the picture it was not uncommon for concerns selling furnaces, pumps, roofing materials, electric fixtures, and plumbing to give credit to customers of good reputation. They might have as much as a year to pay off the balance of a bill after a quarter had been paid down. But since July, 1934, under title I of FHA, the government has been fostering and underwriting the extension of credit with no down payments at all for exactly these purposes; and instead of requiring payments to be made in 12 months, according to custom and prudent business practice, the government has approved letting such debts run on for as much as 3 years.

Nor was this all. Before the government began to prescribe what consumer instalment credit terms should be, a man who built a house was required to have a substantial equity in order to get a loan. He had to pay down at least 25 per cent, and could have 15 years to pay off the balance. The government steps in and underwrites loans, but instead of requiring 25 per cent approves of 10, and the 15 year payment period is extended to 25 years.

The government has been taking whopping losses on this lax credit business. Its losses are bound to be much greater when times get tough. While the government continues to do business on this basis and refuses to modify its practices in any particular, leading New Deal figures have the gall to make plans to regulate all other instalment business on the ground that it is necessary to cut down in promoting the national defense.

In times like the present, when incomes are swollen by the industrial boom, it is good practice to tighten instalment credit terms. That is already being done by well managed mercantile concerns. Moreover, leading trade associations are studying the problem and will suggest standards of good credit practice to their members. But for congress to empower the administration to do anything about it would be a grievous error.

THE BALANCE SHEET OF THE SEAWAY.

The house committee on rivers and harbors has been conducting a hearing on the St. Lawrence power scheme. Ageing members of the cabinet have testified that the huge expenditure—huge even by contemporary standards—is justified as an essential preparation for a war which they believe to be imminent. Almost in the same breath they confess that it will be four or five years before a kilowatt of power will be delivered and before one of the shipyards on the lakes can deliver a ship to the sea.

To hear these eminent experts tell it, this country which is facing an acute shortage of raw materials of many sorts can afford to squander tens of thousands of tons of scarce metals and building materials in a scheme which will yield no dividends until their war has been won or lost.

The old saying that "there is lying, perjury, and expert testimony" has its relevance to much that is found in the record of the hearing. The plain fact is that the scheme, far from promoting America's military preparation, will retard it by diverting men and materials from essential to nonessential purposes.

An honest appraisal of the seaway would show that the only interests which are clearly going to benefit from it are a few paper companies. One of them is the Ontario Paper company, a subsidiary of this newspaper. We would save a good deal of money if we could use larger ships to carry pulpwood up the St. Lawrence from Quebec. Another beneficiary would be the Hammermill Paper company, whose mill is at Erie, Pa. A few mills on Lake Michigan which normally use imported pulp might also benefit. We do not believe the advantage which we and a few others similarly situated would gain warrants the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars by the taxpayers of the United States on a scheme which has nothing else to recommend it.

RADIO FOR LIFEBOATS.

Dispatches from Washington say that the government is giving serious consideration to THE TRIBUNE'S suggestion that lifeboats carry radio sending apparatus. If such a regulation had been in force, the passengers and crew of the Robin Moor might have been spared many days at sea in open boats.

The suggestion is a sensible one for peace as well as war. It is said that the Bremen's lifeboats were radio equipped, and that advantage was taken of that fact to drop a boat and send signals from it to confuse the pursuers when the Bremen was making its dash across the Atlantic. However that may be, the cost of installing a simple apparatus in lifeboats should not be great in proportion to the advantages. Persons obliged to take to the lifeboats would avoid a great deal of mental suffering if they knew that they could communicate their plight and their position to nearby ships and that the chances of rescue would be greatly increased.

It is remarkable that so few ship owners and no governments have thought of providing this additional safeguard. We should be ashamed to learn that the Germans were so far ahead of us in adopting this common sense precaution.

INSULTING LATIN AMERICA.

[Detroit Free Press.]

A resident of Buenos Aires told a conference of women in New York the other day that Latin America is not flattered by the appointment of Douglas Fairbanks Jr. as a special envoy from the United States.

"It would have been so much more a compliment to us," she said, "if a scientist, an educator, or a jurist had been named to this post."

Sending glamor boys and girls from Hollywood to woo our Latin American friends won't increase their respect for us. Argentinians and other Latin Americans resent being treated like children. They don't like our baby talk. They know that most of our Pan-American propaganda is mush. They want to talk business. And if we are not willing to do that, we might as well give up hope of drawing them closer to ourselves.

FRONT VIEWS AND PROFILES

By June Provines

Good-by, First Infantry Armory.

The days of another historic Chicago building are over with the removal of the Dandy First Illinois infantry from the old armory at 16th and Michigan by June 30, and plans made for its razing. Many men prominent in Chicago's history passed in and out of the armory doors as members of the Dandy First, now the 131st. A. C. McClurg, Charles Fitzsimmons, Henry L. Turner, A. B. Horder, Frank O. Lowden, Graeme Stewart, and Joseph B. Sanborn, the outfit's wartime colonel, were among them. More than 25,000 men have passed thru the ranks in the 65 years of the regiment's history. And most of them, old timers will tell you, have slipped out the alley door of the armory to go to Devic's place, near by, for a few cool ones and some of Devic's famous pate-de-foie gras. Devic was a Frenchman whose place was torn down some years ago.

It was from the First Regiment armory that Col. Turner marched his regiment out for the Santiago campaign of the Spanish-American war, and it was thru these doors, soon to be torn down, that Col. Sanborn marched his men to go to the World war. The Dandy First will be quartered in the Northwest armory. But the old timers, the ones who are members of the Society of Santiago de Cuba, won't like it.

PROMISE OF DELIVERY.

Style of 1941.

Keep your temper, gentle sir,
Writes the manufacturer,
Tho your goods are overdue
For a month or maybe two,
We can't help it; please don't swear;
Labor's scarce and metal's rare.
Can't get steel, can't get dies;
These are facts, we tell no lies.

Harry's drafted, so is Bill,
All our work is now uphill;
So your order, we're afraid,
May be still a bit delayed.
But you'll get it, don't be vexed;
Maybe this month, maybe next!
Keep on hoping, don't say die,
We'll fill your order . . . by and by.

Making It Easy.

Frederic Woodward, vice president emeritus of the University of Chicago and director of the 50th anniversary celebration, received a letter of greeting and congratulation to the university from the school of oriental and African studies of the University of London. It was written in Arabic. But the writer had thoughtfully included a translation—in Latin.

Stray Dogs.

A tale that reads like a detective story, but that concerns the efforts of two animal lovers to rescue two homeless, frightened dogs from the streets of Chicago, has a happy conclusion. Both dogs are now safe at the North Side Animal shelter on North Damen avenue, from which it is hoped they will be adopted into homes. The plight of one dog, a black collie, was reported to Mrs. Dorothy Eagles, founder of the shelter, and she spent four days trying to catch him, finally accomplishing it by borrowing a baby buggy and wheeling it thru Lincoln park because she saw that the bewildered animal tried several times to attach himself to nursemaids wheeling baby carriages. When the dog approached her as she was wheeling the baby carriage she still could not catch him. Finally she managed to feed him food with a sleeping potion in it. Then she followed him until he became so drowsy he sank down to go to sleep. He now is in the shelter, happy and tame, waiting for a home. Mrs. Eagles' theory is that the dog once belonged to a family in which there was a baby.

The other dog, a German shepherd, was caught after four months of effort on the part of Mrs. Dorothy Billinger, superintendent at the shelter. He had been seen thrown from an automobile last February at Kildare and Foster avenues, and had been running wild in the neighborhood, getting occasional scraps of food from neighbors, ever since. Recently a police officer shot at him because of the rabies scare, but the dog ran away with the bullet in his neck. He was caught also by feeding him meat with a sleeping potion in it and taken to the shelter, where he was given aid by the shelter veterinary, Dr. George T. Harz.

"I haven't. That's what bothers me," he replied.

AUSTRALIA WAR PLANTS HUM

BY W. A. O'CARROLL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia [By Mail].—The swing-over in Australia from peacetime industry to war production was handicapped in the initial stages by lack of skilled labor, machinery, and tools. Results achieved so far represent a brave showing. Momentum is being gathered rapidly.

Sir Philip Goldfinch, director of the munitions program in New South Wales, said: "In six months Australia will have made enough specialized machine tools, unknown 18 months ago, to more than double our present war effort."

Dr. Evatt and John Beasley, Labor party representatives on the advisory war council, admit that progress has been made, but contend that "confusion, lack of direction, and inefficient use of man power are still fatal characteristics of the munitions program."

To release more plants and skilled men for the production of war equipment, the commonwealth cabinet has agreed to the principle of gradually switching over production from nonessentials. Certain classes of goods will be declared luxury articles under the national security act, giving the government power to control production of these articles and to curtail them where necessary. Production of luxuries will be restricted to a small number of factories. Standardization, as well as rationing of a wide range of articles for civilian use, will be introduced. In some cases types, designs, and quality of various articles will be standardized to simplify production.

Action taken so far to implement the initial stages of this scheme include: [1] Power to order manufacturers to alter the type of their production; [2] curtailment of the supply of a number of essential raw materials, mostly metals.

Under the new scheme nonessential articles will be classed under a priority system. Australia has been asked by England to assume responsibility for the supply of equipment of empire forces east of Suez. A census is being taken of the three fighting services at home and abroad to discover the number of skilled tradesmen who have enlisted and are fighting. Many will be withdrawn for factory work.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

CARELESS DISHWASHING MAY SPREAD GERMS.

Most of us keep well, despite the fact that we harbor many types of germs. We maintain the body in a high state of resistance with so much fighting power that our own pet "bugs" within the nasal passages, throat, etc., are under complete control. But, just as an inquisitive maverick can stampede a herd of steers after they have been bedded down for the night, so microbes from some one else may find us quite unprepared for battle. We just aren't immune to newcomers. This explains why we do not choose to place our lips against contaminated glasses or cups, or insert dirty spoons into our mouths.

The summertime is the season of the greatest danger. Filthy flies and other vermin abound. Furthermore, we expose ourselves to numerous sanitary hazards. We take more food and drink at soda fountains and wayside eating stands. When a rush is on, we may well question the care with which the eating utensils are renovated. Some of us wouldn't have much appetite could we observe what goes on behind the scenes.

For a high degree of cleanliness, expensive chromeplated equipment is not required. The essentials are plenty of soap and boiling water. Fluid that is lukewarm is a cordial invitation to bacteria to grow and otherwise disport themselves. They can hide under grease and hence the necessity for a chemical which will loosen the layers of oily material. In addition, there must be a generous amount of steaming water for rinsing. Thereafter, we may be reasonably certain that our dishes and silverware will be incapable of spreading colds, influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, and many other contagious maladies.

Every one who goes away from the table leaves numerous trademarks. Not only will finger prints remain on the handles of knives, forks, and spoons, but microbes from the lips will be found on cups and tumblers. In a restaurant which was tested recently, 8 out of 62 supposedly clean glasses supplied cultures of the spiral-shaped "critter" which is responsible for trench mouth.

In another high class café, where only washed articles were examined, a single swab revealed from 20 to 280 invaders of various types. Had the entire rim of the vessel been examined, these totals would have been multiplied at least 10 times. Now, the above represents reasonably good washing, at least when compared with the conditions found in another group of restaurants where glasses showed, on the average, 1,415 bacteria; spoons, 2,011, and forks, 3,095.

What is the ideal temperature for washing? It must be high enough to melt all fats but not so hot that albumin will coat the article with a thin, hard film. The best level is 125 degrees Fahrenheit. While all germs will not be killed, it will remove completely the particles from glazed surfaces. Some mechanical devices call for at least 140 degrees and here a great deal of bacterial decapitation is accomplished.

Next in importance come the chemicals. Soap and sodium metaphosphate are recommended. These will prevent the formation of veneers beneath which organisms may hide. The rinsing liquid, however, must be not lower than 170 degrees. Then, if exposure is long enough, there should be no necessity for wiping. Towels are not sterile after they have been used on a single dish.

We must recall that the dishwater should be changed frequently, particularly if a large batch is put thru after we have had company for dinner. While machines are useful, desirable, and convenient, they are no better than an open pan unless the water is heated to the desired point. They must be inspected from time to time to make sure that the nozzles have not become plugged.

Few of us need concern ourselves about contracting a sore throat or mouth infection from tableware if the cleaning process has been thoro.

COLON POCKET.

R. C. writes: The doctor tells me I have a pocket in my intestine? What does this mean?

REPLY.

What for—money, marbles, or chalk?

He probably refers to a diverticulum, an outpouching of the colon wall. Good management demands the avoidance of constipation and the omission of roughage [fiber] from the diet. As a rule, these lesions, if small, give very little trouble.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

AND MORE PENSIONS TO COME.

Chicago, June 17.—THE TRIBUNE reports the passage by the house in Washington of a bill seeking to add to the pension rolls some 143,300 widows, children, and parents of World war veterans at a cost, the first year, of some 44 million dollars. The real cost will come in later years as veterans continue to die.

Americans would not begrudge pensions to the widows and children of veterans who died in action or because of disabilities arising from service to their country. But these have long since been provided for, altho not generously because dead men have no votes. This bill will care for widows and children of all veterans—regardless of how long they served and irrespective of the cause of their death.

Behind this bill is the most feared lobby in Washington. It is the same lobby which in 1936 caused the passage—over the President's veto—of the bonus bill which cost the citizens of the United States 3 billion 732 million dollars. It is the same lobby, grown more wily, and with the hysteria of the time playing into its hands. Its present strength can be gauged by the fact that this new holdup passed the house by a vote of 144 to 4.

The next step on the program of these professional pension grabbers is "protection" for all veterans, meaning, in the words of the legislative platform of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, "honorably discharged, 65 year old, 90 day World war veterans to receive $60 a month." The ultimate cost of that would exceed 20 billion dollars.

The majority of the American Legionnaires are not back of this legislation, but some of their lobbyists—acting in their name—are. It is high time for individual veterans to raise their voices in protest against becoming, in the eyes of their countrymen, mercenary soldiers. Their patriotism in 1917 and 1918 was not for sale.

HARRY T. NEWCOMB II.

A RICH MAN'S OPPORTUNITY.

Chicago, June 18.—I am an old woman, over 70 years old. It is hard to find a cheap, suitable home. I was wondering why some millionaire couldn't leave in his memory a building just for old widows; not an institution, but a big apartment building; not for profit but just to get by with expenses, say $25 a month furnished or $20 unfurnished.

It would not have to be so fine, but comfortable; one room apartments, in-a-door bed, bath, and kitchen; also office service and a little grocery and drug store in the building; also a doctor in case an old woman got sick in the night.

There is nothing like that in this city, and it would be more worthy of some one's memory than beautifying the city; a blessing for the nice class of old women who don't want to ask for charity. I hope this won't sound foolish to your readers.

ONE OF YOUR READERS.

TRIBUNE WAS NOT GUILTY.

Chicago, June 16.—Charging 10 cents for a 5 cent bag of peanuts won't lure people into the public parks, but the park concessionaires persist in doing it. Why the public should be charged more for candies where its taxes are paying the caterer's overhead is not clear. At Sunday's regatta the crowd was blaming the Tribune management for the gouge.

HOW LIKE TODAY'S EFFORT!

Chicago, June 18.—In 1925 Hilaire Belloc, the English historian, published a book called "Cruise of the Nona." It is about the first World war. Following is an excerpt from that book:

"The most comic part of the affair was the attitude toward America. We dared not insult America, for we were naturally as keen on getting American help as is a drowning man on catching a deck chair.

"In their ignorance many people came to believe that it was the duty of the Americans to come over and help, and what was more astonishing still, it was represented to them as a matter of life and death—not to us but to themselves.

"The Americans were told [heaven knows whether any of them believed it!] that if the Germans, Turks, Austrians, Bohemians, Slovenes, Croats, Bulgarians, et cetera, won in their push against the English, French, and Italians—that if the half-baked won against the baked—the next thing would be a sailing of the conquerors over the sea for the rude domination of Scranton, Pa. Fiddlesticks!

"But the people did really talk like that. They shook their fingers at the United States and said: 'It will be your turn next!'"

LOWEST IN THIEVING.

Chicago, June 19.—As this column in THE TRIBUNE is for readers to express their opinions on various subjects, I wish to express mine concerning the lowest crime a person can possibly commit.

In one single week I have replaced three flags on my father's grave. He was a soldier in the World war, and some low sneak stole every one of the flags.

A WAY INTO "UNION NOW."

Chicago, June 19.—All that is necessary for Union Now is for President Roosevelt, under his full emergency power, to proclaim George VI., king of the United States; the king in addition to appoint him duke of Albemarle, and we would be just another British colony as Union Now desires.

REPLY TO ARBUTHNOT.

Chicago, June 16.—If Edmund Arbuthnot, who writes to your column, wants to celebrate the king's birthday so much he should go back to England, as he is no American. May the American flag float forever on our Independence day.

MRS P. LAUTH.

THE LOWLY DANDELION.

Chicago, June 17.—I was thinking as I walked along the east side of Michigan boulevard from Randolph street, south, that it would be an excellent idea if the dandelion plants could be made of some use to people; either pulled up and made accessible to families who cannot afford greens in their diet or sold to distillers for wine. Instead of this they are mowed partly down by lawn cuttings and grow again in the grass. In these days of vitamines and mineral salts it seems a pity they go to waste and mar the lawn.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

PRORATING TAXES.

Chicago, June 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In October, 1940, we bought our present home. All bills were prorated up to the 30th of September including taxes. Not knowing the exact sum, taxes were figured on the 1939 basis. Just lately we received the 1940 bill which showed an increase of $15 over the 1939 taxes. Will the previous owner be liable for the difference for the nine months he owned the house, or do we pay the whole amount? No mention of this was made at the closing of the deal.

M. G.

The deal could have been handled treating the previous taxes as a tentative figure to be adjusted when the new bills were out or treating the previous bill as the definite settlement figure, each party taking his gamble. It seems probable that you should regard the transaction as closed.

TRUSTEE'S DEED.

Chicago, June 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please tell me the difference between a [1] trustee's deed and a [2] title and trust deed, if any.

1. The trustee's deed is a deed in which the grantor is a trustee.

2. This expression is not commonly used. It is not clear whether you mean a deed prepared on a printed form of the title company. If you will state the facts on which your questions arise, we would be in a better position to advise you.

INDIANA REACHES FOR CALDWELL AS FUGITIVE CONVICT

...cts to Identify Union Czar as Pollack.

Authorities at Crown Point, Ind., disclosed yesterday that a determined effort is being made to compel Max Caldwell, ousted Chicago labor czar, to serve a six months prison term to which he was sentenced under the name of Max Pollack for liquor law violation in 1925.

Ben Schwartz, assistant to Prosecutor Felix Kaul, said affidavits now are being prepared to prove legally that Caldwell and Pollack are the same man. When this has been done, he added, an effort to extradite Caldwell will be started.

No Record of Service.

"The sentence of the court ordered Pollack to the state prison farm," Schwartz said. "There is no record that he ever served there or in any other Indiana institution. If the requisite proof of identity is obtained, we shall ask a recommitment and try to make Pollack pay this debt to society."

Pollack first was convicted in the City court of East Chicago and was fined $200 and sentenced to the prison term. On an appeal to the Criminal court at Crown Point, the fine was upheld and the prison sentence suspended during good behavior. The prison term was restored after Pollack was accused of again violating liquor laws.

Dozen Police Identify Him.

Witnesses who have identified Caldwell, who for five years was business manager and boss of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, include nearly a dozen policemen, an attorney who represented Pollack in 1925, and Pollack's former wife, from whom he was divorced in 1927.

The Clerks' international has taken over operation of the local and appointed a committee headed by Harry O'Reilly, regional director of organization for the American Federation of Labor, to be temporary managers. Attention was called to the high handed reign of Caldwell when some 5,600 members of the local revolted and demanded a democratic management.

The rank and file members have filed a suit in Circuit court demanding that Caldwell and his aids account for funds estimated at $910,000, and have supported their case with affidavits alleging sluggings and other irregularities by the Caldwell forces.

Marks Twenty Years on the Bench

Elected in 1921

Judge Philip L. Sullivan found the chambers of his federal courtroom banked with flowers yesterday in celebration of his 20th anniversary as a judge. Judge Sullivan was elected to the Circuit court in 1921 and served until his appointment in 1933 to the federal bench. Among those to congratulate him were his daughter, Virginia, a student at St. Mary's college; his clerk, William Keeley, and his secretary, Miss Celia Howard.

CHILDREN'S AID DISPUTE PUT UP TO WASHINGTON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—In a last minute effort to prevent the defeat of the bills to bring Illinois under the federal aid to dependent children [ADC] system, Gov. Dwight H. Green tonight dispatched a committee of three to Washington by airplane.

The governor's own party in the senate has balked emphatically against the proposal that 8 million dollars be transferred from the allotment for general relief to the children's aid program for the next biennium. If the state appropriates that amount it will be matched by a similar sum from federal funds. But according to all rulings up to this time the money must be handled by the state and unless it is, the federal funds will not be available.

State management means that the dependents would be transferred from the jurisdiction of their home counties and this outlook stirred up the county judges and supervisors from every county in the state to stage an immense protest here.

Because of such protests the Republicans in the state senate have taken a strong position against the ADC bills, which have passed the house.

WIFE TELLS HOW EVANS SLEW HER SON AND MOTHER

Testifies He Threatened Her in Divorce Row.

Mrs. Nedra Evans, a brunette model 22 years old, related before Judge Julius Miner in Criminal court yesterday, with a dry-eyed calm that was broken only twice, how her husband, William, 25, stabbed her mother and her baby son to death last March 22.

She also told how he lunged at her to wound her with the knife in attempting to carry out his threat to kill her, the baby, and himself if she carried out her plans to divorce him.

Guilty Plea Entered.

Evans has pleaded guilty. Judge Miner, who is hearing evidence in mitigation or aggravation of the crime, will give his verdict at the end of the trial. The court warned Evans that in admitting his guilt in the double murder he was placing his life in jeopardy. Evans is expected to rely on medical testimony intended to show emotional instability.

Mrs. Evans, married three years ago, told how she left her husband last March 7 because he had struck her and been inconsiderate. She said that when he lost his job he suggested she go to work.

She and the baby were living in the home of her parents at 3208 Grove avenue, Berwyn, when her husband visited her two days before the double slaying.

Knife Found After Visit.

Evans demanded that she go back to him, Mrs. Evans said, and it was only after he had gone that her father found a kitchen knife near where he had been sitting.

On the day of the slayings, Mrs. Evans said, she had agreed to take the baby, Douglas, 2, to a doctor in the company of her mother, Mrs. William Sanders, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. William M. Evans Sr. Evans, who had been in Detroit seeking a job, arrived at the Sanders home with his mother.

"Then what happened?" asked Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Freedman.

"He stabbed me," said Mrs. Evans, bursting into tears.

A recess was called to permit her to regain her composure. Resuming her testimony Mrs. Evans said that her husband then turned on her mother, who had run to the telephone, and stabbed her.

"I ran out to call the police," Mrs. Evans continued. "When I returned I found my mother dead on the stairs and the baby, also wounded, trying to crawl down the stairway."

Evans inflicted a superficial cut on his abdomen in trying to end his own life. He was subdued and disarmed by Mrs. Evans' father and three other men. The baby died the following day.

The trial will be resumed Monday, when Mrs. Evans will be cross-examined.

ICKES PUTS UP HIS WINNETKA PLACE FOR SALE AS SUBDVISION

Secretary of Interior Ickes yesterday put his 5½ acre Winnetka property on the market. The Realty Finance corporation announced that the land, fronting on Tower road, is for sale and "can be subdivided into 11 half acre home sites." No price was named.

Until a few years ago when Ickes remarried and bought a Maryland estate where he, and his wife, and their two children live, he occupied his Winnetka house occasionally. Following his second marriage he moved most of the furniture and furnishings to Maryland.

It contains 16 rooms and six baths and was built 25 years ago at a reported cost of $80,000. It is understood that the house will not figure in the sale price. Ickes hoped, it was said, to sell the entire holding intact to a subdivider. His decision to sell followed the announcement last month by C. A. Hemphill and associates that they had acquired the seven acre Warren Lamson property, just east of and adjoining the Ickes' property, and would subdivide it into a half million dollar residential development.

DICK TRACY—The Czar

WHILE TRIGGER DOOM MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM THE FARM, LET US LOOK INTO A CERTAIN FLAT IN THE CITY.
YEAH, HE HAD A LITTLE CAR ACCIDENT, CZAR. HIS CAR BURNED---HE WAS WITH THE CONSTABLE'S DAUGHTER.
SO I SEE BY THE PAPERS.
BY THE WAY, BARKER, WHERE IS TRIGGER'S APARTMENT?
HE'S GOT A HIDEOUT ON EIGHTY-SIXTH STREET, CZAR, RIGHT ACROSS THE STREET.
OF COURSE HE'S MUFFED OUR SLOT MACHINE RACKET AROUND GEORGETOWN FOR MONTHS TO COME. I THINK I'D BETTER CALL ON TRIGGER.

FRIML, HERBERT, ROMBERG MUSIC ON W-G-N TONIGHT

Col. McCormick Speaks on Chicagoland Hour.

Music from the pens of Victor Herbert, Sigmund Romberg, and Rudolph Friml will be featured on the Chicagoland hour over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system from 9 to 10 o'clock tonight. Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be the speaker.

Michael Wilkomirski.

The vocal soloists will be Marion Claire and Attilio Baggiore, who has just returned from a week's vacation. Michael Wilkomirski, concertmaster of the W-G-N orchestra, will play Friml's "Chansonette." Henry Weber is to direct the orchestra.

Miss Claire to Sing 2 Solos.

Miss Claire will sing "One Kiss" from Romberg's "New Moon," and Nevin's "Rosary." Baggiore's solos are "Roses of Picardy" by Haydn-Wood and Posford's "The World Is Mine Tonight."

Miss Claire and Baggiore will sing selections from "The Desert Song," including "Romance," "Song of the Riffs," and "Desert Song," with the chorus assisting. They also will sing selections from Friml's "High Jinks."

"March of Toys" Featured.

The orchestra will feature Herbert's "March of the Toys," and Signorelli's "Park Avenue Fantasy."

William A. Bacher, chief of programs and productions at W-G-N, will produce the show.

TWO ARE KILLED AS CAR IS STRUCK ON RAIL CROSSING

Two men were killed yesterday when their car was struck by a Chicago bound Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at the Washington street crossing in East Chicago.

The dead were Joseph Colangelo, 20, a truck driver and driver of the car, 2439 Fillmore street, and Frank Romano, 20, a laborer, of 3616 Lexington street. The crossing is protected only by electric flasher signals.

Peter Wagner, 27 years old, of 1315 West 58th street, a chauffeur, was injured fatally last night when the motorcycle on which he was riding struck a truck at Racine avenue and 57th street. The motorcycle driver, Julius Oloier, 22, of 4818 South Racine avenue, was injured seriously. The truck driver was Fred Emick, 67, of 5952 South Ada street.

An unidentified man, about 45 years old, died early today in St. Mary's hospital of injuries received Thursday when he was struck at Damen and Grand avenues by an automobile driven by Myron Goetz, 29, of 2520 North 74th court, Elmwood Park.

Louis Ranger, 41, of 5457 Lake Park avenue, a janitor, was killed when the car in which he was riding collided with another machine at 111th street and Cicero avenue. Ranger's brother, Lawrence, 43, of 1509 East 54th street, driver of the car, was injured. Norman O. Middle, 20, of 3407 South Claremont avenue, driver of the second car, also was injured.

Ben Zarek, 56, of 3224 South Morgan street, died in Evangelical hospital of injuries incurred May 8 when he was struck near his home by the automobile of a hit and run driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 418 persons were killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 306 were killed in Chicago, where 11,118 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

CHARGES SOME RADIO CHAINS USE COERCION

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—A Baltimore, Md., radio station executive charged today that certain of the large networks had used coercion to "force their affiliates to do their bidding."

Hope H. Barrou Jr., executive manager of WFBR, gave this testimony after four owners of small stations had told the senate interstate commerce committee that new rules promulgated by the Federal Communications commission threatened their connections with networks and might damage their financial position.

Barrou told the committee the Baltimore station was leaving the National Broadcasting company's Red network Oct. 1, to become affiliated with Mutual Broadcasting system because NBC was transferring its Red network to WBAL, a competing station. He said NBC had offered his station a guarantee of $100,000 in the first year if it would affiliate with the NBC Blue network, adding that he was certain the guarantee had been offered "for the purpose of preventing our affiliation with Mutual."

Foreign War Veterans Urge Ouster of Madam Perkins

Henderson, Ky., June 20 (AP).—The Veterans of Foreign Wars in state encampment here today adopted resolutions urging removal from office of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and deportation of Fritz Kuhn, former German-American bund chief, and Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader. Dismissal of Madam Perkins was asked on grounds "of her demonstrated inability to conduct the office and her sympathy for known subversive elements and causes." Alleged un-American activities were cited as the reason for deporting Kuhn and Bridges.

CLOSE OUTER DRIVE TOMORROW.

The Outer drive will be closed from 6 to 10 a. m. tomorrow between Ohio and Randolph streets while repairs are made on the Outer drive bridge. Motorists should detour on Michigan avenue.

U. OF I. STUDENT IS ELECTROCUTED ON SUMMER JOB

William Schenck Jr., University of Illinois engineer student, was electrocuted yesterday while at work on a summer job he held with an air conditioning manufacturing plant at 1800 Foster avenue. Schenck lived at 1955 Balmoral avenue.

Company officials told Summerdale police Schenck was using an electric drill when one hand touched an overhead pipe. Workers called a fire department inhalator squad, which tried in vain to revive him.

Schenck, a senior student at the engineering college, would have been graduated next February. His father is a foreman of electricians employed by the Chicago Surface Lines.

DR. F. M. EDWARDS' DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION
Benefits Nation of Sufferers!
COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result.
This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.
Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

Horse Show Tops Calendar for Week-End

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO is full of visitors this busy summer week-end. Many have come for the South Shore Country club horse show. Others are here for the two debut parties that will take place in Lake Forest. Still more have come especially to offer their best wishes to a favorite bride or bridegroom among the many who will repeat their vows today.

The South Shore Country club has had more than its share of unfavorable weather at horse show time during the last few years so every one connected with the annual event expects there will be sunny skies and balmy breezes for the two day event. The show usually is held earlier in the month, but with the cancellation of the annual Lake Forest show, the south siders shifted to the later dates. The La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium will share the proceeds with the Infant Welfare society. The Kenwood Social Service club of the society and the sanitarium board have been cooperating with the horse show committee to make a tremendous success of the undertaking.

Prizes of $2,500 to Be Paid in Two Day Showing.

Prizes of $2,500 will be paid out in 37 classes scheduled for this morning and this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon at the Lake Side show ring. There are more jumpers than usual in the show. The high jump record was established at the South Shore show in 1928 by Gray Knight. Judges will be Dr. Edgar W. Powell of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Robert E. Moreland of Lexington, Ky. Fred Herendeen again will be at the microphone to announce events—and sidelights—in his wittiest manner.

The horse show week-end is especially gay at the club, for there will be luncheon parties galore today and tomorrow, and a horse show ball tonight. The best party of all from the standpoint of young exhibiters, is the children's luncheon today, for all of the young exhibiters eat together in a big room of their own.

James C. Thompson is chairman of the show. On the committee for the Kenwood club are Mrs. John Harwood, Mrs. Eugene K. Lydon, Mrs. Ross Warren, and Mrs. Herendeen. Sanitarium representatives are Mrs. Clifford Roe, Mrs. William J. Welch, Mrs. Wilbur M. McArthur, and Mrs. William J. Frazier.

Surprising news is an announcement from Los Angeles, Cal., of the marriage on June 11 of Miss Mary Elizabeth Nuzum to Frank H. Armstrong II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong of Winnetka. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. T. Carleton Grier of Los Angeles. Mr. Armstrong has been living in the western city. A graduate of the Berkshire school, Yale university, and the University of Michigan law school, he formerly was married to Miss Barbara Bastien, now Mrs. A. Loring Rowe.

Miss Leonore Cudahy Making Debut Tonight.

The homes of Edward I. Cudahy, and of his sons and daughters-in-law, the William B. and the Michael Cudahys, are filled with young friends of Miss Leonore Cudahy, who is making her debut at a dinner-dance at the Shoreacres club tonight. Mr. Cudahy, the William and the Michael Cudahys are giving the party, which will follow soon after the tea Mr. and Mrs. Keith Carpenter are giving to present their daughter, Miss Ann, to their friends.

Both the Carpenter tea, which will be given at home, and the dinner-dance have been planned as outdoor parties, weather permitting, of course. Miss Carpenter and her mother will receive on the terrace. Miss Cudahy, Miss Annie Laurie Ryerson, Miss Shirley Hopkins, Miss Diana Hill, Miss Joan Peabody, Miss Caryl Casselberry, Miss Barbara Bronson, Miss Bessie Cowles, and Miss Christine Kurth of Milwaukee will assist.

Miss Carpenter, a graduate of the Shipley school, is a student at Sarah Lawrence. Two other parties planned for her are a Sunday luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welles and the Jay Whipples will give and a dinner-dance the Augustus A. Carpenters will give at the Onwentsia next month.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy to Give Tea for Bud.

Miss Cudahy has some more parties in store for her, too, among them a tea her aunt, Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, will give in Lake Forest in September. Miss Sarah McGraw of Grosse Pointe, Mich., Miss Cudahy's roommate at Vassar, and some eastern college friends, Miss Betty Balch, Miss Eleanor Wright, and Miss Mary LeBlond, all of Cincinnati, and Miss Betty Houghton of New York, are here for the party tonight.

The young men from out of town include Miss LeBlond's brother, Richard, a Princeton student, and several Yale students, George R. Nichols III., who is spending the summer in Watch Hill with his mother, and three Californians, Harry Evans of San Rafael, Henry English and Thomas Kindle.

Alice Clay Judson and E. L. Ryerson III. Wed Today

Mrs. William V. Judson has come from Lexington, Ky., for the marriage of her granddaughter, Miss Alice Clay Judson, and Edward L. Ryerson III. this afternoon in Lake Forest. Some of Miss Judson's school friends are here, and so are a number of relatives of the bridegroom. The Nathaniel Clarkes, his cousins, of Boston are staying with Mrs. Donald Ryerson. The Claude Pecks of Cleveland have come for the wedding and are staying with Mrs. Peck's mother, Mrs. Herman B. Butler, in Winnetka.

Staying with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, are a number of their son's eastern friends, Lew Wallace III. of Rye, N. Y.; William Bannard and William Miller of Ardsley, N. Y.; James Phil-

A Young Man in Uniform and His Partner

Young men in uniform will become a familiar sight at parties this summer. Here is Ensign Edward Corboy, in summer white, chatting with Miss Joan Pace. They will have some dances together at a party the College Assembly is giving at 1 o'clock today at the Racquet club to welcome home college students. The party will be a luncheon-dance.

Good Morning!

"Meet John Doe" is one of the most intelligently thought out and produced movies that has come to our screens. And in its basic idea lies so-called civilization's only hope of ever attaining a state of—civilization.

It presents a possible method for salvation of the people, by the people and, at the same time, shows how moral barbarians could—and probably would—adapt a great humanitarian project to their own ends IF the crusaders weren't smart enough to outfox the foxes.

Could the good folk of all races and creeds who are devoutly desirous of seeing the human race emerge in beauty, strength, serenity, and prosperity from its present crucible, in some way band together as do, for a time, the masses in this picture—phooey to Hitler and others of his kind—for the people ARE master. [If they only knew it.]

I do hope the above hasn't given you the idea that "Meet John Doe" has too much uplift to be fun. That would be terrible! Because this movie is swell all around entertainment presented by a picked cast and expertly directed by the man who made "Mr. Deeds Comes to Town" and "It Happened One Night"...

The action revolves around a fake letter—addressed to herself by a girl newspaper columnist who has just been told by a new boss that her services are no longer required. . . . Her stuff is "lavender and old lace." The N. B. wants "fireworks." HE GETS 'EM!

The letter, signed by "John Doe" was ostensibly written by a swell guy, out of work thru no fault of his own, disillusioned, and determined to end it all by leaping from a certain tower on Christmas Eve. . . This communication, printed in Ann Mitchell's final column [only it doesn't turn out to be the final one] captures the sympathy and imagination of the masses who read it and who rush forward to rescue John Doe. . . Miss Mitchell is retained on the job when she comes across with a follow up idea for making capital out of her original one. . . The first thing to do is to find a "John Doe" who will admit having written the letter.

And now enters Mr. Gary Cooper into the scheme of things. . . Meet John Doe!

I could tell you more—but derned if I'm going to.

Superb characterizations thruout. Lots of suspense! Loads of surprises! Dialog that really talks. . .

Perhaps the piece COULD have been about a half reel shorter—but I'm not so sure about that. . . As is—it's THERE!

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—Note to Jack Bleeck, Artists and Writers, N. Y.: Your place is going to be in the movies. Metro is lining up a picture for Katharine Hepburn and it's about some newspaper guys and it starts in your cozy little home away from home. . . . Rosalind Russell, who co-stars with Clark Gable in "They Met in Bombay," has just wired Gable: "Have seen your new picture and am going to marry Harry Brandt." . . . Reports following a sneak are that Spencer Tracy's Dr. Jekyll is the topper of all Jekylls. . . . Spence and Billy Grady leave for New York today, thus getting a vacation they'd planned for years. First they were going to Alaska, then to Rio—but have compromised on New York and New England.

Paramount wants Loretta Young opposite Fred MacMurray in "Mr. and Mrs. Cugar." . . . Washington, Franklin, and Marshall will appear in Dalton Trumbo's "The Remarkable Andrew"—as ghosts. . . . In "Louisiana Purchase" Bob Hope will do a burlesque filibuster—a takeoff on Jimmy Stewart's in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington." "But you can't do that," Victor Moore will say. "Sure I can," Hope will reply. "I called up Frank Capra and got his permission." . . . With the abandohment of "The Yearling" King Vidor will start on "H. M. Pulham, Esq." . . . Somerset Maugham has taken a house for the summer in Beverly Glen. Wanting something that might remind him of his fabled place in the Riviera, he first looked at beach houses in Santa Monica. "But," he says, "it was too noisy—and too expensive."

At the local preview of the Warners' "Underground" everybody but your reporter liked it. I got tired after a while listening to all the German accents, and thought also that the writing was pretty much pulp-fiction—as tho Weber and Field had done "The Lone Ranger." . . . George Jessel is swelling around, very proud that he is to become a father in three months. When reports of childbride Lois Andrews' impending experience first were circulated they were denied—but they assumed trans-Atlantic importance. In the midst of air raids the editor of one London paper cabled New York to verify the rumor. . . . There have been reports also that C. Gable and Carole Lombard are expecting. The forthright Carole says, "I'm sorry it isn't true. And when it is I'll be the first to know about it and I'll be the first to tell about it."

Now that the consent decree looms, studio publicity departments are up to here in conferences. They are faced with the problem of keeping a picture alive at least two months longer than heretofore—the interim between the first showing and the release. It's going to be a tough job, for nothing is as dead as yesterday's newspaper unless it is last week's movie. . . . Lewis Milestone, who recently dropped out as director of "Joan of Paris," may tackle John Steinbeck's "Red Pony" for 20th Century-Fox. . . . Lana Turner and her ma are going to South America. . . . In "The Chocolate Soldier," in which Rise Stevens makes her screen début, Nelson Eddy will not be Bernard Shaw's Swiss hotel keeper. He'll be an American masquerading as a Russian. . . . Robert Taylor has finally got rid of his ranch, trading it for a house in Beverly Hills. The ranch house was built before the marriage by Barbara Stanwyck, while Bob was in England.

When one of the movie defense committee shows visited Camp Hunter Liggett last week-end the Southern Pacific wouldn't stop its train at the point nearest the camp. Reason of the railroad was that if it stopped for the Hollywoodians it also would have to stop for officers thereafter, which would louse up its schedule. There were war maneuvers on the most direct motor road, so the movie folk had to travel 4 hours by bus on a detour. . . . A general explained to Gracie Allen that the direct road had been blocked by a sham battle. Queried Gracie, "Did you shoot any shams?" . . . Don Barry, Republic cowboy, got two uncut rubies worth $150 apiece from a gal fan who wanted only a 10 cent picture, autographed.

June Brides Go to Altar by Dozens Today

Dozens of weddings have been planned for this busy June Saturday. At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Winnetka home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holman D. Pettibone, Miss Jean Pettibone will become the bride of Herbert K. Butz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Butz. Dr. Irving Maurer, president of Beloit college, will read the service in the living room in the presence of the families, and a reception will follow in the garden.

Miss Pettibone, who will wear her mother's wedding gown, will be attended by her sisters, Miss Georgia, who will be maid of honor, Barbara, and Patsy, and by the bridegroom's cousin, Mrs. Carl von Ammon. William Butz will be his brother's best man. Ushering will be Rogers Butz, Philip and Carl von Ammon, and Richard and Holman Pettibone Jr.

After a trip to North Carolina Mr. Butz and his bride will be at home in Glencoe. Among those who have come for the wedding are the Clifford Hiltons of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Theodore Hashchke of New York, the Samuel Campbells of Mount Carroll, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. William Couch of New Haven, Conn.

The youngest member in the bridal party of Miss Ann Loeber will be 4 year old Robert Buckley Jr., who carries the ring that Gordon Ware Harrington will slip onto the finger of his blonde bride at 4:30 o'clock in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Loeber will give their daughter's wedding reception at the Knollwood club.

Mrs. Vincent Andrus of Greenwich, Conn. [Dorelle Moulton] and her sister in law, Miss Helen Andrus, will be matron and maid of honor. Dr. Clifton Ward Harrington, who is here from Boston with Mrs. Harrington, is his son's best man. The bridesmaids are Mrs. Nathaniel Duval, Miss Patricia Wilson. Mrs. Paul Loeber Jr., Miss Jean Kellogg, and Mrs. John Mercer. Ushering will be Andrew Young, George Coleman, Henry Sleeper, Dunbar Sherman, Mr. Loeber Jr., Mr. Buckley Sr., and James Cooney.

Before they are settled in Highland Park Mr. Harrington and his bride will take a trip to Gloucester, Mass., where their friendship first developed and where Dr. and Mrs. Harrington have a summer home.

Miss Helen Chancellor, who is being married to Francis Dewes Burgweger at 8:30 o'clock tonight, will wear an heirloom lace veil that was part of the bridal costumes of two of her attendants, Mrs. Ralph S. Stoetzel and Mrs. Joseph S. Miller. It belongs to their mother, Mrs. Lloyd A. Schipfer, whose mother first wore it.

The wedding will take place in Christ church, Winnetka. Miss Patty Chancellor will be her sister's maid of honor. Miss Martha Towle, Miss Adele Taylor, and two other sisters, Imogene and Barbara Chancellor, will be bridesmaids. Leonard Burgweger will be best man for his brother. They are sons of Mrs. Dewes Burgweger of Winnetka and Henry Burgweger of Buffalo, N. Y. Ushering will be Heaton H. Sykes, Earle C. Moss Jr., Herman Bartholomay, Mr. Stoetzel, E. William Kalb, and Justus Chancellor III., the bride's brother.

In Cincinnati this afternoon for the marriage at 4:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's church of Miss Nancy McLaughlin and J. Francis Dammann Jr. will be Mr. and Mrs. Dammann Sr. and their daughter and son, Nancy and Peter; Mrs. Thomas L. Dammann, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lynde, and Mr. and Mrs. George Lynde, all of Winnetka. Thomas Dammann, who traveled from La Jolla, Cal., with his wife and baby, will be his brother's best man.

The small ceremony will be followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Miss Mary Alice Conroy, daughter of John Edward Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, and Mrs. Conroy, will be married June 28 in St. Basil's church to Samuel H. Moore Jr., son of Mrs. Samuel H. Moore of Wilmette. Miss Conroy attended "The Mound" at Sinsinawa, Wis., and De Paul university. Mr. Moore is a graduate of Dartmouth college. The couple will reside in New York City.

June Marriage License Rush Nears Record

The number of marriage licenses issued this month may surpass the April, 1917, figure of 6,103—second highest for any month in history. This estimate was made yesterday by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn as he noted that 4,000 licenses were issued during the first 20 days of June and that 2,000 applications—an all time high—are on file.

The April, 1917, figure was surpassed only by that of June, 1937, when 9,925 licenses were issued just before the new Illinois marriage requirements went into effect. Sidney Summerfield, chief clerk in the marriage license bureau, estimated that most of the 2,000 couples having applications on file will obtain licenses before the month is out.

If they do not, they must comply with amendments to the marriage laws which will take effect July 1. The amendments make it necessary for both prospective bride and bridegroom to appear at the bureau to obtain the license. At present only one need appear. Their signatures will be compared with those on their medical applications. The former requirement of three days' notice of intention to wed will be cut to one day.

Filmy Jersey Lingerie Joy of Travelers

BY REA SEEGER.

The best traveling companions known to the most exacting shoppers are the lingerie finds made of the new film-thin jersey or glove silk type stuff. Nightgown, sleeping pajams, shirts, French panties, and negligees provide everything for any tour north, west, south, or east. This new loot is as thin as any shadow, comes in delightfully feminine models such as the lace trimmed sets with satin ribbon bows.

Snowy white items stay white and are not only summer ideas but also lovely bridal sets, especially the pieces with the lace trim. Matched sets make ideal gifts, too!

Delicate pastels in pink, mint green and yellow and blue are available in the simply draped models as well as the more frilly ones. For the more sophisticated shopper thin gauzy blacks are the answer. Black gowns and the lingerie pieces are fascinating examples of how this thin jersey has been feminized, despite its utilitarian qualities of nonwrinking weaves.

Less sheer jersey is used for the classic Grecian type nightgowns, usually cut with softly shirred bodice tops and a smooth figure revealing silhouette. Some have the diamond shape and bias cut midriff section accenting the gathered skirt. Others feature a circular cut skirt and high bodice, and a third model has the deep vee neckline with pointed shoulders.

Matched sets of negligee and gown come in lovely pastel colors, some with the double shirred belts, others with long or short sleeves. Such duets are the pride and joy of the traveler, as they'll pack in small spaces to emerge without a wrinkle ready for instant wear. No pressing is needed, for this jersey tubs and dries quickly. All colors are clear and remain that way after weeks of the most casual care. . . . No wonder thin summer jersey lingerie is going round the smartest places and the longest travel tours.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Bracing face lotions are wonderfully useful all year 'round. They're important to intelligent home treatment and to good makeup. But it seems to us that in hot weather they're more valuable than ever.

It's necessary for the well groomed woman to look unwilted, no matter how strenuous her days nor how high the temperature. We don't know of a better way to aid facial freshness than to use face lotion faithfully.

Keep your face lotion in the ice box during warm weather. You'll find that it feels 10 times more refreshing when it's icy, and it's our opinion that it has a better effect on your skin.

For dry skin use a mild lotion. One we like is delicately scented with orange blossom, clean scented and cooling in character. Used after cleansing, it helps remove the last sticky vestige of cream and makes the skin feel fresher. One of the best tricks is to keep it icy cold and to saturate cotton pads with it, then to pat and slap the face and neck vigorously. This gentle stimulation does your skin a world of good.

BLIND LOVE.
INSTALMENT XII.

"It was so noble and heavenly of Val," Felicity said with a dreamy sigh. "Of course you know he's rather poor. But he wanted to give me a halfway decent ring—and finally he thought of a way. He had some little things he was keeping—sort of sacred relics, Celia—his dead mother's wedding ring and a little old-fashioned necklace of hers, and his father's watch. And he pawned them, Celia! I cried when he told me."

Her eyes were wet, now, and she pressed her lips tremulously to the token of Valentine Quentin's nobility.

Val's mother wasn't dead, altho it was possible that his father was. Celia happened to know that his mother lived in Florence and was now the wife of an Italian count. She had even met the Contessa di Marenna who had once stayed at Alanbrook when she was briefly in London.

However, that was not the point in question. She knew, now, why Val had stolen her keepsakes; it was to buy a ring for Felicity.

Should she tell Felicity?

Felicity was looking at her expecting her to say how truly marvelous it was of Val, and to save her life she could not respond in the one way that would please her friend.

Felicity raised her eyes, and the soft, fatuous smile faded.

"Celia—don't look at me like that!" she cried. She sat up on her knees, thoroly startled by Celia's expression.

"Like what?" Celia asked in a stifled voice.

"As tho—as tho you hated me!"

"O, my darling—hate you?" No—no! I love you dearly, Felicity. That's what makes it so hard, so truly difficult."

"Makes what difficult?"

"To—to tell you. O, I've got to if it kills us both!"

"You're being what daddy calls dramatic," Felicity said, with a nervous laugh.

"Listen, darling." Celia slumped down beside her. "I want you to believe what I say and try not to be hurt with me for saying it. Felicity, Val Quentin isn't worthy of you. He's a wrong 'un, darling. Practically everything you've just told me about him I know to be untrue."

Felicity started back as tho she had been slapped and a stony look came into her face.

"It's Val I hate," Celia went on passionately. "For—for making such a little fool of you. He's only after you because your father is rich. That's all he cares about—money, and then more money. If you were the daughter of a poor man——"

Felicity sprang to her feet and backed further away, and Celia rose also, sensing the defeat of clumsy failure.

"Are you in love with him yourself?" Felicity asked coldly.

"Not now," Celia replied in low, shaken tones.

"But you were?"

"Yes, I was. And he fooled me, too. That's why I want to save you if I can. I want to save you the pain and suffering he'll drag you thru. Felicity, he's already had one wife, and he treated her pretty badly, if I'm not greatly mistaken. And all the time Val's been making love to you he—he's been pretending to be in love with me. All that seemed to stand in the way of our getting married, was lack of money—so he said."

A sort of light seemed to break on Felicity.

"So you're the girl he told me about—the girl in the house where he lived, who wouldn't leave him alone! I know about his wife. They're divorced, and very likely you've only heard her side of it. But he also mentioned this girl who was running after him. O, Celia, I'm so sorry for you, darling! Truly, I am. I wish it had been anybody in the world but you."

This newly aroused compassion was more than Celia could bear.

"Don't you understand, you benighted little idiot, that I'm not in love with Valentine Quentin? The things he has done to me would make your hair curl——"

"Thanks darling—my hair curls of itself. And honestly, I don't want to hear any more. Sometimes it's that way—two girls and a boy, and one of the girls gets him. They can't both have him—can they? It's just too bad, Celia, that it should happen to be you and I. But if it's true you aren't in love with him any more——"

"I swear it's true," Celia said gritting her teeth.

"Then you aren't going to be a dog-in-the-manger, are you?"

"I've been trying to tell you that this man will ruin your life, and you talk like that! He isn't just a boy. He's a cold, calculating, heartless man, and if you go your headlong way, you'll live to regret it bitterly."

Felicity rounded on her.

"This sounds like revenge to me."

"O, dear God, I know it must!"

Celia wrung her hands in despair.

"If you say another word, I won't listen. I'll stop my ears or run out of the room. Why, it's you who are trying to ruin my life, Celia—not Val. You're trying to make me jealous of you. But I won't sink that low. You see, I happen to know that Val truly loves me. Can't you forgive him, darling? Can't you forgive us both? Things happen like that sometimes. Nobody's really to blame."

Celia gave a deep, shuddering sigh.

She had humiliated herself to the dust, and all for nothing. It fairly sickened her to have been obliged to blackguard Val; her pride was completely shattered.

As it was, she hadn't said half enough. She ought to have given Felicity the plain proofs of Val's knavery, pointed to that ring she was wearing, made the whole beastly matter clear. And she had only muddled it.

Felicity came toward her wearing the tired and patient smile of a saint.

"Are we still going to be friends?" she asked plaintively. "Because I'm fonder of you than of anybody else in the world, except daddy and—well, never mind. Can't we just not talk about it any more?"

Celia was pale with exhaustion.

"No, we won't talk about it any more," she said wearily. "Either I said too much, or not enough."

"Darling, you said plenty. But I'm not going to repeat what you said to Val. He might not want me to have you for a friend any more if I did."

The irony of it! Life was as bitter as gall.

"I hope," Celia said with a resignation born of the deepest despair, "that we'll always be friends, whatever happens."

Felicity flung her arms around her and gave her a rapturous hug.

In some way, Felicity was inexplicable.

"Now that we've got that over," she said, "we need never refer to it again."

But Felicity did not say what Celia knew to be true: that whether they spoke of it or not, it would lie there between them, a spectre that might raise its grisly head at any moment and strike again at their friendship.

It was a welcome interruption when the butler came in. Stevens looked anxious and addressed himself impartially to both of them.

"I'm sorry, Miss, but Mrs. Benson says that Miss Allison has given no orders about dinner."

Felicity answered him with no sign of the violent storm that had so recently shaken them.

"Well—what does it matter?" she asked. "Why come to us about it, Stevens?"

"Miss Allison's most particular, Miss, as you know, and Mrs. Benson's never allowed to draw up the menus herself."

Felicity shrugged her shoulders.

"It sounds silly to me. She's the cook, isn't she?"

"Yes, Miss, but——"

"O, we'll go out to dinner."

"I'm sorry, Miss, but Sir Martin informed me that he'd be in and that Mr. Maclaren is coming to dinner. Mr. Maclaren is bringing some work from the office."

Felicity grinned at Celia, in token that what was past was forgiven.

"I guess this is where you get busy, darling," she said, "but I don't mind coming along and giving you a hand."

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD: Coat the segments with mayonnaise, and roll in coconut, grated cheese, or chopped nuts. Arrange on watercress or leaf lettuce, and add French dressing.

Or make a salad bowl salad, using watercress, lettuce, shredded green pepper, sliced radishes, chopped chives, and grapefruit segments. Add catsup and celery seed to the French dressing you use with it. This is really good!

Egg pancake with fresh strawberry, blueberry, or raspberry sauce is a luncheon dish almost every one can love. A thin egg batter baked in a skillet, the finished pancake is buttered, sauced, folded, and served not on a platter.

Egg Pancake.
[Serves one or two.]

2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup flour
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon fat
Butter
Confectioners' sugar
Lemon juice
Fruit sauce

Put eggs, salt, sugar, flour, and milk into a deep bowl. Beat until well blended and light. Heat fat in a 10 or 12 inch skillet. Pour in batter and cook over moderate heat for 1 minute. Transfer to a hot oven, 450-475 degrees, and bake, reducing heat slightly after the first five minutes. Cook until batter rises well up on the sides of the skillet, and becomes nicely browned, about 15 to 20 minutes.

Remove pancake from oven, dot with butter, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice while still in the pan. Add fruit sauce. Fold from opposite sides to the center, making three layers. Transfer with spatula to warm platter. Top with additional butter, sugar, lemon juice, and fruit sauce. Leave whole for one serving; for two cut crosswise.

Apples may be used as the fruit. Slice them thinly and bake on top of the pancake batter.

You've probably been eating a good deal of fried chicken lately, and are ready for a delicious casserole of chicken baked in cream. Buy a larger chicken for this dish, a roaster instead of a fryer.

Chicken Baked in Cream.

1 roasting chicken, cut up
Milk
Seasoned flour
½ cup fat for frying [may be part butter]
½ medium onion, chopped
½ pound sliced fresh mushrooms
2 cups cream or top milk

Dip chicken in milk, then in flour rather heavily seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown pieces on all sides in hot fat. Remove chicken from skillet and brown mushrooms for about two minutes. Arrange chicken in a casserole, sprinkle onion and mushrooms over it, and pour on the cream which has been heated. Cover the casserole and bake about 2 hours in a 325 degree oven.

Ten Thousand Expected at British Outing Today

Thirty-two organizations are cooperating in a British Day outing sponsored by the United British Societies of Illinois to be held today at Bergman's grove in North Riverside. More than 10,000 are expected to bring picnic luncheons and to enjoy a treasure hunt, folk dances of all peoples of the British Isles, and various games, including baseball, three legged races, and games for children. Afternoon tea will be served. A prize will be given to the largest family group present.

lips of Washington, D. C.; Richard Fisher of Maryville, O.; Charles Rosenthal of Binghamton, N. Y., and Rowland Vance of Columbus, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Aldis are giving a luncheon today for the out-of-town guests.

The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock at the Lake Forest home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Judson. The Rev. Oliver B. Brackett will read the service in the presence of the families and some of the intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. A small reception will follow.

Saddle and Cycle Having White Dinner-Dance Tonight.

The Saddle and Cycle club will be en fête tonight with white lanterns and white decorations everywhere for its yearly white dinner-dance. Henry L. McIntyre, Mrs. John Root and R. Winfield Ellis are in charge of the party, to which men and women both are asked to wear white clothes. Among those who are entertaining at the party are the McIntyres, the Roots, the Thomas Underwoods, the Louis C. Sudlers, the Earl Kribbens, and Mrs. Frank Woods Jr., the Cyrus Hills and the Herbert Stratfords.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marsden Price [Roxane McKenzie] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter last Wednesday at the Evanston hospital. The baby is being named Charlotte McKenzie after her grandmother, the late Mrs. William Dexter McKenzie of Hubbard Woods.

There'll be two parties over the week-end for Miss Barbara Blossom and G. Greeley Wells, who will be married next Saturday in the home the former's parents, the George W. Blossoms, have taken for the summer in Lake Forest. Today Miss Blossom's aunt, Mrs. Francis Blossom, is taking the bridal party to luncheon and a matinée. The same young group will gather for a buffet supper tomorrow night at Miss Mary Faith Wilson's.

Chicago Girl Wins Music Federation Piano Scholarship

Jean Graham, a 15 year old Chicago girl who likes to ride her bike and swim when she isn't composing or practicing at the piano, has won the Edgar Stillman Kelley scholarship in a nation-wide contest sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs for music students less than 16 years old. The announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. James Allen Young, Chicago district president of the federation.

Informal-Events Frock

MISS' FROCKS FOR SUMMER.

For teatime, summer matinées and other social events which somehow continue even thru "dog days," we prescribe the frock at the left, with its soft-shouldered and shirred yoke. The bodice is figure-molded above a deftly shirred skirt. Tone-on-tone prints and plain colors, in sheers or soft crêpes, are recommended. The other model shows the peasant influence, with its basque bodice and lace-trimmed yoke with multiple shirring. Bright prints are used for the skirt, the contrasting note on sleeve cuffs, around the hemline and accenting the bodice.

Style No. 2964 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.
Style No. 2953 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.
Each pattern costs ten cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Universal year—Trying out a new receipe? That's good for this six day. The men might put in a little gardening or lawn mowing.

Vacations—Those who are in a nine year this year may find that they are a little confused about their vacations. So many little things come up at this time to be culminated and you begin to feel that you can't start out because you have so much to clean up. After doing much of this sort of thing this year—clearing out all the driftwood in your life—you will want a little vacation to quiet down because this type of year brings many emotional problems. You may find that you are going to your old vacation place for the last time or that it no longer appeals to you with the same flavor and you wish to make new friends, but you will have to keep in the same pattern for the remainder of the year so don't seek a new spot until next year. Keep out of any emotional situations because romance started this summer won't last.

Dunham Sees Chance for Free Park Concerts

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, said yesterday that in view of the enactment of the district's $10,500,000 pegged levy bill he was hopeful that free concerts will be held again this summer in Grant park bandshell. Dunham said he will discuss the program early next week with James C. Petrillo, head of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, who is also a park board member. The program will not be as extensive as in past years, Dunham indicated. When a legislative committee scaled down the pegged levy by $250,000 several weeks ago Dunham had announced the concerts would have to be eliminated.

Charles McLaughlin of Covington, Ky. After a wedding trip to Georgia Mr. Dammann and his bride will spend the summer in Charlevoix, Mich., where his parents have a summer home. They will go back to Cincinnati in the autumn while he completes his studies at the University of Cincinnati medical school.

Miss Jeannette Farwell will become the bride of Timothy James Campbell Jr. at 4 o'clock in the Children's chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Farwell will give a reception in their home, 1181 Oakley avenue, Winnetka.

Among the guests will be the bridegroom's parents, who are here from Newton, Ia., with Dr. and Mrs. James Hill, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bickett, and Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell. The bride will carry a handkerchief carried by her 89 year old grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Burrage Farwell of Kenilworth.

Miss Nancy Farwell will be her sister' maid of honor. Hugh Hill of Newton will serve as best man. Miss Janet Weber, Miss Maxine Neushul, and the bridegroom's sisters, Miss Mary and Miss Margaret Campbell, will be bridesmaids.

Fragile rose point lace from her mother's wedding dress trims the gown Miss Katherine Ann Wenter will wear for her marriage to Gilbert B. McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. McIntosh of Kenilworth, at 8:30 o'clock tonight in St. Augustine's Episcopal church, Wilmette. A reception will follow at the Indian Hill club, given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Frank Wenter Jr., of Wilmette.

Frank J. Wenter will give his sister in marriage. Their sister, Mrs. Paul Cummins of Fort Wayne, will be matron of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. David Harris Thomas are in Bronxville, N. Y., today for the marriage of their son, Thomas Jr., and Miss Virginia Livingston Blodgett. The ceremony in the garden of the Roswell L. Blodgett home will be attended by members of the immediate families, with a larger reception following. After a wedding trip to Maine Mr. Thomas and his bride will be at home on the south side. The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Frederick W. Clark of Lake Shore drive.

Miss Sara Leigh Symons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Symons of River Forest, and Robert Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Brandt of River Forest, will be married in the First Congregational church of Oak Park at 4:30 o'clock. A reception follows in the Symons home, after which Mr. Brandt and his bride will depart for a wedding trip to New Orleans. Their home will be in Aurora.

Miss Dell Kiely and Robert Miller Rich will repeat their wedding vows at 11 o'clock today after the Most Rev. Francis J. Magner, bishop of Marquette, Mich., cousin of the bride. The ceremony in St. Mary's of the Lake church will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the Shawnee Country club, given by the bride's aunt and uncle, Miss Mildred Kiely and Burt R. Kiely.

An heirloom silk taffeta wedding gown and the little ivory kid slippers matching it, first worn 100 years ago in London by the bride's great-great-grandmother, will be worn tonight by Miss Janet Emma Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Martin of South Shore drive, when she is married to Wilson Victor Knall, son of Mrs. David E. Knall of Saginaw avenue.

The Rev. John Henry Hopkins, who married the bride's parents, has come from Burlington, Vt., to perform the ceremony in the Church of the Redeemer, assisted by the Rev. Edward S. White.

Embroidery Welcome

26 Music Degrees Are Awarded by Sherwood School

Orchestra hall last night saw the last of the graduation exercises among major Chicago conservatories when the Sherwood Music school held its 46th annual concert and commencement there. Walter Erley delivered the baccalaureate address and presented the degrees, of which there were 26. Twice as many certificates and teachers' diplomas also were awarded. The concert was played by the Sherwood Symphony orchestra under the direction of P. Marinus Paulsen. Student soloists were Edna Schaefer, Jane Sears, and Robert Hoffman, pianists; Grosvenor Needham and Robert Morton, baritones; Margaret Allen, soprano, and Lasse Pohjola, violinist.

First of Patrol Boys Go to Motor Club Camp

Outstanding school safety patrol boys from 300 Illinois cities began a week's outing today in Chicago Motor club award camps at Camp Hastings, near Lake Villa, and at Camp Potawatami, near Fort Wayne, Ind. Different groups will go for one week for the next month. All expenses are paid by the motor club. Eighteen girls were included in the 884 winners of the camping awards, and they will go to a special camp near South Haven, Mich., from June 30 to July 7.

Elgin to Stage Pageant, 'The Song of Hiawatha'

Nearly 100 men, women, and children will take part in the presentation of "The Song of Hiawatha," a pageant which will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock in Wing park in Elgin. Dressed in authentic Indian costume the players will be directed by Charles H. Parlasca, Boy Scout executive of Elgin.

Many of this cast will take part in the "Injun Summer" pageant which will be staged Saturday night, Aug. 16, at the THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S 12th annual Chicagoland Music Festival in Soldiers' field.

Knowing What to Expect Is Parental Help

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

No matter what your child's age is, you can get a perspective on the past if you will stop to take the time and trouble. And you will find it helpful in dealing with what is ahead of you.

Your perspective will make you realize that, even if let alone, children go into, and then out of, certain phases, and without being any the worse for it, either. It begins to dawn upon you that what you thought was going to last forever, doesn't, whether it's nailbiting, or bowling over the very young small friends, or spending every blessed minute [or wanting to] playing baseball.

Your perspective will help you to see that you made a mistake in being in such a hurry for Billy to acquire beautiful table manners, the "dry habit," or a sense of adult responsibility! It will help you to see that you can't rush your child into a desired way of behaving until nature has made him, as an individual, ready for it.

The perspective of the years will help you to interpret the past, and so learn from it.

But perhaps your son or daughter is very young, and you are very inexperienced and, indeed, feel much at sea. You can't, in that case, wait for the years to pass so you can look back in order to help you to look forward. What shall you do?

One of the best things you can do is, first, to be mentally prepared to have your baby of young child change constantly. The other is to find out what those changes will be. In other words, learn what to expect.

As a very concrete example of what I mean, suppose your little boy in 9 months old. Don't think, "O, I don't need that information now!" and put it aside. Instead, read it, and others that may be written about older children. That will help by giving you a perspective of the scene that lies ahead.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Generally speaking, a long and fairly strong trump suit offers greater protection than a no trump contract with only one stopper in the opponents' announced suit. Often, however, the bidding will be such that a clear warning is conveyed against a "run out." Consider the implication of the bidding in today's hand.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

SOUTH
♠ K Q 10 9 6 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	1 diamond	1 spade	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	3 spades	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Double
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

North, with only a single diamond stopper, feared that his partner would not read this condition and would permit three no trump doubled to stand. Hence, he "ran" to the suit in which South had announced great strength. He soon found that he had escaped a slight accident only to meet a catastrophe.

West opened the jack of diamonds. Declarer went up with the ace and, in a frantic effort to save a trick, led to his heart ace and finessed on a heart return to dummy. East won and cashed two diamonds, West discarding a club.

Now, certain that a ruff and a discard would do declarer no good, even if he chose to take it, East continued with the fourth round of diamonds. Declarer, not having a worthwhile discard to make, ruffed with the spade ten, only to be overruffed by West's jack. West led his remaining club, East won with the ace and returned a club. This, West ruffed with his four of trumps. The trump ace accounted for the fourth setting trick.

The 1,100 point penalty was considerably worse than what could have happened at three no trump. At the latter contract East, of course, could have taken four diamond tricks and the club ace, but West never would have taken a single trick except the spade ace and, thus, the penalty would have been only 500 points.

North should have realized that West would not have doubled three no trump unless he was well prepared to "take care of" four spades, the announced "escape suit."

FOR 27 CENTS ALL YOUR SKEETERS CAN BE SWATTED

That's Per Capital Cost of New Control Program.

For 27 cents apiece, the four million persons in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties could have the 179 billion mosquitoes infesting the area swatted scientifically.

This calculation was made yesterday by J. Lyell Clarke, engineer of the Des Plaines valley mosquito abatement district, at Lyons. He was watching his three high-wheeled truck sprayers—built along the lines of an army jeep—as they destroyed baby mosquitoes in a marsh east of Cicero avenue and the Hawthorne race track in Cicero.

Boards Consider Project.

A survey has been completed showing every skeeter breeding spot in the tri-county area, and the abatement program could be put in motion if 27 cents per capita were appropriated. The three county boards are considering the project.

"Public opinion could put this project over," Clarke remarked, as he waded thru a miniature bog, looking for signs of mosquitoes. "When people get tired of taking individual swings at the little beasts—then we'll get a real chance at 'em."

While the three trucks, named the "Dinosaur," "Swamp Angel," and "Skeeter Eater," churned their way thru the marsh, throwing 60 foot sprays of skeetercide, Clarke explained the technique of killing the pests in batches.

With a tin cup he dipped up swamp water. In it could be seen about a hundred wrigglers and ball-like creatures. In a day or two the wrigglers develop into the pupa stage, when they resemble balls. Warm weather and plenty of water in three days turn the pupae into full fledged mosquitoes with just two thoughts: breeding more mosquitoes and getting a meal of blood, preferably human.

Spray Film on Water.

"This spray we use spreads a light film over the water," Clarke said. "Neither the wrigglers nor their older brothers can get air."

When the mosquitoes are undeveloped they are easy to kill, Clarke said, but when they've taken wing, it's almost hopeless to exterminate them on a large scale.

New Order for Break

Miss Florence Lucas as she appeared in court yesterday.

A month ago Judge Rudolph Desort decreed 51st street the Cicovsky-Lucas line. He ordered Joseph Cicovsky Jr., 40, of 1934 West 51st street not to go into taverns north of the street, and Miss Florence Lucas, 23, of 1856 West 47th street, to stay out of such places south of the street.

This was done in the hearing on the separate maintenance suit of Cicovsky's wife, Ann, who complained that her husband and Miss Lucas were continually meeting in taverns. There were no reports of further meetings until Thursday, when Cicovsky sighted Miss Lucas' car in front of a tavern at 64th street and Western avenue. Inside the place were Miss Lucas and a man companion.

Piqued, Cicovsky, who had duplicate keys to the car, abandoned his machine and drove off in Miss Lucas' car. She called police, who caught Cicovsky after a 15 block chase. In Safety court yesterday Judge Jay A. Schiller fined Cicovsky $10 each on a charge of disorderly conduct and reckless driving. The court also ordered Cicovsky and Miss Lucas to return duplicate keys to each other's car.

Absolved Slayer Gets Jail Term for Assault

Altho exonerated on a charge of manslaughter by a coroner's jury, Edward Gray, 37, a bowling alley pin boy, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Oscar Caplan in Felony court to six months in the Bridewell on a charge of assault. On June 25 Gray fatally beat Curtis Pannier, 33, a fellow worker, who had been annoying him in the bowling alley at 828 Grace street where both were employed.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Rout Weeds in Garden.

June 20, 1941.

THE vegetable garden on the Wheaton farm was the scene of quite a battle last week. In one "corner" of this outdoor ring was a pair of antagonists who have banded together to defeat the gardener's efforts. These persistent troublemakers were weeds and extra rainfall. Against them was pitted the labor of the men whose business it is to see that weeds, potato bugs, and all other enemies of good gardening are given the knockout count.

Early Variety Praised.

When we strolled thru the neatly cultivated rows of vegetables we could see that the weeds had taken a licking. The stringless beans were at least 12 inches high and thriving. The green peas have been in blossom this week and soon will be ready for the table. Lettuce and onions are being pulled from the plots for salads. Right now the two kinds of Irish potatoes planted in the garden are at an interesting stage because they provide a contrast between the early and late varieties. One row of Irish cobblers contains taller and bushier plants than the Rural New Yorker variety which takes longer to mature.

This is the first year that the farm has raised any of these early potatoes. After seeing how rapidly the Irish cobbler potatoes grow one of the men said he wished more seed had been put in the ground because this particular variety looks like one of the best that can be raised.

Several vegetables were added to the garden this week to give even more variety to the project. Among the additions are peppers, cabbages, and celery. The cabbage plants were about five inches high when they were put in.

Plant Late Vegetables.

The gardener also planted a variety of seeds this week to insure a good supply of late summer vegetables for the table. A row of late radishes was planted to take the place of the early varieties which already are being consumed by the farm families. The ones put in the ground this week will be ready to use late in July. Other plantings included leaf lettuce, squash, cucumbers, pumpkins, muskmelons, and watermelons.

The first ducklings to take over one of the farm ponds are now on Half Moon pond. These birds, just at the flappy stage, are runaways from the barnyard. The flockmaster said the other day that a mallard hen squeezed under the barnyard wire fence, quacked to the youngsters to follow, and the whole family waddled alongside the rustic rail fence to the pond. Their hike took them thru fields for about a quarter of a mile, after which they waded right into the pond.

The young crows which recently hatched in the farm woods haven't learned to keep their distance, but apparently they're getting their lessons every day. One of the men reports that when he rode thru a field the other morning several young crows flew close to him while the old mama crow, who would never do such a thing, perched in a distant oak tree and tried to call them back.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Lawrence French, who remained spirited, but O, so sad, as he compiled a record of seven defeats against two victories in the first two months of the season, yesterday staged a personal French renaissance with a 5 to 0, four hit triumph over the Boston Braves. Larry not only pitched a grand game, but batted in the first two runs with one of his two singles.

While French was the main man as far as the defense and essential offense was concerned, two of his mates enjoyed an especially pleasant afternoon. Phil Cavarretta, back in the lineup as an outfielder after seeing his first base job swiped by Babe Dahlgren, made a single and a homer off Dick Errickson, and Dahlgren greeted Johnny Hutchings' first pitch in the eighth with a homer, his third in two days in Wrigley field and his tenth of the season.

Close to .500 Again.

Larry's cheering performance lifted the Cubs to within one victory of the .500 mark for the fifth time in two weeks. After the game every effort was being made to rally the Chicagoans for a victory this afternoon, which would put them at the .500 mark for the first time since April. However, General Manager James Gallagher definitely turned down a suggestion that a shipment of cough sirup be rushed from the Hollywood horse track in California to aid them in their big trial this afternoon. "Egad, they'll win it with their arms and bats," shouted Mr. Gallagher as he turned down the artificial stimulant proposal.

Only 22 batsmen, one over the minimum, faced French in the first seven innings. Only 30 batsmen, three over the minimum, faced him in the entire nine innings. He did not walk a man nor did he hit one. And there wasn't a bobble behind him. Only one Brave, Johnny Cooney, who doubled after Pinch Batters Don Manno and Alvin Montgomery had struck out in the ninth, got to second. None got to third.

Errickson Loses Control.

The four hits were widely spaced. Cooney singled in the first inning and sank in a double play. Max West singled with one down in the fifth and never moved up. Buddy

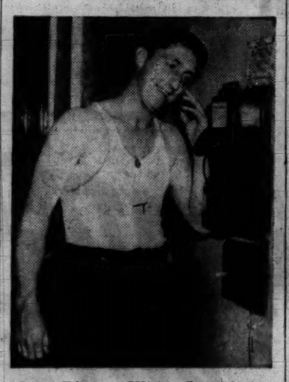
Back with Sox



John Rigney, White Sox pitcher, calls Comiskey park after being rejected by army physicians yesterday. He was told to join the team and left later in the day to join club in Philadelphia. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Rigney, Classed 4-F, Leaves to Rejoin Team

John Dungan Rigney rode eastward last night, not in a troop train, but in a compartment of the Pennsylvania's crack Rainbow. Today, in Philadelphia, he will don a White Sox uniform instead of the soldier's khaki he had expected to wear.

The White Sox pitcher was rejected yesterday by army physicians after an examination at the west side induction station.

When Rigney notified Harry Grabiner, White Sox vice president, of his rejection Grabiner ordered him to entrain for Philadelphia and today's White Sox-Athletics game.

Moves Thru "Assembly Line."

Rigney reported to the army induction center shortly after 8 a. m. yesterday with 55 other draftees from his board.

He moved thru the "assembly line" examination from one physician to another until he reached the ear section.

Here a battery of four army doctors peered into Rigney's ears for half an hour. They blew smoke into his nostrils and probed with instruments and lights while Rigney droned "ka-ka-ka-ko-ko-ko."

When the examination was completed, the physicians conferred at length. At last they announced that a pinhole perforation in the ballplayer's right eardrum indicated a latent ear infection which might flare up under the conditions of army life. He was placed in class 4-F, unsuited to any type of military service.

Anticlimax, He Says.

This action concurred with the recommendation of a California physician that Rigney, who was examined in Pasadena last March, be deferred because of the ear condition, which Rigney said probably resulted from childhood scarlet fever. The recommendation was overruled the following month by a medical advisory board which examined Rigney here. Then came Rigney's request for a 60 day deferment, his withdrawal of the request after the controversy it caused when granted, and yesterday's examination.

"It was a sort of anticlimax." Rigney said later at his home after returning from the army induction station. "I'd wound up my affairs, had a farewell party, and was all set to go."

Rigney said his marriage to Dorothy Comiskey, planned for this October until it appeared that Rigney would be drafted, probably would take place on schedule.

Officials' Cards Show Conn Led at End of 12th

New York, June 20 (AP).—Billy Conn was in front of Joe Louis at the end of 12 rounds in their heavyweight title fight Wednesday in the opinion of two of the officials. The third had them all even. Referee Eddie Josephs gave seven of the twelve rounds to Conn, five to Louis. Marty Monroe, judge, scored them seven for Conn, four for Louis, and the tenth even. Judge Billy Healy had them all square at six each.

SOX TUNE UP FOR A'S BY BEATING WILMINGTON, 5-2

Hallett Will Take Mound Against Macks Today.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20. — The White Sox were able to relax by doing nothing this afternoon and by playing an electric lighted exhibition tonight in nearby Wilmington, Del., which they won, 5 to 2, before a crowd of 5,000. Tomorrow, however, they must resume work in major league territory. That again will bring up the long standing question of when they are going to hammer the ball at a normal pace instead of the feeble fashion that has brought a revival of the hitless wonders appellation, popular in 1906.

The work scheduled for tomorrow is a single game with the annoying Athletics, followed by a Sunday double-header. If the Sox were hitting as they should this program wouldn't be especially tough to contemplate.

Not a Bad Record.

Since coming east a week ago the Sox have been involved in six arguments, half of which they didn't lose. That's not a bad record considering the foes were the Red Sox and Yanks, both contenders. In those six battles the Chicagoans made 50 hits, which may sound impressive. But the Sox, the league's poorest in team batting average, appear unable to come thru with long drives in the pinches. Take Joe Kuhel for instance. He has been in the cleanup spot thru the last seven games, during which he has hit for only one extra base. Even his singles have been widely spaced.

There is one easy way for Dykes, his boys, and Sox adherents to find consolation. That is the probability that some of the boys' depressed averages will fatten up. Even with their light hitting the Sox still are in the race. Thus if the revival should occur they easily can stay in it right up to the finish. Julius Solters will get back into action eventually and as he hasn't enjoyed his annual splurge there is reason to argue his bat alone will stir a commotion before the end of September.

Dietrich Will Be Interviewed.

Part of the strain will be taken off the pitching staff as soon as Bill Dietrich decides he has recovered from the thumb injury suffered in the game of June 2. He was sent to his home here a week ago and carried orders from Manager Dykes to work out with the Athletics. Today Dykes made no effort to find out just how Dietrich had been spending his time, but he will ask a few questions tomorrow in Mack stadium. If Dietrich has been soldiering, Dykes threatens to tell him he can stay forever as far as the Sox are concerned. Dietrich then will get back to pitching without much more loss of time.

Jack Hallett will pitch tomorrow against the A's.

Joe Haynes and Johnny Humphries collaborated on the mound tonight by yielding only five hits between them to the Wilmington Blue Rocks. Two of the hits came during Haynes' five innings and were turned into runs because of an error by Bill Knickerbocker. He allowed a double play grounder to escape after the two hits and a pass had loaded the bases with one out. The Sox scored in the fifth, added two more in the sixth, and closed with two more in the ninth. Score:

White Sox	000	012	002—5 8 1

Batteries—Haynes, Humphries, and Turner; Shirley, Marsh, and Lloyd.

MAJOR NETWORKS TO AIR ALL-STAR BASEBALL GAME

The three major networks, Mutual, Columbia, and NBC, will broadcast the All-Star baseball game between the National and American leagues in Detroit July 8 on a sustaining basis, Commissioner Landis announced yesterday. W-G-N will be the Chicago outlet for the Mutual system.

How Shall I Tell You?

How shall I tell you all the things I love?
I love the clouds of opalescent blue,
The mating song of thrush and mourning dove,
The honeysuckle's scent, the rose's hue;
I love the stars that shimmer in the sky,
The dewdrop in the chalice of the flower,
The western cloudlets steeped in crimson dye,
And you beside me for a passing hour.
How shall I tell you what I miss the most?
I miss the spring blooms when the autumn comes,
I miss the birds when winter like a ghost
Sends down a deadly frost that chills and numbs;
And sometimes, tho I hate to mention it,
I miss you, too, a teeny weeny bit.

PARKER UPSETS M'NEILL IN CLAY COURT TOURNEY

Wins in Four Sets to Enter Finals.

Frankie Parker, the mechanical man of tennis, was tightly wound on the River Forest Tennis club courts yesterday. If he doesn't run down before tomorrow afternoon he may regain the national clay court tennis title he held in 1939.

Parker upset Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, the defending champion, 3-6, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2, to advance to the final round where he will meet either Bobby Riggs of Clinton, S. C., or Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., tomorrow. Riggs and Mulloy will clash in another semi-final match this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

McNeill had to work too hard to win the first set. Parker chased him along the baseline with deep backhands and brought him racing into the net for deft dropshots.

Parker's strategy was to make McNeill run. It was strategy which cost Parker many errors and the first set at 6-3, but he was rewarded with a tired McNeill who put up scant resistance in the second set and could never launch a consistent attack in the final two. Other results:

MEN'S SINGLES.

Semi-Finals.

Frank Parker, Spring lake, N. J., beat Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, Okla., 3-6, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2.

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

Semi-Finals.

Mary Arnold, Los Angeles, Cal., beat Barbara Bradley, Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-1.

Pauline Betz, Winter Park, Fla., beat Doris Hart, Miami, Fla., 6-8, 6-1, 6-3.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

Quarter-Finals.

Jack Kramer, Los Angeles, Cal., and Fred Schroeder, Glendale, Cal., beat Gerald Crowther, Hermosa Beach, Cal., and George Spencer, Berkeley, Cal., 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Joe Hunt, Annapolis, Md., and Charles Olewine, Santa Monica, Cal., beat William Canning, Alemeda, Cal., and Robin Hippensteil, Berkeley, Cal., 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, 7-5.

Bobby Riggs, Clinton, S. C., and Gene Mako, Hollywood, Cal., beat James Evert, Chicago, and Robert Smidl, River Forest, 9-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Bryan Grant, Atlanta, Ga., and Charles Mattmann, New York City, beat Wayne Sabin, Portland, Ore., and Gardnar Mulloy, Coral Gables, Fla., 7-9, 4-6, 6-4, 10-8, 6-2.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES.

Semi-Finals.

Doris Hart, Miami, Fla., and Nellie Sheer, Miami Beach, Fla., beat Mary Arnold, Los Angeles, Cal., and Pauline Betz, Winter Park, Fla., 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

DICK WAKEFIELD.

Dick Wakefield, 20 year old University of Michigan sophomore outfielder, will announce on Monday with what club he has chosen to start his professional baseball career. Wakefield, who batted .382 in the 1941 Western conference season, revealed that eight major league teams are bidding for his services. They include the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Washington Senators, Cincinnati Reds, Detroit Tigers, and Philadelphia Athletics.

Whirlaway Favored Today at Aqueduct

New York, June 20 (AP).—Whirlaway, the 3 year old champion, will return to the turf wars tomorrow as the odds on choice to whip five others of his age in the $10,000 added Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct.

Idle since completing the turf triple by winning the rich Belmont stakes on June 7, the chestnut from Warren Wright's Calumet farm figures to have the mile and quarter race at his mercy. He has been asked to pick up 126 pounds and give 4 to 10 pounds to his rivals, but that should prove no handicap with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle.

The race is not a rich one, but Trainer Ben Jones sees no reason for keeping his star in his stall, especially in view of the fact he relishes work. From Aqueduct he will move on Tuesday to Arlington Park to prepare for the Stars and Stripes against older horses and the Arlington Classic July 26. Arlington's meeting opens Monday.

Victory tomorrow will boost Whirlaway's earnings for the year to above the $170,000 mark, and for two years of racing to some $250,000.

Whirlaway's chief opposition is expected to come from J. F. Byers' Robert Morris, the colt which finished second to him in the Belmont stakes. Robert Morris will pack 119. But at that Robert figures to be no better than 6 to 1. The advance quotations on Whirlaway were 1 to 3. Market Wise will take another crack at the champion after failing in the Kentucky Derby.

PROBABLE MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHERS IN TODAY'S GAMES

New York, June 20 (AP).—Probable pitchers in the major leagues tomorrow with won and lost records:

Cleveland at Washington—Milnar [6-7] vs. Chase [2-8].

Chicago at Philadelphia—Hallett [3-3] vs. Knott [3-6].

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Philadelphia at Pittsburgh—Grissom [0-5] vs. Bowman [2-1].

Brooklyn at Cincinnati—Wyatt [10-4] or Hamlin [4-3] vs. Riddle [5-0].

Boston at Chicago—Posedel [3-2] vs. Lee [6-6].

New York at St. Louis—Melton [4-5] vs. White [3-1].

THROWS PLATE 174 FT. 8¾ IN. IN NCAA MEET

U. S. C. Leads Trials; Places 11 Finalists.

Palo Alto, Cal., June 20 (AP).—Archie Harris, Negro athlete from Indiana university, today bettered the world record in discus throw trials of the national collegiate athletic association track meet. He sailed the weight 174 feet 8¾ inches. The recognized world mark is 174 feet 2½ inches, set April 28, 1935, by Willi Schroder of Germany.

A few weeks ago in the Big 10 meet in Minneapolis Harris established a new American record with a toss of 174 feet, 1 inch. His mark today, altho made in the trials, will stand unless bettered in tomorrow's finals. It also will go as a new NCAA record. The former, 173 feet, was made in 1936 by Ken Carpenter of the University of Southern California.

Blozis Leads in Shot.

The big Negro also qualified in the shot put at 50 feet 5¼ inches. Al Blozis of Georgetown led in the iron ball competition with a heave of 54 feet ¼ inch.

Aside from Harris' performance, individual laurels for the day went to Billy Brown of Louisiana State university. He qualified in three events, the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the broad jump. He led the broad jumpers at 24 feet 7¾ inches; won his heat in the century in 9.8 seconds, and took second in the 220.

Norwood Ewell, Penn State Negro flash, won his heats in the two sprints —9.9 seconds in the 100 and 22.2 seconds in the 220.

Mac Mitchell Falls, Loses Out.

Most tragic phase of the preliminaries was the spill taken by Leslie MacMitchell of New York university in an 880 yard run heat. Favorite to win, he tripped and fell heavily on the track, then made up some 30 yards to finish next to last but out of the qualifying class.

Southern California, shooting for its seventh team championship, galloped off with the most qualifying places, 11. California landed six places, Ohio State, 5, and Indiana, 3.

Other qualifying places were distributed as follows:

New York U., Washington, Stanford, U. C. L. A. and Louisiana State, 2 each; Notre Dame, Colorado, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Penn State, Michigan Normal, Miami of Ohio, Washington State, Georgetown, Texas, Illinois, 2 each; Oklahoma, Nebraska, Montana, Rice, Xavier, Howard Payne, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Utah, California Aggies, Michigan, Loyola of Chicago, Oregon State, Oklahoma A. and M., and Utah State, 1 each.

Qualifiers:

DISCUS THROW—Harris, Indiana, 174 feet 8¾ inches [world record]; Johnson, Ohio State, 156 feet 2¼ inches; Wolf, California, 155 feet 3½ inches; Hughes, Texas, 154 feet 10⅝ inches; Fitch, Minnesota, 153 feet, 9¾ inches; Hiler, Stanford, 151 feet, 9 inches; Blozis, Georgetown, 147 feet, 11 inches.

DAWSON AND DOERING LOSE IN ST. LOUIS GOLF

St. Louis, Mo., June 20 (AP).—Two Chicago stars were eliminated from the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament in third round matches today. George Dawson, Illinois State champion, was beaten by Les Slattery of St. Louis, 4 and 3, and John Barnum of Chicago upset Art Doering, 2 and 1.

Other third round results:

Bob Cochran, St. Louis, beat Percy Gill, Rolla, Mo., 3 and 2.

Howard Zachritz, St. Louis, beat Glen Oakman, Kansas City, 7 and 5.

F. R. Stranahan, Toledo, O., beat Joe Switzer, St. Louis, 3 and 2.

John Kraft, Denver, beat Charles Sheiden, Miami, Fla., 2 and 1.

Jonas Weiss, St. Louis, beat Sid Salomon, St. Louis, 1 up.

Vince Fehlig, St. Louis, beat Elliott Whitbread, St. Louis, 2 and 1.

Tomorrow's quarter-final pairings:

Cochran vs. Slattery.
Kraft vs. Stranahan.
Weiss vs. Zachritz.
Barnum vs. Fehlig.

LINCOLN STAKE CLOSES LINCOLN FIELDS MEETING

Six Oppose Shot Put at 1¼ Miles Today.

Lincoln Field

SEVEN horses have been named in the overnight entries for today's $5,000 Lincoln Handicap at Lincoln Fields. The field in order of post positions follows:

Forever Prince	102	S. Brooks	10-1
†War Minstrel	108	W. Yarberry	3-1
Sirasia	108	J. Richard	5-1
Mucho Gusto	113	No boy	12-1
†Idle Sun	105	D. MacAndrew	3-1
Equifox	112	F. Mills	8-1
Shot Put	123	W. Garner	1-1

†Denemark entry.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Lincoln Fields race fans will attempt to solve the problem of who can beat Shot Put at a mile and a quarter as the meeting closes today with the $5,000 Lincoln handicap. Mrs. Marie Evans' distance star will have six rivals in this event—Sirasia, War Minstrel, Idle Sun, Mucho Gusto, Forever Prince, and Equifox.

Shot Put, which won the $5,000 La Salle handicap last Saturday, has been assigned 123 pounds. This is seven more than he toted last week, but it is not believed enough to interfere with one of those stretch runs for which he has become so famous. In the La Salle, Willie Garner landed him in front just a few strides before the finish, but today Shot Put will have an additional sixteenth of a mile in which to operate.

Mrs. Emil Denemark's stable will be sending War Minstrel and Idle Sun out as a team. It is generally believed that War Minstrel may steal an early lead and try to last the distance. If he weakens as expected, Idle Sun will be available for a strong move in the stretch.

War Minstrel Hard Worker.

In recent weeks War Minstrel has been the hardest worker of any horse in today's field. He has been to the post five times during the present meeting. In last Saturday's La Salle, he went out to a four length lead during the gallop down the back stretch but tired badly in the stretch and finished fourth.

War Minstrel's only winning race at Lincoln Fields occurred in a mile allowance event on the first Saturday of the meeting. He led all the way and got home four lengths ahead of Forever Prince. In the $5,000 Steger handicap at seven furlongs, Kings Blue caught him in the last few strides and beat him by a nose. Equifox outfinished him by a neck in a mile allowance event on May 29 and Valdiha Groom beat him by a length and a half at a mile on May 20. So the stable probably will assign War Minstrel to the job of setting a pace that will be satisfactory to Idle Sun.

Jockey J. G. Wilson performed the most remarkable riding feat of the meeting by bringing in four consecutive winners yesterday. Beginning with the fifth race he scored on Wauchula, Talked About, Soldier's Call, and Valdina Boy. His performance was surpassed this season in the Chicago area only by Jimmy Berger, who rode five consecutive winners at Sportsman's Park. Both Berger and Wilson are under contract to Paul Kelley.

Guldahl-Bulla Feud Over? No One Is Sure

Toledo, O., June 20 [Special].—Johnny Bulla still isn't speaking to Ralph Guldahl and vice versa. The feud, which began in April when Bulla picked up in the Asheville [N. C.] Open rather than continue his match at the pace set by the methodical, snail gaited Guldahl, smouldered thru 18 holes today in the third round of the seventh annual Inverness invitational four ball tournament.

Bulla declared at Asheville that never again would he play with or against Guldahl, but he relented today to the extent of pairing with Sammy Byrd to whip Guldahl and E. J. [Dutch] Harrison, 3 up. Bulla and Guldahl played the 18 holes without speaking. At the finish Guldahl crossed the 18th green and extended his hand to Bulla. There was a brief, silent hand clasp which still left the state of their feud in mystery.

Neither would comment beyond saying, "I don't want to talk about it."

They had nothing to shout about, either, when they looked at their respective positions on the score board. Each was five holes behind the leading Ben Hogan-Jimmy Demaret team.

The standing at the end of three of seven matches:

Hogan and Demaret, plus 5; Nelson and Thomson, plus 4; Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta, plus 1; Byrd and Bulla, even; Harrison and Guldahl, even; Smith and Little, minus 2; Mangrum and McSpaden, minus 2; Metz and Heafner, minus 6.

Results of today's matches, with the best ball scores:

Morning Round.

Thomson-Nelson [64] defeated Byrd-Bulla [70], six up.

Picard-Revolta [64] defeated Heafner-Metz [66], two up.

Guldahl-Harrison [63] defeated Mangrum-McSpaden [65], two up.

Demaret-Hogan [66] defeated Smith-Little [68], two up.

Afternoon Round.

Thomson - Nelson [67] and Mangrum-McSpaden [67] even.

Byrd-Bulla [64] defeated Guldahl-Harrison [67], three up.

Demaret-Hogan [64] defeated Heafner-Metz [67], three up.

Picard-Revolta [66] defeated Smith-Little [68], two up.

YANKS SET HOME RUN MARK; BEAT TIGERS, 14 TO 4

DiMaggio Extends Streak to 33 Games.

New York, June 20 (AP).—The New York Yankees overwhelmed the Detroit Tigers, 14 to 4, with 17 hits today, including home runs by Tom Henrich and Charley Keller. Joe DiMaggio also extended his batting streak to 33 games with three singles and a double in five times at bat.

The Yanks' first seven hits and seven runs came off Buck Newsom in the first three innings and caused him his ninth defeat of the year. The New York homers came in the first inning, each with a man on base, to give the Yanks a total of 27 round trips in their last 16 consecutive games. The Tigers, in setting the American league record for homers in consecutive games last year at 17, hit 26 home runs. Score:

DODGERS, 6; REDS, 2.

Cincinnati, O., June 20 (AP).—Hugh Casey, who failed to finish his last three starts, pitched three hit ball today as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 2.

The victory, coupled with St. Louis' loss to New York, moved the Dodgers to within two games of the league leading Cardinals.

The Dodgers loaded their lineup with left handed batters against Bucky Walters and made effective use of their nine hits, one of which was Dolph Camilli's 15th home run of the season following a single by Lew Riggs in the sixth. Camilli also singled behind a double by Riggs in the second inning for Brooklyn's first run. Score:

Cubs, French Triumph Over Braves, 5 to 0

Hassett socked a single with two out in the eighth and promptly died on first. Then there was that double by Cooney in the ninth.

The Cub runs which were adequate for victory were produced in the second inning as a result of Errickson's mysterious loss of control. The first five batsmen couldn't get the ball out of the infield. With two out in the second inning Errickson walked Dahlgren, Clyde McCullough, and Lou Stringer to load the bases. French then lined a single to right center, scoring Dahlgren and McCullough.

Cooney Drops a Fly.

The third Cub run was remarkable in that it involved Cooney's dropping of a fly ball. No one can remember when Johnny last dropped a fly, but some said it must have been 20 or 30 years ago. Cavarretta opened the sixth with a single and was forced by Bill Nicholson. Cooney then dropped Hank Leiber's fly, Nicholson reaching third and Leiber second. Dahlgren was given an intentional pass, loading the bases, and McCullough walked, forcing Nicholson across the plate.

The other two runs were those homers by Cavarretta and Dahlgren which comforted French to go on to his first victory since he beat the Dodgers, 7 to 4, on May 18.

Bill Lee will face the Braves today in the second game of the series in Wrigley field. Bill Posedel, who has not faced the Cubs in any of the eight Boston-Chicago games to date, will pitch for the Braves. He will be seeking his fourth victory.

Baseball's Men in Blue

[This is the 18th and last of a series on National league umpires.]

AL BARLICK has done rather well in his first two months as a National league umpire. This is noteworthy because last year Bill Klem proclaimed to the world that Al was destined to become the second best umpire who ever lived. That's quite a buildup for a 26 year old.

Al Barlick.

Barlick was born on a farm near Springfield, Ill., April 2, 1915, and did his first umpiring on June 3, 1935, in the Muny league at Springfield. The following year he was in the Northeast Arkansas league. In 1937 and 1938 he worked in the Piedmont league, then spent one season in the Eastern league. He wound up his minor league work in the International league.

One of Barlick's assets is confidence, and despite his tender years he started right in like he'd been umpiring in the majors for several decades. He is more vocal than most umpires in calling ball and strikes but is not too dramatic as he sings out his decisions.

We have seen him work in a number of Cub series this spring and have yet to see him in a jam with any of the players, who say privately that he seems to be all right.

Al has been married since he was appointed to the National league and did his honeymooning without any interruption to his umpiring duties during the early weeks of the season.
EDWARD BURNS.

115 Yachts Will Race Today to Michigan City

A fleet of 115 craft, largest ever to compete in an American yacht race, according to Commodore O. E. Nadeau of the Columbia Yacht club, will leave Chicago this morning to race to Michigan City, Ind., in the 50th renewal of the event. Between 600 and 700 yachtsmen and yachtswomen will sail.

Craft entered represent almost every Lake Michigan yacht club. Boats from the Racine, Kenosha, and Milwaukee Yacht clubs, along the Wisconsin shore, the Spring Lake and Macatawa Bay Yacht clubs of the Michigan side, as well as the Michigan City Yacht club, cruised to Chicago to race over the 35 statute mile course. Chicagoland clubs represented include Columbia—sponsor of the race since its inception—Chicago, Jackson Park, Burnham Park, Chicago Corinthian, and Anchorage Yacht clubs.

Officials Are Listed.

R. F. Hatfield, chairman of the Columbia Yacht club's race committee, will start and finish the fleet with the assistance of Commodore Byron Willis, chairman of the Chicago Yacht club's race committee, and John Stieber. Marlyn, L. T. Rountree's 92 foot motor yacht, will carry the race judges, Lieut. Walter Eden, William Moore, Frank Weaver, and D. E. Hobelman. Gov. Henry Schricker of Indiana also will be aboard the Marlyn.

All yachts will start from a line between the outer Chicago harbor breakwater and a motor yacht anchored 1,000 feet south. The 22 square meter and Tumlaren class sloops will start at 8 o'clock, a half hour before the rest of the fleet. The entries follow:

CRUISING DIVISION.

A class—Betty Bro, Copperhead, Flight, Gaviota, Manitou, Nanland, Ruth S. II., Shadrach, Southern Cross, Tecumseh, Tomahawk, Trident.

Regents Appoint Crisler Sports Head at Michigan

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 20 [Special].—Herbert O. [Fritz] Crisler, University of Michigan football coach since 1938, today was appointed director of athletics to succeed Fielding H. Yost, who reached the retirement age of 70 on April 30.

While the terms of the contract were not revealed, the board of regents also conferred upon Crisler the title of professor of theory and practice of athletics, a position of indefinite tenure.

The retirement of Yost marks the first time in 40 years that Michigan's grand old man is not listed on the university faculty rôle. He first was appointed football coach in 1901 and served in that capacity for 23 seasons, retiring temporarily in 1924, but returning for two more seasons in 1925 and 1926.

MEL WALKER TO COMPETE TODAY IN AAU TRACK

Mel Walker, cholder of the American indoor high jump record, will lead a team of 18 men from the Olde Tymers club in an effort to capture the team trophy in the Central A. A. U. outdoor track meet at Key Branch field, Roosevelt road and Central avenue, this afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock. Walker's jump of 6 feet 9¾ inches equals the present accepted outdoor world record.

Ogden park, winner of the team trophy for the last two years, will enter a team of 22, including Pat Shea, present title holder in the 56 pound weight event and Jim Shanahan Jr., son of the man who was many times champion in this event.

The Champaign Business Men's association is sponsoring a team of 12 University of Illinois athletes, coached by Harold Osborn, former National A. A. U. high jump champion.

DONKEY SOFTBALL.

Donkey softball will be played in Weber park, Wellington and Ashland, at 8 o'clock tonight with the Red Royals opposing the Misca Liquors. The same teams clash in a regulation tilt at 7 o'clock. The Logan Square Buicks play the Peppy Shell Oilers at 9 p. m.

STOCKS LOWER AS SALES NEAR A STANDSTILL

European Confusion Keeps Bidders in Background.

New York, June 20 (AP).—The stock market backed away today as speculative and investment forces were unable to find much buying inspiration in either the foreign or domestic news.

Many customers lightened commitments in preparation for the lengthy week-end which they have been extending over Saturday. The result was that, while selling pressure never was particularly pronounced, leaders generally finished with declines of fractions to more than 2 points.

Transfers of 356,070 shares compared with 459,590 yesterday.

Little Done in Last Hour.

Dealings subsided to virtually nothing in the final hour as boardrooms awaited the President's message to congress which denounced Germany's sinking of the Robin Moor. The communication came out too late to have much effect on trends and prices ended at or near the lows of the day.

The confusing European war picture, brokers said, had much to do with keeping potential bidders in the background. Hopeful business developments were plentiful but some offset here was seen in widening governmental controls, and expectations of rationing of rubber, gasoline, and other materials. Motors slipped as this week's output of new cars was reported off slightly due mainly to parts shortages.

CHICAGO STOCKS.

Prices held to their downward slant on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, with 41 issues declining, 22 advancing, and 21 remaining unchanged. Transactions totaled 16,000 shares. Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader with transfer of 1,400 shares, finished off ¾ at 25¼, which, however, was up ¼ from the New York close. General Foods was the only other dually listed issue that recorded a change from New York during the trading from 2 to 2:30 o'clock. It also rose ⅛, to 36⅝.

FIRST DIVIDEND SINCE '31 VOTED BY CLINCHFIELD

Clinchfield Coal corporation yesterday declared its first dividend since 1931, voting $7 on the preferred shares. The last previous payment on the issue was $3.50. Two other companies declared their first distributions of the year, the Keystone Watch Case corporation voting $2.50 and the Shell Union Oil corporation 40 cents. Both had made their last previous payments in December, 1940.

American Manufacturing company, maker of rope and related products, voted a 50 cent payment, double its previous quarterly rate. The Associated Dry Goods corporation declared $3.75 on the arrearages of its second preferred stock. The Selby Shoe company voted a year-end dividend of 50 cents.

AMERICAN STEEL PREPARES HUGE MILL EXPANSION

Will Spend Millions in Chicago Area.

An expansion and rehabilitation program for American Steel and Wire company plants at Joliet and Waukegan — in the Chicago steel producing area—was announced yesterday by C. F. Hood, president. The changes will include some consolidations. Altho the cost of the improvements was not given, it was reported that the expenditures will be between 13 million and 15 million dollars.

C. F. Hood.

Plans are now being drawn for the improvements and work is expected to start in about two months and be completed in two years.

New Mills for Joliet.

The program for Joliet includes construction of a new coarse rod mill and a new mill for the manufacture of merchant products—light steel products including warehousing items at the Collins sheet plant. When completed the mills will replace the present facilities at Rockdale and Scott streets.

The new Joliet rod mill will be adjacent to the present rod mills and eventually will replace the existing Waukegan rod mills. A continuous rod mill of high efficiency was completed at Joliet a few years ago.

Shipping and storage facilities will be enlarged. It was said that rod production will be increased somewhat and that, while wire drawing capacity will not be increased greatly, the new facilities will make possible a better product.

Plan 480 Foot Building.

New Joliet buildings will include a structure 480 feet long with a width of 150 feet at one end and 80 at the other, a new conveyor building, 30 by 730 feet, and a wire mill, 960 by 1,500 feet. Total floor space involved in the Joliet changes, including new buildings, will amount to more than 1,100,000 square feet.

The Waukegan improvements, replacements, and rearrangements are designed, it was said, to make the plant one of the most efficient wire manufacturing establishments in the country. New buildings will include an electro galvanizing building, 37 by 325 feet; a sulphate of iron structure, 60 by 250 feet, and a wire building, 70 by 355 feet.

1918 STEEL CHIEF ASSAILS STEP TO BOOST CAPACITY

Proposals by the Office of Production Management that the steel making capacity of the United States be increased 10 million tons a year were criticized severely yesterday by J. Leonard Replogle, former steel manufacturer and member of the war industries board in 1918.

Replogle, in an interview reported in Iron Age, said it would take two and a half years and cost a billion 250 million dollars to accomplish the increase. He said that steel for the added plant construction would exceed four million tons, or enough to build 1,000 cargo vessels.

His conclusion was that any such attempt at steel capacity increase would add to labor and ore shortages and would injure rather than help rearming during the long construction period. He said that the present 91 million ton capacity should be used to the best advantage and that commercial uses should be severely restricted.

MAKER OF TOOLS EXPANDS PLANT FOR FOURTH TIME

For the fourth time since its new $120,000 plant was built in 1938 at the southeast corner of Elston and Winnemac avenues, Skilsaw, Inc., maker of electric tools, is expanding. Yesterday it purchased the one story building just south of its plant, standing on a lot 70 by 574, from the Barber Construction company, for $21,750.

E. W. Ristau, vice president of Skilsaw, said 75 per cent of its production is armament orders. It recently received a $47,00 order for electric drills. It also received a large order for electric concrete grinders for use in the big Wilmington-Elwood munition plant, south east of Joliet.

JOBS AND PAY ROLLS SHOW GAINS IN CITY AND THRUOUT STATE

Employment gained 2.5 per cent and pay rolls increased 5.9 per cent in the Chicago metropolitan area from April 15 to May 15, the Illinois department of labor reported yesterday. The downstate area had still larger boosts of 7.6 and 10.3 per cent, respectively.

The return of coal miners to work was responsible for approximately two-thirds of the gains for the downstate area, the department said.

For the state as a whole, employment and pay rolls were up 4.0 and 7.1 per cent, respectively, in the combined 6,346 manufacturing and nonmanufacturing establishments reporting. The May indices of employment and pay rolls were 18.9 per cent and 33.7 per cent higher than those for May, 1940.

Two Chrysler Units Idle on 'Work Refusal'

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chrysler corporation officials announced yesterday at Detroit, Mich., that approximately 5,000 men were idle in the body frame department of the Kercheval and Jefferson plants because of a "refusal to work." The company reported one man in the department was sent home Thursday for insubordination and yesterday other workers in the department sat down at their machines.

One plant was closed a short time later, corporation officials said, and 2,300 workers were sent home. Shortly before noon a shortage of materials resulting from the earlier shutdown also caused the other plant to close, putting an additional 2,500 men out of work.

Spokesmen at United Automobile Workers' [CIO] headquarters said no authorized strike had been called at the Chrysler plants.

Reach Accord in Bohn Dispute.

The defense mediation board announced that an agreement had been reached to settle the labor dispute at the Bohn Aluminum and Brass company, Detroit, which caused a two day strike early this month. The plant makes bearings for bombers.

Details of the agreement were not divulged pending a union meeting in Detroit Sunday to ratify it. The board said union and company representatives agreed to the settlement terms and the union men agreed to recommend its acceptance by the membership.

The union asked a wage increase of 10 cents an hour. Board officials said the present starting rate is 73 cents an hour and the average rate about 94.5 cents. About 4,600 men are involved.

Sugar Strike Spreads.

A strike of sugar refinery workers at Philadelphia which started at the W. J. McCahan Sugar Refining and Molasses company and Pennsylvania Sugar company Monday night spread to the Franklin Sugar Refining company yesterday. About 1,900 workers were affected. Officials of the AFL union involved said the men asked a 17 cent an hour increase for laborers who now get 63 cents.

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce issued a statement declaring that business there had already suffered a loss which "must be reckoned in millions of dollars" due to a 26 day strike of 1,700 freight truck drivers. The AFL strikers, employed by 179 firms operating in 17 states, demand a 10 cent an hour wage increase for drivers getting 85 cents.

UNION TO PAY BIG CLAIM

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20 [Special].—In settlement of damage claims filed against branch 1 of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers union as a result of the forcible entry of the Apex Hosiery company's plant here in May, 1937, and a subsequent seven week sitdown strike, the union has arranged to pay the company $110,000, one of the largest damage claims ever paid by a labor organization.

The agreement was announced today by attorneys for the company and the union. Under terms of the agreement, they said, it was "specifically provided that the individual members of the union, not being involved, will not be called upon to make any payment of money to the Apex Hosiery company."

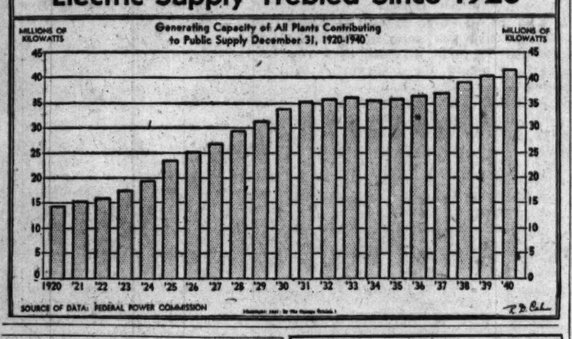
Branch 1 itself is undertaking to pay the entire amount, with the federation acting as guarantor. The agreement calls for a down payment of $30,000 and monthly installments of $2,500 until the claim is settled.

City officials, against whom the company filed suit for failure to provide adequate police protection, have agreed to settle that suit for $15,000. An ordinance calling for its payment is expected to be introduced before city council soon.

Approve Shipyard Pay Plan.

Washington, D. C., June 20 [Special].—Employers and union representatives who make up the Atlantic Shipbuilding Stabilization conference today approved a proposed two year contract that would standardize mechanics' wages at $1.12 an hour and ban strikes or lockouts for two years.

Electric Supply Trebled Since 1920



Tire Makers to Open Units for Retreading

Akron, O., June 20 (AP).—Major tire companies plan to set up retreading stations in large cities to help relieve the situation caused by the government ordered curtailment of rubber consumption, rubber men said today. Instead of buying new tires, many motorists will have tires retreaded, it was predected.

One source reported the curtailment plan called for the taking of rubber factories' average monthly consumption in the year April 1, 1940, and April 1, 1941, as a base. During the third quarter this year, the authority said, the government will allow companies to consume 94.6 per cent of this 1940-'41 monthly average. During the last quarter the companies will have their allotments cut to 82.5 per cent, it was said.

Reserves Total 363,000 Tons.

Total reserves in the United States on June 1 were 363,000 tons, of which the government held 186,000 and commercial sources 176,000. There were 147,459 tons en route. Crude rubber imports in May were 105,859 tons. Commercial sources took 96,911 tons of this, and the government's Rubber Reserve company got 8,948. Dealers and manufacturers added 25,724 tons to their stockpile in the month.

Rubber reclaimed for use last month amounted to 21,353 tons, and rubber interests said reclaiming plants had a capacity of only slightly more than 25,000 monthly.

Plants to produce synthetic rubber, now being built by the major companies, are expected to be able to produce about 20,000 tons a year by the end of 1941. If crude rubber supplies were cut off, authorities in the industry have estimated, two years would be required to complete the synthetic rubber factories which could meet American requirements under emergency conditions.

PREDICT PRICE RISE.

Automobile and truck owners will pay more for their tires, will have a smaller selection, and delivery will be slower as the result of the government's order curtailing rubber consumption to build up armament supplies. This was predicted yesterday by Chicago representatives of the Firestone Tire and Rubber, B. F. Goodrich, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, and United States Rubber companies.

The spokesmen declined to estimate the extent of price increases or when the boosts and delivery lag would begin to be felt by the motorist. They said the supply situation has been tightening because of stocking up by dealers and armament requirements. This forward buying, it was forecast, will "cushion" supply and price changes after the curtailment goes into effect next month.

One representative asserted that price advances would not be as noticeable as the addition of the excise tax on tires now under consideration. With less rubber, manufacturers probably will eliminate cheaper products and concentrate on top quality in a comparatively few types and sizes, it was said.

Canada's Large New War Loan Is Oversubscribed

OTTAWA, Ont., June 20 [Special].—Canada's "victory" loan subscriptions today reached 631 million dollars on the 600 million offering.

WORKERS RUN MILLS, SHARE PROFITS WHILE OWNER IS IN ARMY

Groton, Conn., June 20 (AP). — The employés of two thread mills engaged in national armament work will run them and share in the profits for the next year at least, while their chief executive drills with the army.

"I'm going with a free mind because of the great confidence I have in my people," said Max G. Johl, president and general manager of Max Pollack & Co., employing 200 persons in a plant here and 75 in its Willimantic factory.

In the absence of Johl, 12 years a reserve officer, who reports for duty July 1, employés will share in the earnings under a bonus arrangement.

Senate Pushes Truck Bills to Passage Stage

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—Two of a series of truck regulation bills were amended and advanced to the passage stage in the senate today. The bills would increase the maximum legal length of trucks and of tractor and semi-trailer combinations from 35 feet to 40 feet. They also would increase the maximum legal axle load from 16,000 to 18,000 pounds.

The bills do not provide any additional license fee as compensation for the additional five feet of public street or highway to be occupied by the longer vehicles. No additional fee is to be charged for the added 2,000 pounds of burden on the public pavement from the heavier axle weight limits.

Fees Based on Weights.

Illinois license fees are based upon gross weights of vehicles when loaded. Gross weight limits are not changed, except for a new classification for taxation purposes. The present maximum weight class for a two axle vehicle is from 20,000 to 24,000 pounds with a fee of $150 for the annual license plate. The new class, under the pending bills, would be from 28,000 to 30,000 pounds with a fee of $200.

Gov. Dwight Green's director of public works and his highway department have agreed to these changes in truck laws, an agreement that reversed heretofore consistent contentions by the department that greater length would boost the accident toll and that greater weight would be destructive to pavements.

Third Bill Separated.

Perhaps as significant as the advancement of these two measures was their separation from a third bill providing for state regulation of tariffs charged for highway hauling. This proposed rate rule for the trucking industry has been denounced by chambers of commerce as a price boosting measure that would increase the cost of transportation and ruin small operators for the benefit of big owners. The bill was allowed to remain unmoved on the senate calendar, which probably means its death since there are only six more legislative days in this session of the assembly.

An amendment to the weight bill, introduced by Senator Arthur J. Bidwill [R., River Forest] to save face for the highway department, provides that the extra 2,000 pounds of loading would be permitted only on axles with four balloon tires.

In Common Use for Years.

This has been the common equipment for heavier vehicles during years that state engineers have opposed the weight increase, and it is no protection to passenger cars jeopardized by the slow speeds of overloaded vans on upgrades.

A second amendment, introduced by Senator Thomas E. Madden [D., Peoria], would legalize a maximum total length of 55 feet for a house trailer and its passenger car tow.

NICKEL PLATE'S NET INCOME IS MUCH INCREASED

The New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad [Nickel Plate] yesterday reported large increases in its net income for May and the first five months of this year. Income last month rose to $816,440 from $53,052 a year ago. Five months profit was $3,373,168 compared with $504,772 in the same 1940 period.

Railroad incomes reported yesterday follow:

	1941.	1940.
May Net Income.
Bangor & Aroo.	$ 114,305	$43,440
N. Y., Chi. & St. L.	816,440	53,052

Sales of Life Insurance Highest Since Early in '39

New York, June 20 (AP).—The Life Insurance Sales Research bureau of Hartford, Conn., reported today a total of $604,000,000 of ordinary life insurance was sold in the United States in May. This total was the highest of any month since January, 1939, when $730,000,000 was sold.

War Orders Slacken; Arms Makers Get Supplies Faster

The war department yesterday released additional arms contracts, most of them small as compared with what has become a normal day's volume running into the tens of millions. And at the same time evidence came from various parts of the country that that part of industry which supplies the arms makers is moving at a high rate of speed.

The National Machine Tool Builders' association in Cleveland estimated that May machine tool shipments totaled $60,800,000 as compared to $60,300,000 for April and $57,400,000 for March. In May, 1940, the total was $32,800,000.

Freight Sets May Record.

Here in Chicago, Railway Age estimated that the railroads in May carried more ton-miles of freight—a large part of it connected with the preparedness program—than in any other May in history. [A ton mile is a ton of freight carried one mile.] It was estimated that the roads carried 39 billion ton miles of freight in May, a 30 per cent increase over May, 1940. The previous record for a May was 38 billions in May, 1929.

Railway Age said that at the rate which the railroads are acquiring equipment and increasing their efficiency they will be able when traffic reaches its peak in October to give more freight service than any month before in their history.

Continuing the expansion of railroad equipment purchases, the Atlantic Coast Line announced yesterday that it has placed orders for 2,900 freight cars, nine Diesel electric passenger locomotives, and 10 light weight streamlined passenger cars. C. McDonald Davis, president, said the purchase was made necessary by the increased volume of traffic the road is handling. A number of army camps and cantonments are located along the line in addition to ship yards and other preparedness activities.

Car Orders Are Divided.

The greater part of the car orders were divided among the American Car and Foundry company, Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, Bethlehem Steel company, and the Mount Vernon Car Manufacturing company. Electro-Motive corporation will build the Diesel-electrics and Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company the passenger cars.

The war department announced that it has authorized construction of an oil house and motor repair shop at each of 25 air corps stations for the use by quartermaster light maintenance units. The total cost will be $1,153,447.

Meantime the navy department recommended that manufacturers holding prime defense contracts sublet parts of their orders to small machine shops so as to make use of all available machine tools and manpower, thereby expediting deliveries.

Among the Chicago companies awarded contracts yesterday was Buda company, which received a $58,000 tank order.

SUPERHIGHWAY BILL CHANGES GO BEFORE SENATE

Report Agreement on All but One.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—A series of amendments to the Chicago and Cook county toll superhighway bill were introduced in the state senate this afternoon by Senator William G. Knox [R., Chicago]. All but one, it was announced, are part of the peace terms that ended a five-day filibuster battle between Democrats and Republicans.

The one controversial amendment is sponsored by Attorney General George F. Barrett. It would make him counsel in all respects for the new road building agency. Regular counsel and special counsel for the new highway authority would be selected by the attorney general and get compensation approved by him.

Lieut. Gov. Hugh Cross ordered all of the amendments printed and postponed roll calls on their adoption until Monday.

Agreed Amendments.

The agreed amendments would name the superintendent of the Cook county highway department as a one man super highway agency empowered to sell bonds, to construct the safety motorways, and to collect the tolls from the motorists who ride them to meet the bond requirements and maintenance costs.

The state highway department, under the amendments, will have supervision with veto powers over the bond sales, over the locale and design of the improvements, over the contracts, and over the toll collections.

These proposed changes in which Democrats and Republicans are in accord would return the bill to approximately its original form when introduced in the house early in the session under sponsorship of the Cook county highway department. They would kill house amendments sponsored by Charles E. DeLeuw, engineer for the Chicago subway and superhighway commission, which were adopted before the lower chamber passed the bill.

Created Two-Man Agency.

DeLeuw's amendments added a second man to the superhighway agency, a man to be appointed by the mayor of Chicago for a term of five years. The house changes also injected a joker into the bill that would have enabled the new agency to evade state supervision. This joker is to be removed by senate changes.

Barrett's proposal seemed slated for strong opposition. Democrats are opposed to giving the Republican attorney general jobs that otherwise would be enjoyed by the Democratic Cook county state's attorney and the Democratic county board.

The argument against the attorney general's proposal is that he is attorney for the state highway department which is to supervise activities of the superhighway agency. If the attorney general were also to be attorney for the superhighway agency, he would be reviewing his own work on legal questions—he would no longer be a court of review on questions of law such as the form of construction and bond sale contracts.

DELAY HEARING ON N. AMERICAN AVIATION CASE

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—A defense mediation board panel considering the North American Aviation company case recessed this afternoon until Tuesday morning because of the illness of J. H. Kindelberger, president of the company.

The board is attempting to settle a controversy between the company and the United Automobile Workers [CIO]. A strike at the company's Inglewood, Cal., plant was ended recently when the army took control.

People and Events

Frederick P. Champ of Logan, Utah, will be the next president of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, succeeding Dean R. Hill of Buffalo, New York. Champ was nominated by the board of governors here yesterday, and nomination, thru official channels, is tantamount to election. Champ is vice president of the association.

Frederick P. Champ.

Alex Elson, regional attorney for the wages and hours division of the United States department of labor, will lead a series of weekly evening lecture-conferences on "Enforcement and Compliance Under the Wage Hour Law" starting Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the Art institute. The discussions will be held under auspices of the University college of the University of Chicago.

L. D. Schreiber and Frank A. Priebe have been elected to the board of directors of the Liberty National Bank of Chicago.

National Rationing of Power Is Hinted by Official of TVA

Knoxville, Tenn., June 20 [Special].—Rationing of electric power on a national basis for the benefit of the aid to Britain and national armament programs was hinted tonight by J. A. Krug, manager of power for the Tennessee Valley authority. He was appointed national power adviser for the Office of Production Management today.

J. A. Krug.

Krug, who is about to announce details of a power rationing program for retail and wholesale users of TVA power in Tennessee and adjacent territory, would not make a flat statement concerning a national rationing program, but said that he could see no reason why specific areas in United States should carry the entire burden of rationing.

Private Utilities Restrict Use.

Privately owned utilities in the southeast already have placed their nonarmament power consumers on a restricted consumption basis for the benefit of preparedness industries in the territories they serve. TVA, handicapped by low water and an extraordinary demand for power by the Aluminum Company of America, is about to ration electricity to its retail outlets and nonarmament industries. Such action by TVA would curtail power use in Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, and Chattanooga, and a score or more of smaller cities and rural coöperative distribution agencies.

Krug, approached a few hours after his appointment to the OPM post, would make no statement as to just how he would function there and with TVA but it was understood that he would divide his time between the two agencies.

Complete Survey Indicated.

When asked about the possibility of a national power rationing program Krug said that he couldn't be specific because he had had no formal conferences with OPM or the Federal Power commission on the subject. He further indicated that he would expedite a complete survey of the power situation in the United States and make recommendations based on the survey.

With relation to rationing of power by TVA, Krug had said earlier in the day that the voluntary conservation program instituted earlier in the month had failed.

"The savings amount to less than the normal month to month gain," he said.

INSTALMENT CREDIT RULES ARE TIGHTENED BY SEARS AND WARD

Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery Ward & Co. reported yesterday that they were tightening instalment credit requirements in line with government desires.

The major change is the reduction of maximum time payment periods on refrigerators and ranges from three to two years. Maximum periods on other lines, which range up to 18 months, will remain unchanged, but larger down payments will be sought.

An official of Montgomery Ward said that the company stores are seeking larger instalments, which have the effect of shortening payment periods, altho they are not obligatory. The fall catalog will show down payment increases of 50 cents in contract purchases up to $20, he said. Others will be unchanged. A Sears, Roebuck official said the stores had been instructed not to overload individual customers.

TELLS GERMANS' EFFORT TO WIN SOUTH AMERICA

Germany has accomplished an economic and cultural invasion of South America thru methodical, organized propaganda, Dr. Gustav Egloff, research director of the Universal Oil Products company, last night told the Chicago section of the American Chemical society at the Stevens hotel.

Egloff returned recently from a 20,000 mile air tour of South America as the petroleum industry representative on a committee sponsored by the National Research council to survey resources of that continent.

"Contrasted with America's wishful thinking that it has South America's good will, Germany has for years been working to elevate the prestige of German science and 'kultur' and the supremacy of goods stamped with the mark 'made in Germany,'" he asserted.

He said that German scientists, technicians, businessmen, and teachers have filtered into South American industry, schools, and government, often assuming key positions from able to Germany.

Actually, the greatest contributions to scientific research, technical knowledge and industrial organization have been made by the United States, Dr. Egloff asserted. He urged that this nation launch an aggressive program to make this fact known to South America.

Sales of Furniture Soar in Chicago and Nation

Sales of retail furniture stores in the nation's 12 federal reserve districts during May gained 122 per cent over the month last year for the largest monthly upturn in 1941, the National Retail Furniture association reported yesterday. Sales for the first five months of the year were 119 per cent higher than in the corresponding 1940 period. The Chicago district's May gain was 132 per cent, and for the five months, 124 per cent.

Senate Bank Committee Approves Dollar Control

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—The senate banking committee approved without change today a house measure continuing until June 30, 1943, President Roosevelt's emergency powers to revalue the dollar and maintaining the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund. The bill will be considered by the senate Monday.

Insull Utility Group to Get Small Payment

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday took another step in winding up the affairs of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., a remnant of the old Insull utilities empire which went into bankruptcy in 1932.

He issued a memorandum approving, with minor exceptions, a final report by Special Referee Garfield Charles that recommended a payment of 0.31 per cent or $154,834 to debenture holders and of $88,047 in fees to attorneys and others connected with the case. Judge Barnes reduced the proposed fees by $7,000.

Payments Already Received.

Security holders, who have filed claims of almost 50 million dollars, have received disbursements of $1,748,080, or slightly more than $35 on each $1,000 debenture, in the bankruptcy case and of $2,560,658, or $44.50 on each debenture, thru an equity receivership.

Largest payment of fees authorized yesterday was that of Rosenthal, Hamill, Eldridge & King, attorneys for the trustee, who were granted $45,000 and $1,349 in expenses. This was a slash of $40,000 from the $85,000 fee requested by the firm.

Judge Barnes cut to $2,000 the $5,000 allowed by Referee Charles to William L. Latimer, attorney for the bankrupt estate. He sliced $4,000 from the $15,000 recommended by the referee for the attorneys for the petitioning creditors. These attorneys, Jacobson, Merrick, Nierman & Silbert, and White & Hawxhurst, had asked $23,000.

Trustee to Get $23,047.

Judge Barnes authorized a disbursement of $23,047 to Harry A. Bigelow, trustee in bankruptcy, who had requested $23,675.

In addition, fees amounting to $69,500 already have been paid as follows: To Calvin Fentress, former receiver in bankruptcy, $12,500; his attorneys, Allen & Dalbey, and Cassels, Potter & Bentley, $12,500 each, and Hines, Rearick, Dorr & Hammond, attorneys for the ancillary receiver in New York, $10,000.

TOOL MAN URGES MORE STRESS ON WAR PLANE WORK

Swampscott, Mass., June 20 [Special].—The effort needed to produce enough fighting planes to cause the defeat of Germany may necessitate abandonment of any peacetime production that hinders war output, Ralph E. Flanders told the New England council here today. Flanders was in charge of machine tool priorities for the OPM until recently.

Machines now used in making peacetime products, he said, "must either be used in defense work where they now are or must be transferred to shops where they can be employed in the war program. Only thru these measures, he said, can there be hope of wresting mastery of the air from Germany."

Zinc Producers Ordered to Help Build Arms Pool

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—E. R. Stettinius Jr., federal director of priorities, today ordered producers of metallic zinc to set aside during July an amount equal to 22 per cent of their May production for the government's emergency pool.

ROOSEVELT PUTS ALL OIL EXPORTS UNDER CONTROL

Orders Partial Ban Affecting East.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 20.—President Roosevelt today placed all petroleum products under the Export Control system as a step toward meeting a threatened shortage of such products in eastern United States.

The order placed an embargo against shipment of oil from the eastern seabord, except for cargoes bound for Great Britain, Egypt, and Latin America.

No embargo was placed against oil shipments from the west coast, which have been going to Japan and Russia, altho the issuance of the order now makes it necessary for Japan and Russia to secure licenses before they may take any type of oil or oil products out of this country.

Oil Still Going to Japan.

Altho the United States has condemned Japan's war against China as a war of aggression as cold blooded as any German conquest, this country has not moved to cut off shipments of oil—the lifeblood of modern war—or other supplies to Japan.

This country has smothered its wrath against totalitarian conquests as far as Japan is concerned because it does not wish to force Japan into becoming an active partner of the Rome-Berlin axis. At present Japan is only a paper partner in the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis.

However, residents of the east, who are faced by rationing of gasoline by Petroleum Coördinator Harold Ickes, are grumbling against the oil exports allowed Japan. If the present pace is maintained this year's exports to Japan will be enough to alleviate two months of threatened gasless Sundays on the eastern seaboard.

East Uses 620,000 Barrels a Day.

During 1941 the seaboard states will consume about 220,000,000 barrels of gasoline, or about 620,000 barrels a day. American shipments to Japan in March were about 400,000 barrels, or at the rate of 4,800,000 barrels a year. This total would supply the Atlantic region with gasoline for eight days or eight gasolineless Sundays.

American exports of gasoline to Japan have been increasing so that the United States can be regarded as an oil arsenal of the axis powers. The monthly average of oil shipments from 1937 to 1940 was 88,000 barrels. Last March the monthly total was more than four times that average.

Text of Statement.

The text of the White House statement placing petroleum and its products under the Export Control system is as follows:

"The President announced today that to meet a threatened shortage of petroleum products in the eastern United States, he has directed the administrator of export control to place all petroleum products under control and to permit exports from the eastern seaboard only to the British empire, Egypt, and the western hemisphere, since supplies to these destinations are dependent in part on shipment from eastern ports.

"Meanwhile a plan will be prepared for the most effective use of tanker facilities available to supply petroleum to the eastern seaboard and the other American republics. Further restriction of shipments of petroleum from the Gulf to Pacific ports of the United States is not contemplated."

TREASURY FREES SWEDISH, SWISS OWNED ASSETS

Washington, D. C., June 20 (AP).—The treasury tonight "thawed" the frozen assets of Sweden and Switzerland, indicating the two countries had given assurances that their credits would not be used to the advantage of axis or axis-occupied nations.

General licenses were issued exempting Swiss and Swedish funds from President Roosevelt's order of last Saturday which tied up approximately $2,500,000,000 of German and Italian funds and property, and the American holdings of a number of other countries.

Release of the Swiss holdings, sources here said, involved approximately $1,400,000,000. Figures on Swedish credits were not available.

LARD FUTURES JOIN SOY BEANS IN NEW UPTURN

Wheat and Other Grain Prices Are Strong.

Advancing prices for a majority of the oils and fats that enter into domestic consumption were largely responsible for an upturn of around 2 cents in soy beans yesterday, with the October and December selling at times at new seasonal highs. While profit taking shaded the best prices, net gains at the close were 1 to 1¼ cents.

Strength in beans, cotton seed oil and hogs lifted lard futures 7½ to 10 cents a hundred pounds, with December reaching a new seasonal peak, but liberal profit taking checked the advance.

Wheat Closes Higher.

The strength in other commodities dominated the action of the grain markets. Wheat gained ⅞ cents, while corn was unchanged to ¼ cent higher, December selling at a new high for the season. Oats gained ⅝ to ¾ cents and rye was ⅛ to ⅝ cents higher.

While wheat prices held within relatively narrow limits, there was a fairly active trade. July wheat is up around 2 cents from the low point of Thursday, with professional operators inclined to the buying side as the result of continued strength in soy beans.

Prepare New Crop Data.

The department of agriculture was reported to have prepared new data on the prospective winter wheat crop in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and five other leading central western states. A revised crop estimate on the eight states is scheduled to be issued on June 23. The department in its June 1 returns forecast a yield of 474,000,000 bushels in the eight states compared with 387,000,000 bushels harvested in 1940.

A week of favorable weather in the southwest is reported to have resulted in expanding harvest operations and cutting of wheat is expected to be general in Kansas by the end of next week.

Showers are forecast by the weather bureau in parts of the southwest and northwest about the middle of next week.
